"From the Atlantic to the Pacific" is now the record of this Institution.

Since the beginning of 1887 students from Bermuda, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick in the east, from Briti-h Columbia in the west, and from the intervening Provinces and the United States have been in attendance.

In all, eighteen States and Provinces have been represented among its five thousand students.

The highest standard of practical commercial training is maintained. Its principals are men of large practical counting-house experience. Its graduates are marvellously successful, and are scattered all over the Continent and the West Indies.
