

This aerial photograph of the York Campus was taken from a single-engine Otter aircraft at 11 in the morning. The picture focusses on the uncompleted Humanities and Social Science building, with the first college complex to the upper left.