

1899. (13th.) "Notes on sites of Huron Villages in the Township of Tay (Simcoe County), by A. F. Hunter, M.A. This was the second of a series, the first on village sites in the Township of Tiny, having been printed by the Department of Education, as a separate brochure in the previous year. On pages 59 and 60 are plans of Ste. Mary on the Wye in 1852 and 1876. This volume for 1899 also contains, pp. 92-123, an interesting article on The Wyandotts, by Mr. Wm. E. Connelley, under the following chapters: "Migration legends," "Clan System," "Government," etc. This article is followed by a translation into English of Mr. Benjamin Sulte's history of "The War of the Iroquois," pp. 124-151.

1900. "The Flint Workers: A Forgotten People," by Rev. Dean Harris, is a sketch of the Neutrals and contains much of interest in relationship to the Hurons.

1901. "Notes on Huron Villages in the Township of Medonte, Simcoe County," by A. F. Hunter, M.A.

1902. "Notes on sites of Huron Villages in the Township of Oro, Simcoe County," by A. F. Hunter, M.A. This volume also contains the paper by Rev. A. E. Jones, S.J., on "The Identification of St. Ignace II and Ekarennioudi," pp. 92-136. This paper illustrates the method of work adopted by the archivist of St. Mary's College, Montreal.

1903. "Indian Villages Sites in North and South Orillia," by A. F. Hunter, M.A. "The Standing Rock," by F. Birch.

1904. "Cahlagué," by J. Hugh Hammond. This is followed by some notes on Huron village sites in Orillia Township.

1905. "The Iroquois," by David Boyle, pp. 146-158. This is the very valuable paper referred to in the address as discussing the question of the legendary migrations of the Huron-Iroquois peoples.
