for several years. The two-year-old steers were grand, and seven were in competition. So closely matched were the first two that an umpire was necessary to a decision. A well fleshed, massive roan, owned by J. J. Cridlan, Gloucester, was given first place. This was Crown Prince, bred by Messrs. Ross, Millcraig, weighing 17 1-4 cwt. at two years eleven months, and a winner at Smithfield last year. Second place went to the King for Fearless, a well topped beast, but slightly deficient in flank.

The yearling steers also numbered seven, but were not of such high quality as the senior class. A good white, the King's Stanley, was first, and was closely followed by Capt. Behren's red and white Swinton Harlequin. The heifer class was of high quality, and produced the breed winner, the King's symmetrical and handsome red, Mystery. There was no question as to her superiority, and she won first and breed championship quite easily. Second in class was a fine white, meaty heifer, Sir O. Mosley's Rolleston Marathon 3rd.

The Devon cattle classes were poorly filled, and this is strange when one considers how many might easily be shown at Birmingham. There were only eleven entries in the three classes. In the senior steer class a referee was necessary, and he placed C. Morris' steer, by Musician, first, and the King's Lancer, second. There was little between them in merit. The winner was excellently topped, and weighed 17 cwt. at two years, ten and a quarter months, and took the Devon championship.

Only three yearlings were forward. First place went to Viscount Portman, and second to the King. In a class of but two Devon heifers, C. Morris' Capton Lily, was preferred to the King's Nita.

Aberdeen-Angus were few in number, but high in quality. There were three two-year-old steers. Sir R. Cooper easily took first place with his fine, square, deep-bodied President of Dalmeny, from the Rosebery herd. At two years eleven months he weighed 15 1-2 cwt. Second honors went to T. B. Earle's Pride of Aldbro. Six were forward in the yearling steer class, and a referee was necessary before a decision was given. J. H. Bridge's Sirdar, a steer of fine type was placed first, and Jas. McWilliam's Rodger of the Dell, second. The Norwich champion, J. J. Cridlan's Clasp 2nd, was in the heifer class, taking first place and Angus championship. Second place in class went to J. McWilliam's Flora 3rd of Wester Pollowick.

Galloway entries numbered two. A heavy, well fleshed steer took first for H. S. Leon, Bletchley. In West Highland cattle the premier honor for steers was awarded to Lord Durham's yellow, Andrew, and the same exhibitor's heifer, Peggie, was unopposed in the heifer class.

Some grand black Welsh cattle were shown. In the two-year steer class Hon. F. G. Wynn won first and breed prize with a bullock of good length and depth. In yearling steers and heifers, Robt. Hughes was the winner. Cross-breds were a big section, and some prime butcher's beasts faced the judges. Miss de Rothschild owned the winning two-year-old steer, a red roan Shorthorn-Angus cross. In the yearling class, Lord Fitzhardinge took first with a roan, three parts Shorthorn and one part Angus. His top, loin and quarters were excellent, and when championships were awarded he was placed as best animal under two years old.

In the two-year-old heifer class T. B. Earle's red Shorthorn-Angus cross was first, and amongst yearling heifers Sir O. Mosley's blue grey Angus Shorthorn took premier place.

For the cattle championship awards a large crowd assembled and evinced keen interest in the proceedings. The first award was the junior championship and this fell to Lord Fitzhardinge's crossbred, Snowdrift, with the King's Shorthorn steer, Stanley, reserve. This was a popular decision. Then the breed winners came forward for the championship of the show. The King's Shorthorn heifer, Mystery, was declared champion. She was two years ten and a quarter months old, and weighed 16 cwt. 2 lbs. Considerable difficulty was
