THE TEA POT INN

"Tea as You Like It." 134 Dalhousie St. Opposite the Market.

"Captain," said a wealthy passenger, who was about to take his first trip across the ocean. "I understand that this ship has got several water-tight compartments." "Yes, sir," was the reply. "Captain," the passenger went on, "I don't care what those compartments-I don't care what it costs?" "Glad to see Cynthia has decorated her room with guns, pistols, swords, and the like." "Glad to see she always has been a great girl for having arms about her."

TALLY ANOTHER SCORE

The exclusive announcement in the Courier of Saturday that the Ontario Government would devote $10,000 for the further consideration of Grand River flood conditions, and the publication of a preliminary report by an engineer, naturally aroused not only general attention, but also great satisfaction.

The Grand is the most unruly of the many streams which overflow their banks in the Spring, and as it seems a very important industrial district between Galt and Dunnville, preventative measures are very properly to be first considered in its regard. Mr. W. S. Brewster, M.P.P. and Mr. Westbrook, M.P., have both worked hard along with others, to bring this matter to a successful issue.

The four Conservative members of the four Brants certainly know how to look after the just interests and requests of their constituents.

A GOOD SHOWING.

The Ontario Bureau of Labor report just issued, gives statistics of the number of new buildings in the various municipalities and their cost during the year 1911. Brantford usual heads the list of the small cities in Ontario. Here is the record:-

Table with 3 columns: City, Buildings, Cost. Includes Brantford, Belleville, Berlin, Stratford, Guelph, Woodstock, St. Catharines, Kingston, St. Thomas.

It will be noticed by the above approach Brantford in total value was Guelph where they had heavy public building expenditures.

The real significance is in the number of permits. Here is the standing:- Total for the eight other cities. Total for Brantford alone.

The story thus told is that of the erection of a large number of new houses, many of them owned by the men of the factories.

There can be no better guarantee than this for the stability of any community.

A gentleman from the States interested in manufacturing after a recent tour of the city said to a Courier man: "Do you know that one of the biggest assets Brantford possesses is the number of pretty houses you have pointed out to me as owned by workers in the factories. If my country had thought of putting a branch in Canada, that is one of the first things I would consider in favor of your city and I know that other employers of labor feel the same way. Your industrial border, if you have one, ought to push that feature first. It is worth, and it's worth a lot."

SOME MORGAN SAYINGS. The late J. P. Morgan was not only a man of fabulous wealth but as the foundation of it all he had what was far more valuable—a straight clean and honorable business career. Here are some of his pungent sayings:

"The control of credits is not the control of money." "What I call money is the basis of banking." "England comes nearer than any country in the world to having outstanding obligations supported by dollars in gold. This country's trouble is with its greenback." "Men who control credits control money. You cannot control money, but you can control business." "If one man had the credit and had the money, the man would be badly off." "Money cannot buy character and commercial credit is based principally on character." "If a man is not satisfactory to me, I call his loan." "I think stock manipulation is ways bad." "I favor the English system, full publicity and an absolutely correct prospectus of all concerns be listed."

"When questioned as to the sentiments of success the late financier said:-
