Laid at Rest

The funeral of the late Mrs. (Dr.) Leeming took place from the residence, 56 Dufferiin avenue, on Saturday afternoon to Farringdon cemetery.

There was a very large attendance of friends and sympathizers.

Those present from a distance included Mr. R. C. Price, Chicago, brother-in-law, Edmund Price and wife, Chicago, Willard Pardridge, Detroit, a brother, F. Pardridge, Chicago, brother, Dr. Andrews and wife (sister), Chicago, Dr. John Leeming and wife, Chicago, R. W. Leeming, Kingston, Dr. Whitaker, Chicago, A. Whitaker, Chicago, and W. Rutherford, Chicago.

Impressive services at the house were conducted by Messrs F. Cockshutt, Geo. Kippax and W. Whitaker, Sr., and the pall bearers were Dr. John Leeming, Frank Leeming, Willard and Fred Pardridge, Dr. Andrews and R. C. Price. The floral tributes were exceedingly numerous. Mrs. Frank Leeming and Mr. S. Sanderson sang very feelingly a duet "Peace, Perfect Peace." Interment was in Farringdon cmetery.

Mr. Kippax, during the course of an eloquent address, said:—

"Of our sister, Mrs. Leeming, what shall I say? As I look back over her life and I have known her many years, I think if I were asked to describe it and describe her character in one word, I would say that word was "simplicity." First, a simple trust in our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, unclouded by any creed or any dogma; Christ and Him crucified was her faith and her hope, and in that faith and hope she lived and rejoiced until last Wednesday morning when they were lost, the one in the City of Sight and the other in the joy of realization. And this simplicity extended to all her many kindly actions. She seemed to be a character to catch the many opportunities that we pass over or forget to do; a simple, kindly, loving act to cheer and encourage others who were in trouble and in sickness, to let them know that she was thinking of them, and even when she was on her bed of sickness, as I have reason to know, even in her own pain she did not forget others who were sick and who were suffering. I think that which impresses me most as I think of her, is her unostentatious and kindly love and charity that she manifested to all, beginning as it did in her lovely home life and extending out in a wide circle to all whom she knew to be in trouble and sorrow. To sum up, the character of our late sister, I think we would say that it was the modest work of a sincere Christian character without any affectation of pride or worldliness; a kindly, loving, simple follower of Jesus Christ; a character that made itself felt wherever she went and for that character we will hold her memory in kindly, grateful remembrance. We know that she will be missed in this home and how much none can tell except those who have been through it, and our sympathy to-day goes out to those who feel that loss, and feel it most, and our prayer to God is that He may bring the light of his countenance to this darkened home and that He may bring His strength to comfort hearts that are aching.

The mother has gone, but her influence will remain in this house a strengthening and restraining influence in the memory of a Christ-like life. She rests from her labors, her works follow her. "Write, said the angel to John. Write, in order that it might not be forgotten, in order that we might have it on record for all time to come, write, blessed are the dead which die in the Lord, yet saith the Spirit, for they rest from their labors and their works do follow them," and in that certain hope we commit our sister, Grace Leeming, to the grace of Him who is able to keep that which we committed to Him against that day.

GREAT GRAIN CROPS

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Rome, June 7.—The government and the people engaged in farming are beginning to prepare for harvesting an abundant crop of grain. About five million acres are to be harvested, which under ordinary conditions would require 2,500,000 reapers. This year, however, it is proposed to use 10,000 reaping machines, and as each does the work of 15 people, the number needed for the harvest is thereby reduced by 150,000. The use of the machines also reduces the length of the reaping time from 20 to twelve days, making a further reduction in the number of men required by another 400,000. The reapers still required will be made up of boys and women and men over military age, while if absolutely necessary, the government it is expected, will allow a certain number of peasant soldiers to return from the front for this work during the necessary twelve or fifteen days.

BERLIN MOBS SHOUTING FOR PEACE

Paris, June 7— L'Humanite which has its own means of obtaining news from Berlin, declares that 2,000 persons, mostly women, assembled in front of the Reichstag building on May 28 in Berlin and shouted for peace. They not only protested against the war, but complained of the high cost of food.

The crowd finally was dispersed by mounted police who charged into its midst. Several arrests were made. The press was forbidden to mention the incident.

ROUMANIA AWAITS THE WORD.

London, June 7—Roumania is going through a crisis similar to that experienced by Italy before the latter country entered the war. Those who favor neutrality and those who favor war held counter-demonstrations at Bucharest yesterday, and the political parties are getting into shape to put forward their views. The general opinion held in London is that Roumania will join the allies when Italy gives the word and that Bulgaria will follow her lead.

Owing to the serious condition of the King of Greece, no action by that country is looked for at the present time.
