THE HORSE SHOW.

Saskatchewan may well be proud of the splendid showing made yesterday at the horse show. The statement of John Gray, who is acting in the capacity of judge, and who is admittedly one of the foremost judges of horseflesh at the present time, that he had never seen a better bunch of Clydesdales at any show in Ottawa, Toronto or other Ontario points, is one upon which the farmers and breeders of this province are to be heartily congratulated.

In regard to horses it might be well to have expected that, as regards quality and breeding, it would be many years before this new country attained anything like an equality with the older Eastern province. But the Western farmer is not if not progressive, and he wants the best obtainable in his stables, just as he wants the latest and most improved machinery and implements or seed grain. He appreciates the fact that today the successful farmer is the man who keeps abreast of the times.

It is this fact, with its consequent demand for high grade horses, which has enabled breeders like Mitch Bros., of Lumsden; Bryce, of Arrola, and Galbraith & Sons to import the highest class of animals obtainable for the purpose of improving the stock now in the country and supplying the increasing demand for well-bred horses.

The horse show, held in connection with the fat stock show, is doing an invaluable work in encouraging the breeding of first class animals, and the fact that the Clydesdale Horse Society of Great Britain is offering gold medals in the championship classes of this show, demonstrates that it already holds a recognized and honorable position in the horse world—a position shown to be more than justified by the statement of Mr. Gray.

That so few light horses are on exhibition is perhaps but natural, though it is to be hoped that as time goes by greater attention will be given to this class of animal in the West. In a new agricultural country it is the heavier horse which naturally receives the first and chief attention, but with the settling up of the province and the improvement of the roads, greater attention might very well be given to that class. The prosperous farmer—and in Saskatchewan the prosperous farmer is in the majority—can hardly say that his stable is complete without a good driving animal. That next year's show will contain a greater proportion of hackney and other lighter breeds is more than probable, and is certainly desirable.

AN HONORABLE ACTION.

The success of the fat stock show, the stallion show and the purchased cattle sale is largely due to two men, though all have done well. James Murray, Supr. of Institutions and Fair, has labored abundantly and intelligently to this end and he has been most ably assisted by President Sinton. In fact for the past three weeks Mr. Sinton has practically done nothing else. Whenever called upon by him he has dropped everything of his own and given his undivided attention and his best counsel to the question under discussion.

It will be a long time before the stockmen of Saskatchewan forget the incident of his withdrawing his mares from the show for fear of appearing to have taken advantage of his position as president to select a judge who had already awarded a championship to Ottawa to one of the mares he was about to exhibit. The matter looked out before the judges and the stockmen then and there expressed their appreciation of such unselfishness in no measured terms. The incident came about in this way. Judge Gray arrived in town two days before he was expected and strolling down street saw the Sinton sign and walked in to look at the horses. As he looked over the mares he said to a hostler: "That mare looks familiar, where did she come from?" The man replied: "From Robt. Ness' stables, he imported her and she was shown at Ottawa last year, she was a champion." Mr. Sinton was not in the stable at the time but when he heard that John Gray was the judge that had awarded the championship to his mare at Ottawa he at once withdrew from the competition for the reason above stated.

Mr. Sinton no doubt lost a good deal in prizes to which he was justly entitled, but he has gained immeasurably in the estimation of all stockmen. He evidently believes that the president of the live stock association should be like Cesar's wife, above reproach.

A TRIBUTE TO REGINA.

Commenting recently on the substantial character of the growth and progress of the West, the Winnipeg Telegram said:

"While Winnipeg will undoubtedly maintain its supremacy in the West, it is gratifying to know that evidence of confidence all through the West are not lacking. A man may withdraw his interests from a city for spite or any other reason, but this will not wreck a Western city today. It might have done so 15 years ago, but times have changed. Property is on more than a speculative basis in the larger Western centres, and the future of the country no longer is held in doubt.

"Among the evidences of confidence are not to be considered the mere buying and holding of land. It is the building operations that signify. And all the way from Winnipeg to the coast these building operations are progressing with wonderful rapidity. Notable among the pieces vying for a leading place among the distributing centres of the West between Winnipeg and Calgary, is the city of Regina. The recent announcement of a quarter of a million dollars' worth of buildings to be erected is worthy of comment as a sign of that confidence which is making for the stability of this country. As The Leader said the other day, a contract for the construction of a $1,100,000 business block is due entirely to the confidence shown in that city by the commercial community of the continent.

"Winnipeg rejoices in Regina's prosperity as it rejoices in the prosperity of all those growing centres of Western Canada. Confidence in the commercial potentialities of the West is the keynote of Canada today, and no city will benefit more by the steady and healthy growth of every municipality between here and the Rockies than the city of Winnipeg.

THE COST OF THE CROP RUSH.

There is another side to the annual glutting up of the spot of the Canadian transportation systems of the West, besides that whose tale is told in unremoved wheat and unfilled car orders in the prairie provinces, remarks the Montreal Herald. The immense financial gain in getting shipments out before the closing up of the waterways by winter ice causes a risking of life and property on the Great Lakes that is directly chargeable to the excessive traffic of that period of the year.

In a letter included in the Marine Department report just issued, the director of the Dominion Meteorological Service, Mr. R. F. Stupart, tells in unimpassioned language a terrible story of the results of high-pressure work and disregard of risks during the dangerous months at the end of the navigation season on the lakes. Each of the five great and fatal storms of 1905 was foretold by the Meteorological Department by signals at all lake ports well in advance of its occurrence, the bulletin in every instance being issued from Toronto in the forenoon of the previous day. Only one instance occurred that year of the department prophesying a gale—and that read only that "the wind will probably increase to a moderate gale the following day"—which was not justified by the event. Yet in face of these warnings, and in face of the fact that an almost absolutely reliable forecast for two days can be had by wire from Toronto on application, scores of shipmasters court the risk of storm on the lakes at their most dangerous period rather than lie up for a day or two at a time when freights are rich and unlimited.

It is very unlikely that risks greater than those will have to be taken by the navigators of the Hudson's Bay route when that route becomes a practicable outlet for the grain of the West. Indeed, apart from the danger of being blocked in by ice it sailing out before the banquet and the stockmen then and there expressed their appreciation of such unselfishness in no measured terms. The incident came about in this way. Judge Gray arrived in town two days before he was

is not quite so optimistic as some of the advocates of the route; but it admits that Fort Churchill can be reached at the beginning of July, and while nothing is said of the close of navigation, it is evident from the dates of the Arctic's peregrinations that a well-built steamer can move through the strait without much difficulty well into October.

THE MEMBER FOR WOLSELEY.

The edifying spectacle of a member of the Legislature stating from his seat in the House that in the event of a certain bill becoming law he for one would not comply with its requirements, was witnessed in the House on Saturday when the member for Wolseley attacked the public health bill then under consideration. That a man elected for the purpose of assisting in the framing of laws for the proper government of the province should thus publicly declare his intention of breaking the law, is very much to be deplored; that a man who has occupied the responsible position of a minister of the crown, and who doubtless entertains hopes of again doing so, should give utterance to expressions so subversive of law and order and so utterly lacking in respect to the House of which he is an unworthy member, is even still more to be deplored.

If it is possible to take a small-minded, petty and mean-spirited view of any question before the Legislature, Dr. Elliott may be safely relied upon to take it. Suffering from an over-weening belief in his own abilities and importance, a belief shared by no one even upon his own side of the House, the Doctor never fails to oppose any measure brought forward in the interests of the community but which may to some extent conflict with his own personal interests. Dr. Elliott's opposition to the government's proposal to make the notification of tuberculosis compulsory upon physicians throughout the Province can only be attributed either to sheer ignorance or self-interest.

Consumption in its various forms is the most dread disease that today afflicts the human race. Every year the "white plague" claims its thousands and tens of thousands of victims and in endeavoring to at least minimize its ravages, the provincial government is only acting as every government throughout the civilized world is acting. Compulsory notification of cases of tuberculosis is not only in the interest of the patient but of the whole community. It is a well known and generally acknowledged fact that the spurt of persons affected with the disease is directly responsible in many instances for the spreading of the disease, and it is only by the authorities being acquainted of all cases that occur that steps can be taken to lessen this fruitful source of the disease. Early notification of the disease also, as Mr. Motherwell pointed out, enables the authorities in many instances to take steps leading to the eventual curing of the afflicted person.

Dr. Elliott's contention that it is against the welfare of the patient and his family to know the nature of the disease contracted in all cases which it seems inconceivable that any responsible practitioner should put forward, and in many cases, as Dr. Nesley pointed out, if the medical attendant were given by the proper instructions there are few intelligent people in this country who would not at once appreciate the character of the disease being treated.

A CONTRAST.

Dealing with the question of "Manitoba Universities" and the provision made by the Manitoba government for higher education in that province, the Manitoba Free Press contrasts the policy of the Roblin government with that being followed by the government of this province. The Free Press says:

"The educational policy of the Saskatchewan Government provides for a special tax for the purpose of education of one cent an acre annually on all the land in the Province. This tax will produce, after the cost of collection is deducted, a yearly revenue of $322,750. Of this amount 5 per cent, or $16,137.50, will be set aside for the maintenance of an Agricultural College, and an equal amount will be devoted to secondary education. The remainder, or $322,750, will be expended annually on the thirty unorganized school districts. $5,300 on intermediate schools, and $28,900 on rural schools.

"This provision for the public educational requirements of the neighboring Province, gives evidence in its amplitude as also in the proportions into which it is distributed, of the broad-mindedness and foresight with which the Scott Government has undertaken its duty of establishing an educational system worthy of the province and adequate to its needs. Commenting on the provision made for a university, the Western School Journal published in this city, which is the recognized educational journal of the West, says in its current number: "The trust of the Manitoba Government to the University of Manitoba has been $8,000, because, as we are told, the people, though ready for an 'Agricultural College are not yet educated to the point of submitting to be 'taught for the maintenance of a modern University. It will be humiliating to Manitoba to follow the lead of a new-born Province, but better so to follow than not to move at all."

"That the Manitoba Government has any intention of following the lead of the Saskatchewan Government in making a yearly provision of $16,137.50 for the Provincial University has yet to be seen. Not alone is the Saskatchewan Government setting a good example in the matter of making a wisely generous provision for University purposes, the Alberta Government is doing likewise, and Premier Rutherford has announced that the University of Alberta will be in working order in 1908. Surely the public opinion of this Province will not allow the Government to continue in its deliberate neglect of its duty in making the University of Manitoba an institution which will not have to its credit any creditable record in the eyes of its youthful sisters, and Alberta."

CANNIBAL RAID IN SOUTH SEA ISLAND.

NATIVES CAPTURE AND EAT TWO CHILDREN—PUNITIVE FORCE CAPTURES VILLAGE.

VICTORIA, B.C., March 25.—According to advices received, South Sea Islanders are resuming their cannibal practices, and the situation is extremely serious.

The storm centre seems to be in Papua, where a particularly inhuman cannibal raid occurred a few weeks ago. While the men and women of the village of Siba were working in the garden, a number of Kaka tribesmen entered and captured two children, a boy and a girl, who were killed, cooked and eaten.

On the receipt of the news of the raid a punitive expedition was organized, but the armed natives, under the leadership of the assistant resident magistrate, met with determined resistance. The attack in war paint and plumes and when driven back to the peak of a steep hill of bare granite, from this vantage point they threw stones with such precision and accuracy that the division and its auxiliaries were unable to reach the stockade.

Finally, however, the village was taken by a flanking movement, the natives losing three men.

Sergeant Black occupied the chair previous to the election which resulted as follows: Hon. Vice-Pres., Maj. Charles McMillan.

Fitzpatrick, who was engaged as a bookkeeper by the Kerr Land Co. on Wednesday last, was seen at the office on Wednesday, failing to put in an appearance on Thursday morning. For the day following the missing man was reported to have been seen at the robbery was discovered.
