FARMERSVILLE, JUNE 15, 1887.

We are pleased to announce that we have secured the services of Mr. S. P. Shaw, (Clerk with L. S. Lewis), Newboro, as our canvassing agent for Newboro and vicinity.

FARMERSVILLE AND VICINITY. Our Reporter's Note Book Turned Inside Out for the Benefit of the Public.

A band of Gipseys passed through the village on Tuesday.

We regret to learn that Mrs. Ed. McLean is dangerously ill.

Lamb & Ross have a good start made on the cellar wall for their new three story brick block.

Our Mallorytown correspondence is unavoidably crowded on account of coming in too late, but will appear next week.

Next week we shall notice the number of buildings in course of construction this season, with builders and contractors' names.

A Parish & Son's new block is being pushed rapidly forward. The joists for the second floor were placed in position on Saturday.

The prize list of the Unionville fair is being sent to the members from the Reporter office this week. The Delta list will be sent to the secretary tomorrow and will not be mailed to the members at once.

The Jubilee Dinner next Wednesday, under the auspices of the English Church, promises to be a grand affair. The arrangements for the celebration are most complete, and must result in satisfaction to those who patronize the dinner, which will be served in the basement of the church at noon.

The speeches will be delivered in Mr. Taplin's grove. In addition to the speakers announced on the bills, John F. Wood, M.P., has arranged to be present.

From our American exchanges we learn that Little Vie, the Canadian mare, owned by Alex. Hunter, of Carleton Place, and who made it hot for the fast nags in this section last fall, is making it lively for some of the American horses. Week before last she trotted at Canandaigua, N. Y., where she took first place in the free-for-all, having as competitors such horses as John B. Clark, with a record of 2:19; John H., 2:19; Kingsley, 2:26; W. B. H., 2:31; and Jallah, 2:27. There were five heats; time, 2:31; 2:24; 2:33; 2:33; 2:35.

On Thursday afternoon last the corner stone of Lamb & Ross' new brick block was laid in presence of a number of the citizens of the village, prominent amongst them being Arza Parish, Esq., Geo. Nash, A. Armstrong, H. B. Arnold and others. A cavity had been prepared in the corner stone, in which a copy of each of the Reporter and Recorder were deposited, together with some silver coin. The ceremony of laying the corner stone was performed by Messrs. Johnston and Bush, the contractors. The corner stone was placed under the part of the building owned by J. P. Lamb, and Mr. Ross proposes to place a copy of the Times, Reporter and Kingston News in the corner stone of his part of the building. It has been suggested that a copy of the Mail and Monitor be placed in the centre wall, as the building when completed will have a conglomeration of Grit and Tory owners and occupants.

After years of earnest pleading and anxious waiting, in the hope that the managers of the toll road leading from this village to Unionville would put the road in proper condition for travel, the farmers and teamsters who travel over this road, have decided that, like the old man in the fable, they have thrown 'chaff' and straw long enough, and have concluded to try more earnest and decisive measures. On Saturday last a legal notice bearing the requisite number of signatures was served on Mr. Wm. Sherwood, the Managing Director, notifying him that unless steps were at once taken to put the road in the condition required by law they would lay the matter before the county judge and take steps to have the road condemned. We have been over the road a great many times during the present season, and have failed to notice where a single load of stone has been spread on the track this year. This is a few small piles of stone have been broken, and are now lying alongside the road, but is a notorious fact that the highway is completely worn out, and nothing short of a thorough repairing from one end to the other will answer the requirements of the law or the necessities of the traveling public. We shall watch the matter closely, and give our readers the benefit of any information we may obtain regarding the action taken.

There is a slight change in the advertised programme of the W. C. T. U. Convention. The public lecture, instead of Thursday evening, will take place to-night (Wednesday), when the popular orator, J. R. Clarke, will deliver a lecture on Temperance. The change was necessitated owing to Mr. Clarke's inability to be present on Thursday evening. Whatever slight alteration this will occasion in to-morrow's programme will be announced at the lecture. A silver collection will be taken up at the door this evening, to assist in defraying the considerable expense of bringing the lecturer here. Judging from Mr. Clarke's well known ability and popularity, we predict that he will be greeted by a large audience.

Bee-keepers in this locality would do well to call on Mr. M. B. Holmes, Delta, as he has a fine stock of hives, sections, foundations, smokers, &c., from the D. A. Jones Co's factory, Beeton, which from their superiority over the goods of inexperienced makers, and the very low price of the different articles, combine to make the Italian apiculturist a great convenience to bee-keepers in this locality, as it virtually brings the celebrated Jones factory within easy driving distance. We believe Mr. Holmes sells the Jones hives, with foundation and every thing complete, for only $1.30, and all other goods in that line are offered at equally low prices.

We understand that the Managing Directors of the driving park have leased the track and buildings for the season to Mr. Abel Stevens, who has secured the services of Mr. J. Lyons to take charge of the track and horses. The season will open on the 1st of July, and already some six or eight horses have been secured for training. Mr. Lyons is known to the majority of horsemen in this section as a careful and experienced trainer, and when it became known that he had been engaged to look after the interests of the Association, a number of horses were promised at once. As the stables will only accommodate a limited number of horses, it would be well for owners of fast nags who wish to place them under Mr. Lyons' management, to make application at once.

We this week commence the publication of a new serial story, "Sir Hugh's Loves," which will run through some 12 or 15 numbers. The story will be found of good moral tone, and one which all may read with profit. We will print a few extra copies weekly so that parties who subscribe during the next few weeks can get back numbers if wanted. Next week we hope to be in a position to make an important announcement, and one which we think will be of much interest to our readers. In the meantime we ask all who take an interest in the Reporter to kindly show this number of the paper to some friend and get them to read the initial numbers of our new story, and ask them to take a trial trip for the rest of the year. Only 50 cts. from now to Jan. 1st, 1888.

We received a short note from Mr. Sala Blancher, dated at Chicago, May 26th. He briefly refers to his visits to Chataanooga, Cincinnati, Lexington, and several localities made interesting by the events of the war. In passing through the Cumberland mountains the train went through 27 tunnels, some of which were a mile long. In regard to Chicago, Mr. Blancher says: "I arrived here about 7 o'clock p.m., and put up at the Commercial hotel, where I found the accommodations of the house all O. K. To-day I sought Dr. H. O. Bates, and found everything in himself and wife that I could wish for to make agreeable times for me. I also visited other friends here, and anticipate leaving to-morrow. Dr. Bates was so delighted with the account in the Reporter of our anniversary celebration at Beeton, Richard Holmes, that he took the paper to his lodge room and read the whole report to the members."

One of the great events of the season will be the jubilee picnic on the 21st inst., in connection with the Methodist Sunday School. The beautiful steamer Lily Nicholson has been chartered to convey the picnickers, and from King's Island and ample provision has been made for conveyance from Farmersville to Charleston and back. The public will be charged 40 cents for the round trip from Farmersville and return, and those who are members or supporters of the school will be charged 20 cents, with the exception of scholars under 12 years of age, who will go free. Tickets must be procured before starting. Conveyances will start from the school room at 8 a.m. Picnickers are advised to carry full baskets, as the air of Charleston Lake is proverbially appetizing. Several short speeches will be delivered after dinner on the subject of the Queen's jubilee. Go, and enjoy yourself, in our advice.

The North Church was comfortably filled on Friday evening, the event being a literary entertainment and ice-cream festival, under the auspices of the Baptist congregation at this place. The platform was tastefully arranged and a number of national flags were festooned upon the walls, and hung in graceful folds from different parts of the stage. The chair was occupied by Rev. S. Sheldon, who in a pleasing manner discharged the duties of his office. The Farmersville orchestra was upon the platform, and ably discoursed sweet music at intervals during the evening. The programme opened with a reading by Miss Staff, which was rendered in a pleasing manner, but scarcely loud enough to be heard plainly at the lower end of the building. The second number was an instrumental duet by Miss Hutchison and Mr. Cornwall. It was a beautiful selection, and was artistically rendered. A vocal duet by Miss Allyn and Rev. S. Sheldon, occupied the next place on the programme, and was well received. Miss Jennie Hartwell's recitation of "Betsey and I are out" was spoken plainly and with a distinctness that should be copied by our amateur elocutionists. A humorous reading by Rev. S. Sheldon, "The editor's guests," brought down the house, and put all in good humor for enjoying the ice cream, which was announced at the close of this number. After a half hour spent in eating ice-cream and cakes and indulging in the usual amount of small talk, the second part of the programme was proceeded with, the first number being a selection by the orchestra, followed by a reading by Wm. M. Johnston, M.A., entitled "The Isles of Greece." With Mr. Johnston's ability as a reader, a large number of our readers are conversant, but on this occasion the theme and the reader seemed to be in perfect harmony, and the audience listened with rapt attention from beginning to end. A song by H. Kincaid, with Mrs. B. J. Saunders as pianist, was given in good voice and was well received. The recitation by Miss Maud Addison, of an oration delivered over the graves of the heroes who fell in the effort to give freedom to the slaves during the American rebellion, was the event of the evening. The voice, the gestures and the clear and distinct manner of pronunciation place Miss Addison in the front ranks of female elocutionists. Mrs. B. J. Saunders gave a pianoforte solo, which was a selection from a popular opera. A reading by Mr. P. M. Porter, a selection from Mark Twain, concluded the programme, and after a few felicitous remarks from Rev. Mr. Rogers, of the Methodist Church, followed by "God Save the Queen" and the benediction, the audience quietly dispersed, all no doubt feeling that an enjoyable evening had been spent. We learn that the receipts amounted to something over $25.00.

The Rev. James Pullar will deliver a discourse on the subject of "Noah's Ark" on Sabbath forenoon. The Senate by a vote of 30 to 13 have decided that a divorce obtained in the United States is not valid in Canada. All the cheese registered on the Gananoque Cheese Board on Friday last was bought for 94 cents by a Mr. Thompson. Barnum's, Frank Robbins' and Burke's circuses are to visit Canada this season. Barnum is expected in Brockville in September. There is great dissatisfaction in Prescott and Russell over the proposal to appoint John A. Macdonald, of Toronto, to the County Judgeship. The Salvation Army has organized a mission the special object of which is the conversion of "Jukes, earls and refined sinners" of the "west end" of the English metropolis. Despatches from Winnipeg show that Mr. Leacock declares his Province to be in such humor that rebellion may and probably will break out in case Sir John Macdonald does not withdraw from his monstrous interference with the constitutional rights of Manitoba. An Austrian doctor named Rabow says that nine times out of ten headache can be cured almost instantly by swallowing a spoonful of salt dissolved in a quantity of water sufficient to allow the sufferer to swallow it.

An exchange says: "A newspaper may praise a man till it exhausts its vocabulary, and the man will accept it as though he deserves it, but rub the hair the wrong way so gently, and only once, and he'll fly into a hysteric, stop his paper and call them everything that's bad. Isn't it strange."

ADVERTISEMENTS. Province of Ontario, United Counties of Leeds and Grenville. Lydia Sheldon, widow of the late Stephen Sheldon, of the village of Farmersville, in said United Counties, do solemnly declare that at the time of the death of my late husband, I had a conversation with C. L. Lamb, of the said village of Farmersville, in reference to certain articles ordered for the use of the house at the time of the funeral of my late husband, and Mr. Lamb he me then that he would convey them to Stephen Sheldon's account and would not ask me for the payment of said account, and further that I had not got money that was needed. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the Act Respecting Extra Judicial Oaths.

LYDIA SHELDON, Declared before me at Farmersville, this 15th day of May, 1887. BETHUEL LOVERIN, J.P.
