REPORTER OFFICE

(Capt.) Rev W. C. Swayne, Chaplain of the 56th Reg Lisgar Rifles, and Master Allan Swayne are attending the centenary celebration of the Battle of Crysler's Farm on the battle field, near Morrisburg, Ont., Aug. 27 and 28.

It is pleasant to hear that Mr Geo. K. Wight is recovering rapidly from a rather critical operation for appendicitis in the Kingston General Hospital. He will soon be able to leave for his home here, and may resume his work in Gananoque.

Two recommendations are made by the unionists of England with regard to the Home Rule Bill. One is that its passage through the commons be prevented next time by violence. The other is that the king refuse to sanction the measure.

Harold Rowsome, who attended the Brockville Business College last winter, and who was also successful on the Civil service examinations, left on Monday for Ottawa, where he is to take a government position at an initial salary of $800 per year.

During the past three months 178 new post offices have been opened in Canada to keep pace with the flowing tide of settlements. The extension of the rural free delivery has resulted in the closing of over 258 rural offices, principally in Ontario and the maritime provinces.

—The Fall Term of the Brockville Business College will open Sept. 2nd. Students living on the line of the Brockville and Westport Railway get a very cheap travelling rate. If interested address the Brockville Business College, Brackville, Ont., for full particulars.

On Sunday next visiting ministers will preach at the services in the Methodist church and on the following Sunday the pastor will conduct the morning service and the Rev. W. W. Giles of Summit, N. J., will conduct the evening service.

Mrs J. A. Sherman, of Plum Hollow, who is a patient at St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, is improving nicely. She expresses herself as being very grateful for the many acts of kindness shown her and also for the many letters and cards of sympathy sent by friends from her old home and vicinity.

The death occurred at Napanee, on August 8, of Dr George Washington Edwards, a veteran medical practitioner of the district, who had reached his 89th year. Dr Edwards at one time practiced at Unionville, now Fortthorn. He became a member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario in 1869.

Horses imbited a frisky spirit at the Elvida camp ground on Sunday last and two of them mixed things up a bit. One of them driven by a young Athenian, declined to wait to be tied to a tree and made a wild dash for liberty while the driver was walking forward to tether it, badly wrecking the buggy. Another coming from the camp ground, became unmanageable when near the village and an attempt was made to check it by heading it against the elevated carriage track at the grain warehouse. This failed to work out as expected, for the horse cleared the 3 1/2 ft. hurdle in one bound, broke the whiffletree, and left the buggy and its occupants safe and sound on the other side. Beyond a fright, the occupants of the buggy escaped uninjured.

The interior of the postoffice may no longer be used as a bulletin Board, a circular letter to that effect having been received by the postmistress. This prohibition is timely, as it will get the people trained so that the new building may escape disfigurement. By-the-way, Mr Webster has not yet announced when the new building is to be opened!

SUCCESSFUL SECTION SOCIAL

We learn to do by doing. The people of Hard Island Section have learned how to make their picnic a success. From early morning till evening on Thursday Mr Howarth's grove rang with the shouts of children, the clatter of dishes, and the merry laugh of Ephraim Robeson with friends and neighbors. A table 100 feet long groaned under its load of good things. No land under the sun furnishes more good things to eat than Leeds Co. in August, and everything was there. Without a doubt, everyone thoroughly enjoyed the dinner.

The managing committee had very thoughtfully built the platform, on which the program was given, not far from the table and a comparatively small number experienced any difficulty in getting from the table to the amusement seats. There an interesting programme was given. About 20 numbers were rendered in a very creditable way by the children.

Mr Fred Hollingsworth kindly assisted with violin music. Mr. Walter Smith, B. S. A., gave a short address, Miss Maud Hollingsworth gave an address on the value of social intercourse, and Mrs Wm. Towriss added to the pleasure of the company by giving a humorous recitation, very much to the point.

A programme of sports followed, for which suitable prizes were given. Our married men of the section are to be congratulated on their athletic ability. The old saying "You are only as old as you feel" was beautifully illustrated.

The only regrettable part was that every lady who entered in the married woman's race did not receive a cake of soap. Some of the ladies sat down during the race and truly the roads were dusty.

Before the sports were over the call for supper rang through the woods and it was surprising how some of the appetites had recovered from the attack made upon them at dinner time.

We were pleased to see so many friends from outside the section and would say to one and all, "Come again" and we will try to even give you a better time.

Friends and neighbors met together for a spirit of good cheer, and our lives will be the brighter for a day like that each year.

MODERN FARMING

Mr Arch Stevens, one of the progressive farmers of Philipsville district, was in Athens last week and favored the Reporter with a call. He is an admirer of the Ontario Government's new policy of sending agricultural knowledge to the farmers through the medium of District Representatives, instead of inviting them to attend the O. A. C. at Guelph. As an example of what intelligent husbandry can accomplish, he points to the marvellous improvement wrought by O. A. C. representatives in the orchard of Mr Felix Bresee near Delta, which he thinks should be visited by all interested in fruit growing. By the demonstrations given and by personal experience on his farm he is of opinion that on many farms underdrainage could be made to pay a handsome profit on the money that would require to be invested.

Fire at Glen Elbe

Lennius L. Bates, a farmer living at Glen Elbe, about three miles from here, met with a considerable loss on Wednesday evening last when about 6 o'clock fire destroyed all of his barns including his season's crop of hay, a quantity of grain, a number of agricultural implements, and harness. Fortunately his stock was in the fields. The buildings were partially covered by $600 insurance but the contents were not insured.
