SANE INSANITIES

Are All That the Ideas of Dreamland Turn Out to Be.

Every one has read at times of stories or ideas for invention the result of dreams," said a well-known writer, who has produced a number of clever humorous short stories and several books. "Do not be taken in by them, my boy. The ideas of Dreamland are only plausible but empty fakes."

"Most of my writing is done at night after the family has retired and the house is quiet. When I finish my work I go to bed, be it two or four o'clock in the morning, with my brain at the boiling point. Then I plunge at once into Dreamland. I don't know the way there or how to get back, but I always manage to return, probably piloted by a crazy idea."

"In Dreamland I get more ideas for good stories than I could write in a thousand years if I were ambidextrous. That is, when I dream they are good. As I dream I say to myself: 'Oh if it were only a story that I might jot this down! This is the best idea I have had in a year. What a corking story it would make! But I'll be sure to forget it when I wake up.'"

"One night in a dream I made up my mind to remember a certain story I had dreamed and write it as soon as I got up in the morning while it was still vividly impressed in all its humorous details, on my mind. Following this, with the suddenness of the turn of a kaleidoscope, came a dream in which I was having a most exciting experience with a purple mastodon with long shining gold tusks, of which I was trying to rob him to make a gun rack for the reception hall. I forgot all about the previous good story. I knew that I was forgetting it, and in my puny struggle with the mastodon I made a violent mental effort to retain the story and at the same time secure the tusks. Just as I got the better of the mastodon I awoke and tried to think of the story, but I might get up and make copious notes of it. But the story was clear gone, and the mastodon incident was so utterly foolish that I turned over in disgust and went to sleep again."

"One night I dreamed a most exasperatingly funny story about the adventures of a character called Godelstick. As I dreamed it I rectified it at about five thousand words, and knew every word of it, so that had I been awake I could have written it word for word as it occurred in the dream. It was great, and knowing my weakness of forgetting my dream stories, I resolved to remember it. I did remember it in the morning, and it was the most incoherent, silly stuff in the world. That is always the way with dream ideas."

"Again I dreamed a story. This was the best of all. As I dreamed it I thought what a sensation it would produce and what a reputation it would bring me! The story was complicated, yet simple, and such a plot as the most ingenious intriguer could hardly produce. It was full of situations both humorous and pathetic, and the dialogue was witty, crisp and convincing. 'If I could only make notes of this,' said I, 'I would be all right, for I am sure to forget it by morning.' Just then I had a pad of paper before me and a pencil in my hand. I wrote away feverishly making copious notes of everything and elaborate descriptions of the persons in the story. 'Now,' said I, 'I'll feel the dream demon this time. Then I fell into a calm sleep. When I awoke and while half asleep I thought of those notes. Where had I put them? I got up and searched everywhere, but could not find them. I had a hazy, tantalizing memory of the details of the story, but I must have the notes I had made to write it as I dreamed it. I searched everywhere in an agony of apprehension at their loss. Then I woke up again and found that the notes and the search for them had both been dreams."

"My dream stories give me more trouble than those that I conceive and write while awake. They seem so good when I dream them, but while dreaming I know that they will be utterly impossible and ridiculous when I awake."

"Don't believe these stories of great works coming out of dreams. When one is dreaming the brain is off on a baroque holiday—a carnival of seemingly sane insanities."

C. C. RICHARDS & CO.

Dear Sirs,—I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT in my stable for over a year and consider it the very best horse flesh I can get and strongly recommend it.

GEO. HOUGH,
Livestock, Quebec.

"My parents may come between us," she faltered.

"If they do, they must be pretty small," And he pressed her still closer to his manly breast.

"To put the brake on the wagon going down hill is a help to the horse, when the wagon is heavily loaded. But what driver would think of applying the brake to a loaded wagon going up hill? If he did, his sensible horses would probably balk. Many a man is in the condition of pulling a load up hill with the brake set against him. When his stomach is out of order, and the allied organs of digestion and nutrition impaired in their functions, a friction is set up which has to be overcome in addition to the performance of daily duties. A foul stomach makes a foggy brain, and the man with a disordered stomach has often to grope his way through the day's business like a man in a fog. He forgets appointments, problems are costly presented to his mind, 'wrong end to.' This condition is entirely remedied by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It puts the stomach and digestive and nutritive system into a condition of perfect health, and gives a clear brain, a steady hand and a light step for the day's duties. When constipation closes the channels of the body, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will work an effectual cure of that disastrous disease."

Runaway horses are unknown in Russia. When an animal bolts the cord is pulled, and the horse stops as soon as it feels the pressure on the windpipe.

He Fooled the Surgeons.

All doctors told Renick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, Ohio, after suffering 18 months from Rectal Prolapse, that unless he underwent a costly operation he would die. But he cured himself with Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world. Surest Pile cure on earth. Sold by A. I. McCall & Co., Druggists.

Seventeen Years of Torture.

"I had a bad cough for seventeen years," writes Mrs. Sam'l Hamilton, of Lawville, N.Y. "A doctor's medicine could cure it until one year ago I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which did me more good than any other medicine I ever used. It is truly a grand cure for asthmatic Coughs, Colds and Throat and Lung troubles." Positively cures Consumption, Pneumonia, Grip, Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever and Croup. Price, 50c. and $1. Guaranteed. Trial bottles free at the Drug Store of A. I. McCall & Co.

All who see Mr. C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Ind., as he is now, cheerful, erect, vigorous, without an ache, could hardly believe he is the same man who a short time ago, had to sit in a chair, propped up by pillows, suffering intensely from an aching back, in agony if he tried to stoop—all caused by chronic kidney trouble, that no medicine helped till he used Electric Bitters and was wholly cured by three bottles. Positively cures Backache, Nervousness, Loss of Appetite, All Kidney troubles. Only 50c. at A. I. McCall & Co.'s, Druggists.

OFF THE TRACK.

This means disaster and death when applied to a fast express train. It is equally serious when it refers to people whose blood is disordered and who consequently have pimples and sores, bad stomachs, deranged kidneys, weak nerves and that tired feeling. Hood's Sarsaparilla puts the wheels back on the track by making pure, rich blood and curing these troubles.

Constitution is cured by Hood's Pills.

"HOTEL BEATS."

Clever Tricks Employed to Make a Living Out of Hotels Without Paying.

Most persons are willing to see their names in print, but there is one paper published in New York to appear in which means more than disgrace. It is called "The Hotel Debtor Register," and is published at 39 East Forty-second street. While its circulation is private, it is more or less extensive. It reaches the managers of nearly every hotel in the country.

The object of the Register is to warn hotel proprietors against the type of "guest" who believes in enjoying the best of life without paying for it. Don't imagine that the non-payment of a debt at a hotel is forgotten. Your name goes abroad, no matter how small the amount you owe or what your intentions were in avoiding payment.

But this is not the only means employed by hotel management to protect itself. Nearly every large hotel has an efficient detective force. The chief detective of one of the largest and finest hotels in the world, situated in this city, has described some of his experiences for the Sunday World.

"You have no idea," he said, "how many persons come to this hotel for the purpose of 'doing it.' There are a sort of detectives employed by clever persons to make their living out of hotels without payment."

"John Smith will come here, for instance, and engage a room. He will hand over the counter a couple of bags of cash, and ask to have his trunk brought up from the station. Mr. Smith dresses in the latest style, and has the outward appearance of a multimillionaire."

"He will be shown to his room. He will then casually ask the bell-boy to conduct him to the dining-room. The boy complies. Mr. Smith will order an elaborate dinner, charge it to his room and then—walk out of the hotel. The trunk checks are bogus."

"Another smart trick is for a man to rush into the hotel from an adjoining store. His hat will be off, and he will have the appearance of a clerk in a store. He has learned the name of the store manager, and he will say: 'We have a check for $50 in the store and are short of change. The banks are closed. Mr. Jones, our manager, asked me to see if you would cash it.'"

"Usually the clerk at the hotel desk gives an affirmative answer. A man goes out for the apparent purpose of getting the check from the manager. In five minutes he returns, presents his check and gets it cashed. This is a time-honored performance, and yet it often succeeds."

"A rather elaborate scheme which is often worked is the following: A man comes and stays in the hotel for two or three days. He is seen often in the lobby, spends considerable money in the cafe, and then goes away, paying his bill. In a few days he returns. The clerk who has acquaintance he has made welcomes him back. He remains in the hotel a week with quietude, and then with a big bill unsettled. His trunk is full of old books or worthless articles."

"Few hotels will cash checks, now for guests, but sometimes we get badly caught for large amounts."

"A well-known traveling salesman came here not long ago and got $500. The check was good only for $50, and the other $450 having been added to the number. We had cashed similar checks for him before, and supposed the one he presented to be all right."

"Some of the worst hotel beats are wealthy persons. Somehow they hate to pay a bill. They'll go off without a word, and it is only after we have threatened exposure that we are able to extract our money."

"Then there are the impersonators of well-known men. They have cards engraved with the names of bankers and rich railroad and mining men. Their make-up is modeled on that of their originals. We are often taken in by impostors of this description—but sometimes they meet their Waterloo."

"A man came here not long ago who said he was a well-known mine owner from Helena, Mont. As luck would have it, the mine owner himself was staying at the hotel and was well known to the clerk. We captured the impostor promptly and he is now 'doing time.'"

"No end of meals are obtained for nothing, and it is difficult to keep proper check on the dining-room without giving offense."

"It may be incredible, but it is true, that many of the hotel swindlers are or are thought to be high-class persons. They have no means to live up to their tastes, and seem willing to sacrifice even their honor to satisfy their appetites."

THE PREMIER JOCKEY

Tommy Burns Again Leads All the Boys on the Turf.

Though Tommy Burns has headed the list of winning jockeys in America for three consecutive years—namely, 1897, 1898 and 1899—and is precluded from doing so this year, by his being allowed to ride only for his stable in the west, whereas the Jockey club takes no notice of the western turf congress ruling and permits him to accept mounts from outside in the east. Yet there are people who say that he is not a patch on the eastern riders. A better proof of this cannot be than his performances at Saratoga, both this season and last. When riding there last year, he won 21 mounts against Spencer's 22, the latter having all the best eastern stables to ride for, while Tommy was only supported by the western contingent.

This year has been a horse of another color, as Burns has won 10 more races than any of the eastern lads. The standing of the first six jockeys is as follows:

	1st.	2nd.	3rd.	Unpl. Mts.
Burns.....	21	11	12	29
O'Connor.....	11	8	15	48
Shaw.....	10	10	5	12
Mitchell.....	10	6	27	53
McCue.....	8	11	8	25
N. Turner.....	6	7	14	12

Tommy's record this year on all tracks up to Aug. 24 is 67 wins, 4 second, 31 thirds and 76 unplaced out of 225 mounts, an average of nearly one win out of three. It must also be remembered that he has on three occasions been second by allowing the other one of the entry to win, when he could easily have won the race with his mount. The Edgewater stakes at Washington park being one instance, when Silverdale was allowed to win and Alard Scheck ran second.

A VERY BIG PRICE

French Say They Are Paying it for the Friendship of Russia.

The Alliance may Snap off Short Soon, Changing the Face of European Politics.

New York, Aug. 30.—A dispatch to the Times, from Paris says: With regard to the Czar's rumored coming visit to Paris, the French press, on the whole, seems fairly persuaded that it is undertaken with a view of raising another Russian loan in Paris. As evidence of this, the preliminary visit of M. de Witte, the Russian finance minister, who was here recently, is quoted.

La Libre Parole declares that it knows for certain that an attempt was recently made by Russia to raise a large loan in America and failed and as money is absolutely necessary to the Russian government at this moment a determined attempt will be made to raise it in France.

This impression is altogether changing the popular attitude with regard to the Franco-Russian alliance, and many papers, representing the most diverse opinions, declare that France is paying far too high a price for the friendship of her northern neighbor.

At the present juncture this attitude of France is important, as, if the Franco-Russian alliance breaks down the whole face of European politics is changed.
