The crops in Essex County never were better than this year. The wheat, crop, although not such a large acreage as formerly, is a fair crop; oats never promised such a crop before; barley could not be better; corn is making great headway and has recovered from the cold weather of May and promises an immense yield and an acreage equal to any previous year. Tobacco is doing well, the plants having made a good catch. Fruit will be up to the average. The outlook all around was never brighter.

IMPORTANT

The Subject now Before the Council of the Board of Trade is one of Local Interest.

The response to a call from the secretary, for a meeting of the City Board of Trade last night, was not encouraging to those who have undertaken to revive this adjunct to our municipal government.

The question to be discussed was that of obtaining evidence to place before the railway committee, commissioner of the Dominion Government, who has intimated his willingness to visit this city and gather such information as he can obtain to lay before his superior officers respecting the unjust discrimination that is being practised in the rates that are being charged local shippers as seriously affecting the trade in Canada. This has become so burdensome that representative manufacturers have asked for this commission. If our local shippers, who are directly interested in obtaining an equitable rate, are not sufficiently active to the importance of getting this evidence together they certainly cannot expect the general public to interest themselves, and for this reason it was surprising that many of our heaviest shippers were absent.

Another attempt, however, will be made to get the evidence before the council of the Board in the next few days, and then an invitation will be sent to the commissioner, who will come to Chatham and endeavor to personally interview those who have grievances.
