"Willow Bank" Cemetery

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN:
DEAR SIR,—THE ACADIAN finds me every week and is read with no small interest, bringing, as it does, news of the old home town, second to none, in my humble opinion. To judge from reports contained in this little messenger, Wolfville surely is forging ahead. It would almost appear that the climax had been reached, or covered, by the numerous clubs, leagues and societies. I admire the spirit that has the general good at heart, all success to it; but as I read these reports from week to week I am more than surprised at the lack of interest in one branch of improvement necessary, to me the most important of all, and I am not alone in my opinion. I refer to the cemetery which, save a very meagre report of the annual meeting, "slimly attended", we are told, receives not even a passing notice in the pages of your paper. Being a resident of Wolfville when this fine tract of land was presented to the town by the late J. W. Barss, I became much interested in its up-keep, an interest that has strengthened with the years, because of those who were of my nearest and dearest, laid to rest there. "Beautiful for situation" may well be said of Willow Bank, but is that enough for a resting place wherein lie our blessed dead? "Nay, truly" will be the response of all. Why the inhabitants of a town, noted for its beautiful homes with esthetic surroundings and cultured tastes, tolerate such conditions, is a question not easy to answer. Perhaps you can explain it, Mr. Editor, as others fail to. "To forget our dead is to neglect the living", is an old saying. We would not willingly be laid under such a charge. But it is little use to criticize, unless some remedy is offered, so, at the risk of being lengthy, I venture to suggest that the Civic Club, the Social Service Club, and the other and sundry societies aiming at the betterment of the town, make a grand rally and place this first on their list of improvements. Surely the public spirited citizens are not all dead! Just wake them up. Get behind the directors of the Cemetery Co., and you will be surprised, doubtless, at the generous response. "Just waiting to be asked" so to speak. Let it be a forward movement in deed and truth. Show your interest and be a helper, not knocker. Interest inspires, where indifference kills and disheartens. I note the return of the secretary, R. E. Harris. If he is the live wire I remember him to have been in his own business in days past, he will not fall down on this undertaking, but rejoice in the privilege of reclaiming the waste place and thereby handing his name down to posterity, as a promoter of good in the highest degree. Go to it, friends, and let us all help and encourage those who try to make Willow Bank cemetery worthy the name of God's acre, and second to none in the province of Nova Scotia.

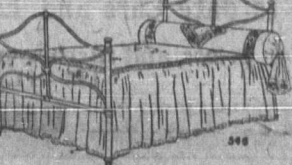

AN INTERESTED OUTSIDER.

The Minard's Liniment Co., Ltd.
Dear Sirs—Just a few lines in favor of your Liniment. I would not be without MINARD'S LINIMENT for anything. When I go hunting I always take a bottle in my pocket. It is the best for cold in the head I ever used; and for colds in the chest, and every other part of a person, and for sore throat it has no equal. It is also a good liniment for the hair as I always use it. I have also taken blisters off of horses with MINARD'S LINIMENT and I would use no other for any reason For Man or Beast, as I think it is far the best.
I remain,
Yours truly,
