

Malformation. A correspondent of the St. John N.B., "Telegraph" writes:—"A 'Jasus nature' in the shape of a healthy, good-looking child, with three legs and four arms, has made its appearance in Pubnico, Yarmouth Co. There is one head all right and the rudiments of the back of another visible behind the neck. The two additional arms are situated a little below the others. They are shorter than ordinary arms, each having a regularly formed wrist; on one there is a hand with two fingers and a thumb, on the other a hand with three fingers only. The third leg is articulated a little behind the outer side of one of the hip joints, and is somewhat shorter than the other two, but is complete in every other respect. The immediate progenitors of the child were closely related to each other.

LET others apologize for us; if we can find an excuse for our conduct we might have found a way to act differently.
