

Folding Kodaks at Reduced Prices.

Such a lot of pleasure, and such lasting pleasure, in such a small space.

That's the "give-and-take" of the folding Kodak. It gives never-ending pleasure and amusement and it takes up such a little bit of room.

In all sizes the folding Kodak is being offered at the Kodak Store this week at specially reduced prices.

Entries in the Visitors' Book are

From 1865 to 1869 it is evident that people were allowed to call at the Parsonage and to go away without being given the opportunity to register in the Visitors' Book, as the signatures of Rev. M. Netten and Miss Netten, of Catalina, Robert Bayly, of Trinity, Rev. M. Pelley, of Trinity

Bay South, the Chief Justice, and J.

W. Harrison are the only signatures of these four years. If I divided this book into two parts, I would make the division at the date 1870, as the signatures from that date, are largely those of men and women whose names are still familiar to the majority of our people to-day—men and women—some of whom God called to Himself not many years ago, and others who are still in the flesh. Of the names during the first decade from 1870, I find either the signatures of Rev. W. Pilot, Rev. J. D. Dunfield,

Rev. Walter R. Smith, J. I. Dunfield,

Rev. W. Weaver, Rev. J. Godden,

Rev. W. R. D. Of the latter I find only the signatures of Rev. Henry C. H.

Hansen, and E. Doyle.

During the year 1891 the Bishop of Quebec and his son, Rev. Leonard Williams, came to Trinity from Canada Labrador by the Prospero, enroute to Quebec by way of St. John's.

During the few hours' delay they visited the Church, and the Parsonage, and entered the Visitors' Book with their autographs. The good old book has since passed to his rest, and his son—the priest of 1891 is now the Bishop of Quebec. These two names, together with those of Rev.

Levesque, Godden, St. John's, and

James J. White, Harbor Grace are the only ones of 1891. The year 1891 has some twenty-nine names in all. Of these whose names we are not found before, are those of August 30th, H. T. Hibbert, Commander of H.M.S. Fantome, an old friend of the parson, paid his respects and entered his name. In September of the same year I find the names of George M. Johnson, Judge, and James Carter, Sheriff.

During the month of September a goodly number of ladies called at the Parsonage. Of those—who are living to-day—were Mrs. O. Morris, Mrs. H.
White, Miss Ash, Miss F. Pittman, Miss Florence Pittman, Mrs. William Jenkins, Mrs. Forster, and Emma Ash. During the next five years the thirty-odd names are largely those of the clergy already mentioned, plus that of him whom we still delight to honor, viz., Sir Robert Bond.

In 1909 Rev. S. M. Stewart, of Ungava, was the most important visitor of the three who registered during the year; whilst under 1910 I find the signatures of Governor Williams and suite, Rev. John M. Noel, the Bishop of Newfoundland, some American students, and Daniel Owen, of Annapolis Royal, Nova Scotia. On November 15th, 1916, Rev. Charles Stickings took charge of the new Parsonage. On December 16th, 1918, he who on several occasions before had entered his name as rector of Fogo, rector of Heart's Content and rector of the Cathedral Parish, St.
John's, graced this page with the signature—William Newfoundland, Bishop of the Court, St. John's. The year 1919 was the centenary of the death of Rev. John Clinch, of Trinity, whose body lies in the old church-yard. A special service was held at his grave, and in the Church, at which the oldest of the priests of the diocese—Rev.
George S. Chamberlain, of Catalina, was the preacher. He was a guest at the rectory, and on Dec. 8th he added his autograph to the list of worthies.
On a page of the same year are the names of Rev. Edgar Jones and Mrs.
Jones, of St. John's, that of Canon Lockyer, of All Saints' Cathedral, Halifax, N.S., and Canon Kühring, of St. John, N.B.

In August, 1920, Rev. T. Sparks, rector of St. Clement's Church, New York; Rev. E. Hill, Trinity Chapel, New York; and Professor Alfred Lincoln, of Springfield, Mass., visited Trinity, paid their respects to the rector and wife, and signed their names in the Visitors' Book. They are still most kindly remembered by the parishioners of St. Paul's who were privileged to partake of their ministrations in Church, and to meet them in their homes. Rev. D. Robert Bayley and wife, of Old Town, Maine, U.S.A., also registered during August of this year.

The signatures of Canon Bolt, of St. John's, and that of Emily H. Hol-lands, of Carbonara, brings to a close the list of names and signatures of 401 of the people, who during these 51 years visited the old and new Parsonages in Trinity. Of these, as I write, 272 have gone to their eternal rest, and 133 are still in the Church Militant here below, and are living either in Newfoundland, England, or the United States.

We are sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. John White, at St. John's, on Monday, August 22nd. Mrs. White was Margaret Pittman, daughter of Joseph and Mary Pittman, Trinity.
She was born in Trinity in 1844. On January 19th, 1872, she married Joseph H. Ash, of Trinity, in old St.
Paul's. Her daughter Jessie is now Mrs. E. Malmont, and living in St.
John's. Mr. Ash died in 1876. In 1878 Mrs. Ash married Mr. John White. Four of the children by this marriage are living, viz., Mrs. John House, Mrs. Pope, Fred, of the Royal Stores, and Stan, a Commission Merchant in St. John's. Mrs. White was the youngest child of Joseph and Mary Pittman, and the last of the Pittman family of that generation.
Mrs. White, as Maggie Pittman was a young woman when I was a boy, and I have vivid recollections of her refinement of manner, and beauty of character far beyond the ordinary.
To Mr. White and the family I tender my deepest sympathy, and for her I pray: Grant her Lord eternal rest, and may light perpetual shine upon her.

garth, of Ireland's Eye, married to Jediah Phillips, of British Harbor.
Witnesses: James Toop, Mathias Toop.

Hill-Warr 1848—James Hill, married to Elizabeth Warr. Witnesses: George Stoneman, Charles Newhook.

Doctor Forbes, of Bonavista, was in town last week.

Miss Sophie Grant, returned from Twillingate by the Prospero.

Mrs. Benedict, Mrs. Fallon and Mrs.
Herder returned to St. John's by the Prospero.

Miss Syvora, of Bonavista, has been accepted by the committee as a second teacher in the Amalgamated School. We welcome her to Trinity.

Miss George, of the Cable Staff, Heart's Content, is spending a part of her vacation in Trinity.

Mr. Ralph Pittman and Mr. Peter Colridge are the Census Enumerators in Trinity.

Mrs. George House (mother of John and George House), and her daughter Mrs. Hall, are enjoying native air in Trinity.

Mr. Alfred C. Moore, of the Evening Telegram staff, has joined his wife and family in Trinity, and will enjoy every hour amidst the scenes of his boyhood days. (Aug. 27th.)

We are in receipt of the official announcement of the marriage of Mr.
L. M. Bishop to Miss Israel, on August 18th, at Sydney, N.S. Mr. Bishop was the Manager of the Royal Bank in Trinity three years ago, and his many friends here join in congratulations and good wishes.

Master Clifford Adams, of St. John's, who was on a visit here for several weeks with Mrs. John Rowe, returned to St. John's on the Prospero. Carrie Hayter, a little friend of his returned with him. Master Clifford has assured us that he "enjoyed himself grand while here." And, of course he did.

Whorls and raspberries are very plentiful in our near surroundings, and they are being harvested by old and young.

Mr. Charles Grant, Assistant Manager of the British Import Co., St.
John's, is spending his annual holiday in Trinity.

Some of our guests who have just returned to St. John's, have a better knowledge of the beautiful views of Trinity than many others who visit us. They saw the Loop; they took the two-mile walk along the South Side Hills from the ferry wharf to the Fort Point Light House; they climbed to the top of Gun Hill; they picnicked at Glen Cove, and bathed at Barlow Beach; and they skirted the shores of the harbor and the two Arms in a motor boat. The views of Trinity, Trinity East, English Harbor, Green Island Cove, and Salvage Cove, as seen from the road on the South Side Hills, are some of the most beautiful that can be had on a fine day; and yet, so few of our visitors know anything about that part of Trinity.

Apart from those views, the walk along the road itself is well worth taking—with a good guide, of course —and if you don't believe me, then ask Mrs. Benedict, or Mrs. Herder, or Mrs. Fallon. At the same time you might ask them about the view from Gun Hill, and I will abide by their decision.

Mr. Mitchell and wife registered at Garland Hotel on Sunday last. Mr.
Mitchell is the Manager of the Bank of Montreal at Greenspond. He left again for Greenspond on Tuesday, but Mrs. Mitchell will remain for a week or two in Trinity. This is their first visit to Trinity, and we are not surprised to learn that they are favorably impressed with the town and surroundings.

The Hon. J. D. Ryan registered at Garland Hotel on Monday last.

Miss Kane, of Pool's Island, has been accepted by the Church of England Board of Education as the teacher in their school at Dunfield.
Miss Kane has had three or four years experience as a teacher, and is well spoken of. We welcome her, and we wish her success.

Mr. M. Smith, the Principal of the school at Trinity, spent his vacation at his old home, and has returned to duty, like a giant refreshed.

On Saturday, August 26th, God called to his eternal rest, James Moody, of Champneys West, aged 77 years. No man of his generation was better known or more highly respected in Trinity, than he who was affectionately known as Jimmy Moody. In the absence of a rector in the parish, his old friend Canon Lockyer officiated at the burial. It will be a long time before the influence for good, of the precepts and example of his life will be forgotten, as a Churchman and a citizen. The members of the Orange Society, of which he was a member, attended the funeral, together with well nigh all the people of the settlement. Grant him Lord eternal rest.

Mr. Levi Lock, now living in St.
John's, enjoyed a holiday in Trinity.
Levi was the best sexton that St.
Paul's had for many years. He could always make the clock in the Church Tower go, whether it wished to go or no; and though it had not gone for a year or more, it was found going on Sunday last, to the surprise and satisfaction of everybody. Levi had spent a large part of his holiday quietly in the Church Tower, and as I write (on Tuesday) the clock is still going. Good boy, Levi!

When the Prospero came in on Sunday last she was gay with bunting, in honor of the Bishop of Newfoundland, who was a passenger from White Bay to St. John's. The Bishop came on shore to meet his sister, Mrs. Stickings, at the Rectory. We were all pleased to see him looking so well, and to hear from him that he had been able to carry out the extensive itinerary that he had mapped out when he left St. John's.

I have in my possession a beaten Silver Punch Ladle. The bottom of it is an English coin of the reign of George the Second, and bearing the date of 1726. It has a silver mounted twisted whalebone handle. I know where there is another of the same kind, but I have no idea that there are not many in Newfoundland. The one that I have bears the hall-mark of the Goldsmiths' Company, and the initials B.M.J. in monogram. I don't know whose initials they are. Are. How much would you give for it?

A steamer is scheduled for two different routes on one of the northern bays, taking them in turn every fortnight. A discussion as to what those routes are, respectively, was going on as the steamer was coming to the wharf of one of the ports of call. A sailor came on shore to look after the line, and one of the men conducting the discussion said: "I will ask this man for information." He did so. "How does this steamer go around the bay this week and the next week?" he asked. "Well, Sir," the sailor replied, "this week she goes on the other side of the bay; and the next week, Sir, she will go—on the other side." Well, goodness knows that's plain enough!
