Forty-Five Years Practice.
ELIZABETHTON, TENN., U.S.A., Jan. 30, 1889.—"I have been practicing medicine and surgery for 45 years, and have had my prejudices against so-called patent medicines. But being troubled with indigestion and constipation, I tried your Diamond Cure. It has done me a great deal of good, and I will try it further. I persuaded a distinguished gentleman to use it, and he says he has not felt so well and free from indigestion in ten years as he now feels. A. J. JONES, M.D., at Druggists or Life, all sunshine without shade, all happiness without sorrow, all pleasure without pain, were not life at all, at least not human life. Take the lot of the happiest, it is a tangled yarn. It is made up of sorrows and joys, and joys are all the sweeter because of the sorrows.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.
—The city treasurer's office is being renovated and repapered.
—The city clerk has completed the voters' lists of the city. Over 14,000 names are enrolled.
—Dr. O'Neill, V. S., has returned from Great Britain, and has brought home some thoroughbred stallions.
—Mr. John Purdon, of this city, has a big job in hand in the alteration of the Essex House, Windsor.
—Superintendent Smith, of the Street Railway Company, returned from Hamilton with some fine horses the other day.
—The conductors and brakemen of Stratford picked at Port Stanley Saturday. Several hundred people attended.
—Seventeen young men from this city will pitch their tent to-day west of the Fraser House, Port Stanley. They intend camping there for about a month. Bert Leys will be in charge.
—Charles H. Haystead, manager of the Josie Mills Theatrical Company, formerly of London, is in the city. Charlie intends to put a superior troupe on the road this season, and will tour Canada.
—The St. Thomas Board of Trade executive will reside through this city on Friday. Messrs. S. O. Perry and J. Mc-Adam, of St. Thomas, have visited Sarnia and Port Huron and made all arrangements for the excursion.
—The Seventh Battalion members are nearly expecting an alarm on the 25th.
—A. G., at the recent inspection announced that it would be given within ten days. Bugles will sound all over the city and the men are supposed to answer the call as if summoned for active service.
—Mr. Fitzgerald, barrister, city, acting for the Bait estate, has a gang of men closing up several streets in the north part of the village of Port Stanley. The citizens living in that locality are very indignant about it, and threaten to tear the fences down.
—It has been rumored that Immigration Inspector Delahanty, of Buffalo, would be released on account of his deportation of Mr. Ruse, of this city. When interviewed by a reporter, he said he had heard it, but was losing no sleep, as his actions had been uniformly supported by the treasury department.
—A. E. Flat, of South London writes:
"Being a constant attendant of the band concerts held in the parks, I would like to ask why there was no programme published in the city papers for Friday night's concert. I only ask this to be enabled to know what there is a concert and when not." The omission was not the fault of the papers.
London Gun Club's Fishing Resort.
The London Gun Club's fishing resort at Dorchester will be a magnificent place if the club has its way. The lease of the beautiful pond there has been secured from Mr. Farlow, of Ingersoll, and the club purposes depositing 100,000 small trout therein, besides building boats and boat-houses. Some objection has been raised by neighboring residents to the procurement of these privileges by Londoners. It is said a right of way runs through the property, and a bridge could be built over the pond if the township desired. The case will be talked over at Dorchester today between the club's representatives and the township authorities.
Matrimonial.
A fashionable wedding took place in Gloucester Presbyterian Church last Wednesday evening, when Miss Annie M. Thomas was married to Mr. James E. Simpson, of that town, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Currie, officiating. The bride was accompanied by her sister, Miss Ada, and the groomsmen were the bridegroom's brother Albert, and ladies were handsome costumes, as did many of the fair wedding guests, of whom there were about 75, including Miss May Wilkins, of South London. The church was crowded. After the ceremony a reception was held, and the happy couple left for the east to spend their honeymoon.
Winding Up Grand Lodge.
The General Reception Committee, appointed by the eight city lodges of the Masonic fraternity to arrange for the holding of Grand Lodge, met in the library, Masonic Temple, on Saturday evening. The various accounts were audited and ordered to be paid. Hearty votes of thanks were passed to the genial chairman of the general committee, Right Wor. Bro. Porter, to Wor. Bro. A. A. Campbell, secretary, to Wor. Bro. Hook, chairman of the hall committee, and to other brethren who had laid a hand. The chairman said he was glad to be able to inform the meeting that the grand master had expressed himself as delighted with the arrangements made for the comfort of the Grand Lodge. There had not been a single hitch, and everything had been done decently and in order.
Sunday Weather Items.
It was "the hottest of the season."
And yet the weather bend asked, "Isn't it warm?"
As if the perspiring victim didn't know it.
The local thermometer in South London registered 92° in the shade at 2 p.m.
This was the highest.
At 9 a.m. the mercury had already risen to 85° and at 1 p.m. to 91°. What it was in the sun can hardly be estimated.
How people longed for the cool breezes and the storm which never came.
Sermons were considerably cut short, and church attendance was slim.
The summer residents of Port Stanley were to be envied.
The Salubrious Baths did a rushing business, and the Cove "swimming spot" swarmed with bathers.

THE SOUL'S CRISIS.
"Seek Ye the Lord While He May Be Found."
Through Earnest Prayer, Bible Study and Church Ordinances.

LONDON, July 24.—Dr. Talmage's sermon selected for this week is entitled "The Soul's Crisis," from Isaiah lv. 6: "Seek Ye the Lord while he may be found." "Seek Ye the Lord while he may be found." Isaiah stands head and shoulders above the other Old Testament authors in vivid descriptiveness of Christ. What Paul was among the apostles, Isaiah was among the prophets.
My text finds 'him standing on a mountain of inspiration, looking out into the future, beholding Christ advancing and anxious that all men might know him; his voice rings down the ages: "Seek ye the Lord while he may be found." "Oh, yes," says some one, "that was for olden times." No, my hearer, if you have traveled in other lands you have taken a circular letter of credit from some banking house in London, and in St. Petersburg, or Venice, or Rome, or Antwerp, or Brussels, or Paris, you presented that letter and got financial help immediately. And I wish you to understand that the text, instead of being appropriate for one age, is a circular letter for all ages and for all lands, and wherever it is presented for help, the help comes: "Seek ye the Lord while he may be found."
There are these who say: "I would like to become a Christian. I have been waiting a good while for the right kind of influence to come," and still you are waiting.
You are waiting in worldly things than you are in religious things. And yet there are men who say they are waiting to get to heaven, waiting, waiting, but you are waiting, waiting, or they would get on board the line of Christian influences that would bear them into the kingdom of God.
I remark, in the first place, you are to seek the Lord through earnest and believing prayer. God is waiting for you to rest on a throne with his arms resting on brazen lions, and a sentinel pace-ing up and down at the foot of the throne.
God is a father seated in a bower, waiting for his children to come and climb on his knee, and get his kiss, and his benediction.
Prayer is the cup with which we go to the "fountain of living water," and dip up refreshment for our thirsty soul. Grace does not come to the heart as we set a cask of water to catch the rain in the shower.
It is a pulley fastened to the throne of God which we pull, bringing the blessing.
Prayer is a warm, ardent, pulsating exercise. It is the electric thrill which, touched, thrills to the throne of God! It is the diving bell in which we go down into the depths of God's mercy and bring up "pearls of great price." There is an instance where prayer made the waves of Gennesareth subside as granite pavement. Oh, how many wonderful things prayer has accomplished! Have you ever tried it? In the days when the Scotch Covenanters were persecuted, and the enemies were after them, one of the head men among the Covenanters prayed, and the waves were as dead men unless thou shalt hear us.
Oh, Lord, throw the lap of thy cloak over these poor things." And instantly a Scotch mist enveloped and hid the persecuted from their persecutors—the promise literally fulfilled: "While they are yet speaking, I will hear them."
Oh impatient soul, have you ever tried the power of prayer? God says: "He is loving and faithful and patient." Do you believe that? You are told that Christ came to save sinners. Do you believe that?
You are told that all have to do to get the pardon of the Gospel, is to believe in Christ. Do you believe that? Then come to him and say: "Oh Lord, I know thou canst not lie. Thou hast told me to come for pardon, and I could get it. I come, Lord.
Keep thy promise, and liberate my captive soul."
I remark, again, you must seek the Lord through Bible study. The Bible is the newest book in the world. "Oh," you say,
"it was made hundreds of years ago, and the learned men of King James translated it hundreds of years ago." I confute that idea by telling you it is but five minutes old, when God, by his blessed Spirit re-translates it into the heart. If you will,
in the seeking of the way of life through Scripture study, improve God's light to fall upon the page, you will find that these commissions are not second old, and that they drop straight from the throne of God into your heart.
There are many people to whom the Bible does not amount to much. If they merely look at the outside beauty, why it will no more lead them to Christ than the Bible's farewell. "Oh," you say,
"it was made hundreds of years ago, and
the learned men of King James translated
translates it into the heart. If you will,
in the seeking of the way of life through
commissions are not second old, and that
into your heart.
When people are anxious about their souls—and there are some here to-day —there are those who recommend good books. That is all right. But I want to tell you that the Bible is the best book under such circumstances.
I remark, again, we must seek God through church ordinances. "What," say you, "can't a man be saved without going to church?" I reply, there are men, I suppose, in glory, who have never been in a church; but the church is the ordained means by which we are to be brought to God; and if truth affects us when we are alone, it affects us more mightily when we are in the assembly—the feeling of others emphasizing our own feelings. The great law of sympathy comes into play and a truth that would take hold only with the grasp of a sick man, beats mightily against the soul with a thousand heart throbs.
When you come into the religious circle, come only with one notion, and only for one purpose—to find the way to Christ.
But I come now to the last part of my text. It tells us when we are to seek the Lord, "While he may be found." When is that? Oh, age! You may not see old age to-morrow? You may not see tomorrow. To-night? You may not see tonight. Now! O if I could only write on every heart in three capital letters, that word N-O-W—now!
Why defer this matter, O my dear hearer? Have you any idea that sin will wear out? That it will evaporate? That it will relax its grasp? That you may find religion as a man accidentally finds a lost pocket-book?
Ah, no! No man ever became a Christian by accident, or by the relaxing of sin.
The embarrassments are all the time increasing. The hosts of darkness are recruiting, and the longer you postpone the matter the steeper the path will become. I ask those men who are before me this morning, whether, in the ten or fifteen years they have passed in the postponement of these matters, they have come any nearer God or Heaven? Now is the time!
O put it out of!
It is very certain that you and I must soon appear before God in judgment. We cannot escape it. The Bible says: "Every eye shall see him, and they also which pierced him, and all the kindreds of the earth shall wail because of him." On that day all our advantages will come up for our
