James Harris, a young man employed at the bolt works, lies in a serious condition at his home, 725 Maitland street, as the result of a wound received on Saturday, supposedly from a knife. The perpetra or of the deed is not known.

And with difficulty the flow of blood was stopped.

Dr. Pingel, who was called, found that Harris was suffering from a leep cut in the left side. To all appearances it was a wound made by a knife with a blade a tleast an inch wide. It was just above the left hip, and had it been a triffe lower would have entered the abderner, and undoubtedly caused death. It required several stitches to close the wound. Miss Margaret Ann Hardy, youngest daughter of the late Michael and Mary Hardy, died yesterday at the family residence, 805 Mailland street. She is survived by one brother, Charles, of London township, and one sister, Sarah, of this city. The funeral will be held tomorrow to Birr Cemetery. Rev. W. John the Evangelist, will officiate.

OBJECTED TO LOCAL OPTION.

A Chatham Associated Press dispatch says that a commercial traveler named McIntosh visited Blenheim, where local option is now in force, and was housed at the residence of Rev. G. B. Brown. Next morning, while on the train going to Chatham, McIntosh on the train going to The proposal and Mainton and the payon of the same point on the late and train the payon of the payon on the proposal to construct a pavement of the proposal to construct a pavement that the payon of the proposal to construct a pavement on the proposal to construct a pavement than the build plants the connection to the intercent took occasion to air his opinion of peopie who vote for a "dry" town, and his remarks were resented by Mr. Andrew Denholm, a Blenheim newspaper man, formerly of this city. The result of the argument was a charge of using abusive language laid against McIntosh by the editor, and a Chatham
