Absinthe Green in Satin Frocks Goes to Heads of Male Contingent.

By AILEEN LAMONT. Special to The Advertiser. Copyright.

New York, July 23 .- For years it has been customary to swathe the fashionable furniture with chintz in summer. The custom has now grown beyond the furniture class, and the owners of the furniture are now swathing themselves in coats of the brightly colored material. The coats are usually tailored and follow the conservative straight lines, no matter how unconservative their coloring.

The "absinthe hour" has passed have into history since the French have been prevented from distilling the essence of wormwood, but we are now in the midst of an absinthe sea-son. The peculiar shade of smoky which distinguished treacherous drink now distinguishes many of the satin afternoon frocks, and the latter seem to go to the heads of the male contingent in much the same fashion as the old-time "drip"

There were times when the roll of the old-time gamblers were represented largely by the jewels they wore, but the modern women chance takers carry their jewels in a specially prepared pigskin roll fitted with chamois or suede pockets to hold their gems. It is so handy for the careless rich, who thus are chabled to forget their precious belongings all in one place. The police are grateful for the style.

are grateful for the style.

Tongues may wag, even on footwear, but the shoe accessories now attracting the most attention are buckles. These are being designed in the most attractive designs of cut steel and jet as well as the precious steel and jet as well as the precious metals. They are not always placed over the instep of the pumps, but are occasionally posed at the sides.

CHELSEA GREEN CLUB MEETS AT SPRINGBANK

Supper Race For Fathers Features Successful Mothers' Picnic.

The members of the Chelsea Green mothers' club entertained the fathers at a delightful picnic held this week at Springbank. About 75 were present and a most successful program of races and sports was given.

One of the most interesting of the races was a supper race by the races was a supper race by the ran balancing a paper plate on the ran balancing a paper that the fathers news sources report that the fathers made use of jam plentifully to assist news sources report that the fathers made use of jam plentifully to assist them in keeping plate and cane together. Even then they did not stand up with the stage equilibrists, but had much fun, however. Mr. Shiveily won the prize. J. Marsh and T. Rabone were awarded consolation prizes.

Dr. H. W. Paddell, Huron street, will spend the rest of the summer at their cottage.

WEDDINGS

LINDSAY-CHARLTON.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on July 21 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Charlton, Springfield, Ont., when their youngest Wharncliffe road south has left on a daughter, Lulu, became the bride of Mr. Fred Lindsay of Toronto. The oride, who was given away by her father, wore a dress of ashes of roses canton crepe, embroidered in silk braid and gold, made in en-semble effect. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. W. Dewitt Cosens. M.A., B.D., in front of a bank of ferns and greenery, the bride carrying a bouquet of roses and sweet peas. Mrs. Clifton Charlton played the wedding march.
