

WORKING TO SAVE MAN BURIED ALIVE

Relays of Rescuers Sink Shafts
Along Side Caved-In Well,
But Chance For Success Is
Slim

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—All night long relays of men were engaged in the work of sinking a new shaft along side of the well at the bottom of which lies John Coffey, the young farmer who was buried by a cave-in while deepening the well on his farm two miles north of Central Islip, L. I., yesterday afternoon. Although there is a possibility that the cross-beams at the bottom of the well may have formed an air-chamber in which Coffey might live for a short time, there is no belief that there is more than one chance in a thousand that he could keep alive until the men now at work could reach him. He is 60 feet from the surface and there is 30 feet of sand and clay on top of him. Constable Schwartz, who has charge of the men at work, said today that it might be three or four days before Coffey could be reached and that in his opinion there was not the slightest chance of finding him alive.

STEVENS COUNTY DRY BY XMAS

SPOKANE, Oct. 4.—Within three weeks petitions will be started calling for a local option election for the unincorporated portion of Spokane county, and before Christmas this county will have voted dry two to one, says District Superintendent Lewis R. Horton, of the Anti-Saloon League. "In order to secure an election we must have petitions signed by at least thirty per cent of the qualified voters. The election will be held before Christmas." "Between now and Christmas thirty-four towns in the State of Washington will vote on the local option issue, according to the present figures, and it will swell to fifty towns in the near future. About half of this number are on the east side." "Stevens county will undoubtedly go dry on November 9, the only question now being that of the size of the majority." "There will be a big fight on in Davenport December 21. There is a political hotbed there, with the politicians inclined to the dry side." "The tendency of the campaign in this county is along these lines."

WINNIPEG, Oct. 4.—Saturday was the last day under the present law for filing petitions with municipal clerks to bring on a local option vote at the annual municipal elections. The results show a very widespread movement upon the part of the temperance people. At the Provincial headquarters of the Royal Temperance Association, communications are on file showing that the following municipalities had presented petitions:

TWO DEAD WHEN FREIGHTS COLLIDE

Head-On Smash On the Canadian Northern Due to Misinterpretation of Orders.

FORT FRANCES, Oct. 4.—Two men are dead and one slightly injured as the result of a head-on collision which occurred Saturday at 7:30 p. m. on the Canadian Northern near Banning, Ont., 235 miles east of Winnipeg. The Engineer Puller, though covered with debris when found, was uninjured. Two engines and quite a number of cars were demolished. It is said that the wreck resulted through the misinterpretation of orders by one of the crew. The dead are: Fireman Woodcock and brakeman Lamb, of Rainy River. Engineer Hansen, of Rainy River, was slightly injured.

CRIMINAL CARELESSNESS WITH LOADED GUN

Young Englishman Tinklers With Cartridge and Then Sinks Down the Barrel.

BRESAYLOR, Sask., Oct. 4.—Bert Head, a young Englishman, aged 17, accidentally shot himself with a revolver Thursday afternoon. He had purchased some cartridges which were too long for his 33 revolver, and had cut the end off trying to make small cartridges of them. He was alone at the time the accident happened, plowing, when he saw some prairie chickens and tried to shoot them. He slipped the revolver twice and it would not discharge. When he turned the gun to look and see what was wrong it immediately discharged, the bullet passing through his right eye, completely shattering the eyeball. His condition is critical and chances of recovery are very slight.

ACTION INVOLVES TREATY'S VALIDITY

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 4.—Forty thousand acres Yakima Indian land, valued at $300,000, and the validity of a treaty made by Isaac I. Stevens, first territorial governor, are at issue in the federal court here. The Yakima, a band of the Yakima tribe, in 1855, are involved in an action by the United States against the Pacific Railway company, now on trial before Judge Edward Whittier in the federal court here. The government seeks to prove that the boundary of the land, held by the railroad, is the main ridge of the Cascade range, as stated in the treaty while the defense contends that the boundary, as interpreted when the patents were issued, is the watershed of the Kiklat and Popoish rivers. A survey of the tract was made in 1890 and the boundary established on the mountain ridge. This was followed by a survey in 1900, when it was reported to Congress that an error had been made in interpreting the treaty by showing the boundary to be the watershed of the two streams already mentioned. If the government is sustained the company will have to relinquish its claim.

VALUE OF FOREIGN CO-OPERATION

TOKYO, Oct. 4.—The value of foreign co-operation in Japan has recently been impressed on its countrymen by the veteran Count Okuma. He pointed out that in the abundance of cheap labor, Japan possesses an invaluable asset, the great manufacturing countries of the West. But the national horizon needed enlarging. People were introducing foreign capital, but what they ought to labor for equally was the introduction of foreigners. Foreigners should be encouraged in every possible way to take part in the development of Japan's resources whether by establishing factories in the country or by associating themselves with the overseas trade. There appeared to be some nervousness among the Japanese as to the expediency of welcoming foreign settlers. That was ridiculous. The fact was that the foreigners would be satisfied with smaller profits than the Japanese required, and every quarter he invested in the country meant so much increase to the nation's capital.

In northern Korea the insurgents have again become troublesome. It has been found necessary to abandon the planting of cotton at one of the experimental stations recently created. At Kagan a band of eighty-seven made their appearance, and were not dispersed until after several hours fighting. They left five dead upon the field, and one Japanese was killed. Within a week recently six contingents occurred from Koreans and Japanese gendarmes and soldiers. Central and southern Manchuria are now reported to be free from bandits, the new system of village police having worked wonders. In the north, however, trade is still handicapped by bands of brigands, who roam at will along many large roads. Moreover, the blackmail agencies, now well-nigh extinct in southern Manchuria, still flourish in the northern towns. Harbin, with its cosmopolitan populace and unsettled and mixed methods of rule, is the rendezvous of many brigands, who take trips to points on the railways, and thence raid the homes of rich villagers with impunity. It is stated that the thorough policing of the main trade routes is one of the most urgent of the reforms to be made by the new government of the province will be expected to devote attention.

Accountant Losses Case
BELLINGHAM, Oct. 4.—E. E. Shortrock, the Seattle accountant, lost his case against Skagit county, in which he sought to enforce payment of $4,000 alleged to be due by reason of work performed. The case was tried here on a change of venue from Skagit county and was heard by Judge J. T. Thomas. The county officials of Skagit held that he had not done his accounting in proper manner and thus refused payment of the amount claimed.

Shots Policeman
SALEM, Ore., Oct. 4.—George Meyers, son of Joseph Meyers, one of the most prominent merchants in this city, shot and probably fatally wounded Patrolman Eckhardt, who had arrested him for disorderly conduct, and was escaping him to the police station. Meyers fired two shots into the officer's body from a pistol concealed in his overcoat pocket. The officer was taken to the hospital and his condition is serious. Officers are searching for him.

Hard on Boozers
WENATCHEE, Oct. 4.—Drunks and liquor peddlers are getting treated rather harshly in this city now-a-days. Police Judge Palmer is placing the minimum fine at $25. Edward and Charles Poland, two young men living in this city, had been to the Leavenworth, where they had been to secure an outlay of booze. Chief Insko met them at the train, arrested them for being drunk and upon opening their suit case, found several bottles of wet goods safely stored away for the use of their friends, who were also at the train to meet them.

Bootleggers Jailed
NORTH YAKIMA, Oct. 4.—Five more "bootleggers" charged with the sale of liquor to Indians, were sent to prison by Judge Preble of the Superior court. This makes over a score in the last six weeks. J. T. Thomas and John Carlson were sent to the penitentiary for one to two years, and Fred Harrington, Henry Leimer and E. L. Johnson were sentenced to two years in the reformatory at Munroe. Several more have been arrested at the Indian festival at Tappan and will be brought up tomorrow. Ram King, who was sentenced to the reformatory yesterday, was changed so that he can go to the penitentiary.

Roadmaster Assaulted
NEWPORT, Oct. 4.—Roadmaster of the B. C. & N. P. railway, was assaulted by a crew of Bulgarians working on the new extension of the road at Ruby. The roadmaster was taken to the hospital and his condition is serious. The assault was committed by a crew of nearly fifty laborers. The roadmaster sought refuge in the depot and was brought to Newport and a posse of twenty-four men were sworn in to accompany the deputy roadmaster to the scene of the trouble, going on a special train. The posse was heavily armed and had no difficulty in making the arrest of the whole gang. They were brought to Newport and are now awaiting trial.

German Girls Get Warning
BERLIN, Oct. 4.—The government has issued a warning to parents and teachers regarding the exchange of letters between German girls and negroes and other persons of color. It has been found in most instances such correspondence has been harmless, the official communication says the custom still is to be deplored. In a majority of cases the correspondence was begun by German girls as a hobby, and the exchange of letters and letters from the negroes to the girls also have sent their photographs to Africa, so that in the houses of many negroes in the colonies hang pictures of young German women of good family. This has been seriously objected to by Germans residing in the colonies.
