

“Of all the figures in that large family group which surrounds George and his Queen, the prettiest, I think, is the father’s darling, the Princess Amelia, pathetic for her beauty,

J. B. G. 1763 Robert Sayer Engraver Richard Wilson Pinx 1763
George the Third King of Great Britain 1763

her sweetness, her early death, and for the extreme passionate tenderness with which her father loved her.

“The princess wrote verses, and there are some petty plain-