

2. What did Jesus tell him?
That he must be born again.
3. What did he mean by this?
That he must have a new heart.
4. How can we get the new heart?
God must give it to us.
5. How do we know that he wants to do this?
Because he says, "Come unto me."
6. What will the new heart be?
A believing, true, and kind one.

The Lord, our Redeemer,
Who hears when we call,
Came down from his heaven
To die for us all.

A FEATHERED RASCAL.

Redbreast leads an honest life
In the apple-tree.
A nest she built, a cunning one,
And laid her blue eggs three.

Bluejay in the big oak lives,
Just across the way.
A very clumsy house he built
In his awkward way.

Robin lives on worms and bugs,
Bluejay steals or begs,
And so across the space he flits
And pounces on the eggs.

Shame, you noisy robber bird,
To treat poor robin so!
You should as you would be done by
Unto your neighbours do.
