

Sir Arthur Currie - 2.

5th June, 1929.

particularly are these:-

- (1) By whom shall clinical teaching appointments be made? or recommended?
- (2) Does the term "clinical teaching appointment" refer only to the senior members of the staff or to all appointments of this nature both senior and junior? This matter has never been clear, nor can I find any documents to explain it satisfactorily.

If we are to function in an orderly manner with respect to the appointment of clinical teachers in the hospitals, some solution should be found inasmuch as important appointments are pending.

Faithfully yours,

C. Martin
