

confident that researches of the highest standard will be vigorously pushed forward there. I really do not think that any one of the younger generation of teachers could be named in this country as likely to do better work than yourself.

Believe me,

Yours very truly,

A. M. WORTHINGTON, M. A., F. R. A. S.,

Professor of Physics and Head Master of the Royal Naval Engineers' College, Devonport.

Professor J. G. MacGregor,