With the adoption of the police committee's report yesterday afternoon in its entirety, the York County Council took the final step towards remedying the unsatisfactory conditions prevailing in the administration of justice in the county. The committee recommends as follows:

That the legislative committee apply to the legislature to have two magistrates recommended by the county appointed for the county on salary, instead of one, as at present.

That five permanent men be appointed to patrol the county along the front (adjoining city), and be paid by the county. That Bylaw No. 1008, re former police appointments, be repealed.

The application will come up before the legislature early in the coming session.

In an interesting address regarding her work as inspector of public institutions for the feeble minded, in the feeble minded in York County. The main fact that Dr. MacMurchy brought before the council was that the majority of feeble-minded children in the county were the offspring of feeble-minded parents who had not been looked after, possibly the worst case being that of a woman that was mentally weak, who had seven children and four grandchildren, all feeble-minded.

Municipality's Charge.

That the legislative committee apply to the legislature to have a commission appointed, this commission to consist of a county judge, the warden and high constable, and to have full control of the constables of the county.

That a certain portion of the council chamber be partitioned off, so that it chamber be partitioned off, so that it may be used as a court room in conjunction with the present court room.

Information Scarce.

Information Scarce.

In moving the adoption of the report, Reeve Syme of York Township said that, after considering the matter carefully, the committee had come to the conclusion that if the police were controlled by a commission better results would be obtained, and it would not be necessary for justices of the peace to try cases. At present there were three warenesses. present there were three magistrates with jurisdiction in the county and a number of J.P.'s, all trying cases, and it was quite impossible for any official to get complete information of all that was going on.

Endorsing Reeve Syme's statement, the county clerk, R. W. Phillips, said that some J.P.'s were trying cases they had no authority to deal with, and that constables often took their cases to a justice in preference to the magistrate. If the commission had control of the constables, any man who did that could be dispensed with

A Fine Record.

Mr. Carter was one of the first trustees of the Earlscourt Public School, and had been offered and had declined the position of magistrate for the county. For the past twenty years he has represented the London Line insurance Company of London, Ont., and has written policies for that company for three generations of the cases in York County.

Reeve Wallace of Woodbridge said that the was fully in sympathy with the result of the police committee's deliberations. There was no doubt that the League, informed The World yesterday, of the county police affairs badly needed in county police affairs. He was strongly of the opinion that the two salaried magistrates appointed should try all the cases in York County.

The mountains rise close about it—Scawfell, Great Gable, Glarmara, beloved by Wordsworth—and many more gray and misty giants. A little brook rattles among the stones, and on the dark sides of the mountains one may see here and there a milk-white streak, where some stream pours down in what the people call a "force" or "ghyll."

But it is a singular fact that up on the mountainside, above the village, in Sty Head Pass (Sty is Cumbrian for ladder and it is an appropriate name), there is a little strip of ground that for some reason catches a positive deluge whenever rain is falling anywhere in the neighborhood.

Riverdale Association Executives in Conclave Regarding Improvements.

At the joint meeting of the execu-tive committee of North Riverdale Ratepayers' Association and the River-dale Business Men's Association, which was held last night in Broadview Y. M. C. A., several matters of importance to the Riverdale district were discussed. It was proposed that the foot bridge over the Don be on concrete and artistic in design.

The executives were not in favor of the iron bridge with the long flight of steps on either side, as this would be bad for pedestrians and especially for people with baby carriages, which are much in evidence in the park. They advocated a concrete bridge with a grade diagonally from the hospital bank on the east to the cinder path which skirts the hill on the left.

SURPRISING SCARCITY OF BACTERIA IN DUST

That there is a surprising scarcity of bacteria in dust has been shown by recent experiments. The same investigator found in London but one microbe to every 38 cubic inches of
