The grocery business of James Buchanan, Ottawa, whose failure was reported in our issue of 18th ult., is announced to be wound up by the creditors. The estate is said to be heavily mortgaged to a local creditor, and outside claimants will have to be content with a small share of the spoils. Buchanan failed twice before, in 1873 and again in 1879.

The property at Victoria Park in past seasons—one of the most popular resorts of Torontonians, on the border of Lake Ontario, about seven miles east of the city—belonging to the Victoria Park Co., is advertised for sale by the Sheriff under a writ of execution; also the steamer Queen Victoria, together with all rights connected with the docks both at the Park and Exhibition grounds.

JOSEPH W. HADLEY & SONS, general dealers at Guysboro', N.S., also said to be interested in certain vessels, are again in trouble, and have assigned in trust to a Halifax creditor. Mr. Hadley, senior, has represented his county in the Local Legislature for several years, and the firm failed in 1874, owing it is said to losses by accommodation paper and heavy election expenses. They then compromised at 25c on the dollar.

Mrs. R. J. Leddon, picture dealer, whose stock was recently sold out in London, Ont., was examined upon a judgment summons at the Division Court there on 26th August at the instance of one of her creditors. It appearing that she had no property left of any kind, and was unable to obtain means to pay her debts or otherwise, His Honor Judge Elliot made an order discharging her from further proceedings in the Division Court.

The many words of kind appreciation daily received from all parts of the Dominion lead us to believe that the JOURNAL is duly performing its mission as a valuable medium between the manufacturing and wholesale establishments both East and West, and the retail dealers. We shall always be glad to receive any hints with a view to improvements that may render the paper still more acceptable to our readers.

Among the most recently reported failures for comparatively small amounts is that of David Calder & Co., general storekeepers, Westville, N.S., who have been in business nearly four years. The firm are said to have been slow with their payments for some time past.—Mr. T. W. Gibbs, hardware dealer, Oshawa, has obtained an extension from his creditors, chiefly in this city, for the second time since he commenced business, several years ago.

The citizens of Mitchell, Ontario, feeling benefited by a healthy competition on their grain market, have formed a joint stock company for the purpose of erecting a warehouse and elevator with a view to maintaining a third buyer on the market. The preliminary steps have been taken, and the contract for the building let with every prospect of its completion in time for the Fall trade, which promises to be very large this season. A large number of the farmers in the immediate vicinity of the town have been compelled to thrash their early crops to make room for the late ones, while from all sections of the county come most cheering reports of the yield.

WILLIAM CAMPBELL, dealer in boots and shoes, Goderich, Ont., is again in trouble. It has been understood for some time past that he was in poor circumstances, but a few days ago two actions were commenced against him in the High Court by his friends, it is stated, on notes amounting to about $1,000; then a seizure was made for $300 due for rent, and for arrears of interest to the amount of $175. A number of other creditors have since sued, and there appears to be a race between them for the first execution; his stock will not realize more than $2,000, and it is estimated that his unsecured liabilities will more than double that amount. About $1,500 is secured by a mortgage on two houses. The assets or total liabilities are not yet known. His trouble is attributed to general falling off in trade and close competition, which has led to cutting prices. Campbell commenced business about ten years ago, but compromised a few years since at 50 cents on the dollar.

J. G. KALBFLEISCH, general storekeeper at Berlin, Ont., referred to in our issue of the 18th ult., is endeavoring to compromise at 35c on the dollar. He was formerly in business at Midway, where he obtained an extension of about twenty months to pay liabilities amounting to $3,000; he then claimed to have a stock worth $5,000 besides notes and cash. In January last he exchanged stocks with Messrs. Heath & Erb, of Berlin, giving the latter notes amounting to $4,000 for the difference in value, the payments extending over eighteen months. Kalbfleisch having failed to meet his extension notes, and having incurred new liabilities, was obliged to assign. At a recent meeting of creditors the estate was placed in charge of Mr. H. E. Nelles, of London, as trustee for the creditors. It appears that Kalbfleisch purchased a bill of goods from a Montreal wholesale house only about three weeks prior to his assignment.
