Butterfly Birthmark.

An extraordinary feature in the death of a man, who fell down a well at a brewery in Long Acre, was the fact that the backs of all his garments were charred, and there was a large burn on his back in the shape of an extended butterfly. Yet, according to the medical evidence at the inquest on Friday, the deceased's death was caused by his having been overcome by carbonic acid gas. The burning took place at the time of his death, which occurred in an atmosphere in which no flame could live.

In the suit of the Woodruff Co., to obtain the standard of shops for the Fairbanks Morse Co. defendants, at Osgoods Hal yesterday, Judge Mabee ordered the examination of George W. Secretary-Treasurer Britton on Aug. 15. The examination of George W. Sparks, late president of the company, who is too ill to give evidence, will be continued when he returns from Wisconsin.

The dispute involves a few thousand dollars, plaintiffs claiming they were at the time of his death, which occurred in an atmosphere in which no flame could live.

Commenting on this mysterious occurred to the commentation of the board of shops for the Fairbanks Morse Co. defendants, at Osgoods Hal yesterday, Judge Mabee ordered the examination of general purposes, that the grand lodge gurn among them as a judicious advertisement.

From that moment the problem was been overcome by carbonic acid gas. The burning took place and the contract given to other parties without cause.

Commenting on this mysterious occurrence, the house surgeon of one of the largest London hospitals informed a newspaper representative that he had often seen burns take the form of common objects of everyday life, such as butterflies, etc. It rather looked as if the man, in falling down the well, had struck the side of the well with his back and rebounded, the friction in his rapid descent charring his clothes and causing the burns on his flesh. The case was certainly a remarkable one.

within the laws, and for the present he will make no other decision concerning that company.

With reference to the application of the Niagara Falls Trust Company as executor and trustee of the estate of Henry E. Woodruff, deceased, the secretary of war says there does not seem to be any necessity for a temporary permit, as water is not being used, and therefore, the consideration of the request will be postponed. The Niagara, Lockport and Ontario Power Company is granted permission to receive into the United States electrical current equivalent to 25,000 horse-power daily from the Ontario Power Company of Niagara Falls, Canada, and the Niagara Falls Power Company is authorized to receive from the Canadian Niagara Power Company not to exceed 25,000 horse-power of electrical current daily.

ones granted for the taking of electricity generated in Canada into the United States, and the secretary of war states that it will be necessary for him to make a thoro investigation before granting permanent permits for such transmission. Consequently he has designated Captain Charles W. Kutz of the engineer corps, who under the direction of Gen-Charles W. Secretary Taft's statement shows that under the law the amount of water which he can permit to be taken is limited to 15,600 cubic feet a second, and he says that it does not seem to be necessary at this time to grant permits to companies which are not actually in operation.
