The Minister's Statement.

"I took stock in the enterprise nearly two years ago. Its prospectus was extensively advertised in the Toronto papers at the time, and my connection with it was well known. Yet not a word of criticism was heard then. If I had known that such a tempest in a teapot would have been raised, perhaps I would not have purchased stock, but now that the fat is in the fire I do not intend to resign at the suggestion of Mr. Pettyplece, The Mail, The Globe or The World.

Mr. Dryden was asked by The World in the stood condemned in the eyes of those Liberai newspapers which had made no attempt to defend him. His reply was:

"They think exactly the way I do regarding the matter. It is too trivial to bother about, and I heartily approve of their policy of treating it with the scant consideration that it deserves."

This closed the interview, and, after bidding The World good afternoon, Mr. Dryden left his office and repaired to a barber shop to enjoy the luxury of a shave.

Danger From Milk

Dr. M. D. Bang, professor in the Royal Veterinary College, Copenhagen, says:
"Much greater is the danger from milk tharb from meat, because it is generally used uncooked. It also forms the essential food during infancy, and the danger of infection through the digestive canal seems to be greater in children than in adults. Milk secreted by a tuberculous udder contains a large number of tubercle-bacilit. This milk is used without any scruple, hence the greatest danger."

There is no danger of infection through clarified milk. Every animal producing the milk is healthy, and the process of clarifying removes all dust and sediment. Delivered at 20 quart tickets $1.00.
