TO-DAY WILL TELL TALE

Sir Wilfrid Must Either Back Down or Ask for Dissolution

OTTAWA, May 14. (Special.) - The situation to-night is unchanged, the two sides took a day off to think matters over. An attempt will be made tomorrow to break the deadlock that has arisen over the attempt of the prime minister to force the opposition to accept the Aylesworth election bill. Meanwhile the talk of dissolution is heard everywhere. To-morrow the government will renew the request for a supply bill covering one-eighth of the estimated cost of the Aylesworth bill. It will be up to the leader of the house to back down or appeal to his excellency for a dissolution. The fact is not to be lost sight of that outside a bare dozen of western Liberals, there is no work enthusiasm in the ranks and file of the party for the retention of the objectionable clauses of the Aylesworth bill. To-morrow the Liberals will hold a caucus to decide what is to be the issue - an immediate election, or concession to the Conservatives on the Aylesworth bill. The chances favor strongly a backdown. As to the Conservative caucus this morning, the memorandum submitted by the premier was discussed at length. The document was so worded that no one would risk an opinion as to what it meant and to avoid a possibility of a sell-out the party unanimously decided to fight till the last clause of the Aylesworth bill was withdrawn.

WINDSOR, May 14. (Special.) - Charles White, who was accused of slugging a neighbor named Joshua Pierce, was given his police court trial to-day. It is alleged that White entered Pierce's home on Saturday night recently and when Pierce returned he was attacked in such a manner that he was rendered unconscious. To-day the charge was made one of attempted murder. He was committed for trial. Mrs. Pierce is under arrest for complicity.

MILITARY TOURNAMENT CONTINUES TO AMUSE

Big Spectacles and the Thrilling Competition Attract an Increased Attendance.

The second evening of the military tournament at the armories even exceeded the opening night in the number of those present, in the brilliance of the audience and in the interest and splendor of the spectacle. The presence of the governor-general added distinction to the occasion. With Sir Mortimer Clark, hurried early in the evening and remained until practically the close, displaying a keen interest in all the events.

Six non-commissioned officers took part in the lemon-cutting contest. Lemons were suspended by a string and each man rode down the line on a gallop, slashing at the lemon as he passed. Sometimes the lemon remained unharmed, but oftener the quick eye and unerring aim of the contestant got the lemon, but not in the proverbial sense of the term. Sergt. Brown, R.C.H.C., got the most lemons and won out in the contest. Pte. Cairns, G.G.B.G., Sergt. Major Kno, G.G.B.G., and Sergt. Instructor Steer, R.C.D., ranked in that order in the number of lemons bisected.

A preliminary contest in the tent-pitching and striking competition was another exciting event, so closely were the teams matched. Each squad carried into the ring its tent in bags and at a given signal set to work to pitch it. Great was the hurrying about, but so perfect the methods that all three tents were up with hardly a minute between them. As quickly they were taken down again and packed in the bag. No results were announced, as a number of other teams are still to take part in the competition.

Riding and Jumping.

Six officers took part in the riding and jumping contest, in which several hurdles had to be surmounted and an arrangement similar to the water jump to be cleared. Entering at the end of the course, the contestants were well matched and it was by excellent horsemanship that Lieut. F. Proctor, G.G.B.G., succeeded in carrying off the trophy. Capt. Van Straubenzle, R.C.D., was second; Lieut. Constantine, R.C.H.A., third, and Major Smith, G.G.B.G., fourth.

The dismounted service competition served to illustrate the work of a horse soldier in active service. Entering at one end of hurdles each team jumped a couple of hurdles in line, passed thru a delfle and then dismounted, loaded and fired at an imaginary enemy. When the enemy had been sufficiently punished the horses were brought up from the rear and the team returned by the way it had come. The winning team was the second team from the R.C.H.A., the first team being the R.C.D., and the G.G.B.G. team third.

M'PHERSON IN WEST

Continued From Page 1. In class A, for which Mr. Wittke took the lead, he would be named. Public control, if not in public ownership. There were certain cases where it was necessary to have public ownership and in such cases he was in favor of it. He did not think the stimulus to work would be removed by public ownership, but he believed that as young men went to South Africa for the sake of their country, so others would give their work in public utilities for the benefit of the people in general. It was absurd to say they could not find a man to manage a public-owned railway to Hudson Bay. There were two varieties of public ownership, the extreme and the more moderate view, and he believed public ownership in moderation would be a good thing for the young country in which they lived.

He was not speaking for the Liberal party, but just for himself as an independent. He very largely agreed with Premier Mowat, and he supposed they would not arraign his cabinet. He understood that the government had made as great a gerrymander as they could expect in two seats.
