EYES OF TRADERS

He Was the Man of the Week in Wall Street--Still Guess- COMMENT OF

(New York Commercial, Saturday.) Since Monday the eyes of traders have Since Monday the eyes of traders have wandered between the Harriman issues and the Steels for cues as to the future In yesterday's business the former did not make so attractive a display as the latter. United States Steel common had a net gain of a full point, closing at its highest, 37 1-2, and the preferred was correspondingly strong. This resiliency in the chief industry indicated the fears of the chief industry indicated the fears of the ore-handlers and the moderate recession in the iron and steel industry. During several sessions of the week the party working for lower prices found it no difficult matter to depress Steel common, and all ore-handlers and the moderate recession in the iron and steel industry. During several sessions of the week the party working for lower prices found it no difficult matter to depress Steel common, and all the easier because of the abandonment of the idea that the dividend would be increased next week to three per cent. But the virtual collapse of the strike—one of the most unreasonable and ill-timed in American industrial history—changed the complexion of trading sentiment complete. Iy. The position of the Chited States Steel Corporation never was so strong as it is today. With respect to the steel industry as a whole it must be kept in mind that, as August approaches, business usually picks up smartly. Already there are signs of greater activity only a short distance ahead. Reports from the trade show that the week has been marked by a good supply of new orders, some of the principal steel companies finding their business much better than for the corresponding week last year. Although the mills have contracts for 2,000,000 tons to be delivered in the course of nine months;

Do you realize that investments of a hundred or a thousand will grow rapidly into hundreds and thousands and millions of dollars? The over-conservative and skeptical will smile---they will laugh at these predictions, some will even consider this a joke---but remember COBALT, if you please, two or three years ago? Then it was a "vision," it was a "dream," "a flash in the pan," "a bubble," somebody was "crazy"; but now it is different. Those crazy men are now classed among the smartest and keenest business men of the day. The actual value of a few mines are worth at the present date more than one hundred millions of dollars. In presenting this investment for subscription we appeal to the good judgment of sensible persons as to its merit.

It embodies, we believe, a correct method for developing and establishing successful and paying mining enterprises.

We desire to conduct, first of all, a successful Mine Development. We intend this to be done in a way that will be absolutely fair and honest, and bring the largest profit possible to those who co-operate with us.

We, therefore, desire this proposition to be well understood by investors. We wish it to be known just how we propose to develop, establish and operate dividend paying Mining Companies by and through this investment.
