nent of their farms, and the branging about of increased agriculture and livestock production in Saskatchewan. The Farm Loans Act came into operation a few months ago, but already applications for loans from farmers for productive purposes have reached a total of over $2,500,000.

Ten-year Saskatchewan Greater Production Loan bonds will be issued in denominations of $20, $100, $500 and $1,000, bearing interest at five per cent, per an-nominations of $20, $100, $500 and $1,000, bearing interest at five per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly. A unique feature of these bonds is that they will be redeemable at par at any time upon the giving of three months' notice to the provincial treasurer.

CHICAGO SAYING COOD-BYE TO DRINK AND OLD-STYLE SALOON

Whiskey and Beer Drinkers Will Have to Form New Habits—No More Free Lunches or Wide-Open Sun-

Only a few months ago free lunch was swept off the boards in the 7,000 and more saloons of Chicago. At once men began forming new habits of eating. Not so long before they said good-bye to free lunch there was a new decree of law enforcement and the 7,000 saloons of Chicago closed down tight on Sunday for the first time in a half century. At once men began forming new habits, new ways of getting beer on Sunday or getting along without beer on Sunday.

Now the day is in sight for saying good-bye to whiskey. And even before the whiskey new in stock is sold out there will be still another change, when the alcohol in beer is reduced to two per cent—which is the closest Chicago has ever come to beerless beer. This means the whiskey and beer drinkers will have to form new habits, anyway till the war is over.

o far as Chicago is concarned the old-le saloon is a goner already. The old-le saloon kept a free lunch counter, with the doors open on Sunday, sold iskey from midnight to midnight, and steins of beer with a high per cent. This style of saloon is disappearing and will soon be as scarce as the buffalo, the Indian, the coonskin cap and the crairie schooner.

Chicago is forming new habits. It is getting along now with a saloon as different from the old-time "tippling house" as the latest motor car is different from the old-fashioned buckboard and ponies. The report of the aldermen of the City License Committee, returning from their our of eastern cities, will have a special dates of interest in view of the ranid

NEW RETORT HOT BLAST

In the House of Commons on the total state funds in the funds on the franchise bills. The bill before the house proposes to disfranchise, arbitrarily, a portion of the people of this country. It proposes to enfranchise another section of our population who are defined in the bill, and who are principally relatives of these who have enlisted for service overseas. I have no difficulty in reaching and in the premises. This legislation by the propose the measure. It is not founded upon any principle of as the time the reis anything in the world as that there is anything in the world as the thing that there is anything in the world as the thing that there is anything in the world as the thing that there is anything in the world as the thing that there is anything in the world as the thing that there is anything in the world as the thing that there is anything in the world as the thing that there is anything in the world as the thing that there is anything in the world as the thing that there is anything in the world as the thing that there is anything in the world as the thing that the proposes the measure. It is not behind this legislation. There is practically a substitute of the world as the thing that there is anything in the world as the thing that there is anything in the world as the thing that there is anything in the world as the thing that there is anything in the world as the thing that there is anything in the world as the thing that there is anything the world the thing that there is anything the world the thing that there is anything the world that the thing th the citizens whom we now attempt to deprive of one of the rights of citizenship. In their native countries, before their departure, and on their arrival here, we have heralded the glories of our institutions. Those immigrants have come here, and no one today is called upon to defend them against any acts of sedition or treason or infidelity to their vows of citizenship. In this western hemisphere, some day when the war is over, we will need more European settlers, as our economic future and salvation depends upon that. Many of the vation depends upon that. Many of the class whom we are now disfranchising by this bill will be coming to this counby this bill will be coming to this country, not directly from Europe, but from the United States, and I doubt if we shall not welcome them. Now I ask you, Sir, will this proposed act fortify their faith in our political institutions? Is it worth while? Will it protect anything that is in danger today?

HOW? WHY?

Fawcett Grates are all made to admit an immense amount of air from below the fire which forces the fuel to burn entirely to a white ash.

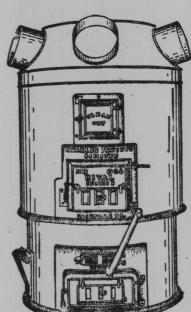

Fuel burns longer and the gases and smoke are converted into fuel, because the fire boxes in Fawcett Ranges and Heaters are all built with hot-blast, smoke-consuming devices which burn the hot gases and smoke, thereby saving half the fuel.

> These are only a few Fawcett features. Others can only imitate.
