SCIENCE FINDS FOOD IN ABUNDANT SUNLIGHT

Idea is Being Tested in London Hospital Under Patronage of Queen Mother.

Hygienic investigators are inclining towards the theory, which has long been recognized in application to plant life, but has not been accepted in relation to human existence that food may be obtained from sunlight. Copenhagen announces the theory, and Queen-Mother Alexandra induced the London Hospital to test the idea.

Dr. Oliver Lodge proved that sunlight destroyed bacteria. Now Dr. C. W. Saleeby asserts that sunlight puts and keeps phosphorus in the blood, and he says, "It is better than cod liver oil, even at the special food services which that nutritious stuff performs."

He strongly deprecates the present-day clothing, "apparently designed for the exclusion of light, plus absorption of unneeded heat and suffocation of the skin, which should be scarcely a less light-using organ than the eye." Canadians are credited with being strong and healthy from the fact that they obtain so much sunlight during their severe winters.

At Sir William Treloar's Cripples' Hospital at Hayling Island, England, and at Alton, in Hampshire, the sunlight cure has been tried, with practical results, and that just above sea-level, in a humid climate affected by the Gulf Stream and other inflowing tropical waters. Tuberculosis, especially during incipient stages, responds to this treatment; and

N. B. ROAD WORK

Fredericton, Aug. 9.—Gordon Grant, of Ottawa, chief inspecting engineer, of the federal highways board, arrived here this afternoon with B. M. Hill, chief provincial highways engineer, on an inspection of the highways being built in this province under the Federal Highways Aid Act. He is conferring with Hon. P. J. Veniot, minister of public works, and Mr. Veniot, while here, work under the Federal Aid Act in New Brunswick this year is estimated to cost $700,000 to $750,000, by Hon. Mr. Veniot, bringing the total amount spent in New Brunswick since the province entered into its contract under the Act up to approximately $2,000,000.

ROB CLERGYMAN OF $1,300. Plainville, Mich., Aug. 10.—Rev. Clyde Lowman, pastor of the New Bedford, Mass., Congregational church, was held up near here today by three highwaymen, bound and gagged and robbed of $1,300. The bandits apologized to him for robbing a clergyman, then drove away in his automobile.

THE PEOPLE WILL PAY. (Bangor Commercial.) There is no question that coal prices will be high the coming winter. Very likely they will be sufficiently high for the operators to recoup the losses that they may have met with the strike, but these have probably not been very large, for the companies had large supplies of coal on hand and were not embarrassed by a temporary cessation of production. The miners have lost their wages, but if they can retain the recent scale of pay will eventually make that loss up and more.

As usual in the case of a coal strike orders
