He claims that that gentleman has already made a start on the work of delivering brick to H. H. McDonald & Co. for the Spring Ridge contract.

Dismissed With a Brief.
The Vancouver News-Advertiser printed the following lengthy and glowing account of the great lacrosse struggle of Saturday, in its issue of Sunday: "Victoria, Aug. 19.—Victoria won the lacrosse match to-day against Vancouver by four games to one, making five straight wins for Victoria in the championship series of the provincial league, thus winning the pennant for 1893."

Tourists for Chicago.
The steamer City of Puebla arrived from San Francisco yesterday afternoon with a large number of passengers and a heavy freight. About 100 passengers left the steamer at Victoria, 74 of whom are bound for Chicago. The steamer Premier made a special trip to New Westminster last evening so that the tourists could catch to-day's overland train. The Puebla brought 164 tons of freight for Victoria.

The presents were numerous and valuable. Miss Jennie Anderson and Mr. Fred Shere supported the couple during the ceremony.

The schooner Ariel will be fitted with the necessary hoisting apparatus and will be towed to the bay. Capt. Mascotte said this morning that he hoped to be able to get away to-morrow, but was not sure. The plans for the vessel to be built by Mr. J. C. Prevost to take the place of the Mascotte will be completed to-day.

Wedding at Union.
Mr. T. B. Aries and bride, of Union, are guests at the New England. They were passengers down on the Joan, leaving Comox for Victoria the day after the wedding, which was a very happy event. The bride was Miss Jessie Turnbull, daughter of T. W. Turnbull, late of Vale colliery, Nova Scotia, and the ceremony was performed at the home of the latter by Rev. J. H. Higgins, B.A., D.D. Dr. W. J. Young, of Comox, was best man, and Miss Lizzy Turnbull, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. There were a large number of friends of the couple present.

Funeral of Matt S. Richards.
The remains of the late Matthew Stephen Richards were laid in their last resting place in Ross Bay cemetery yesterday afternoon. The funeral took place from the Masonic Temple, a large number of members of the craft attending. Rev. E. Robson officiated at the grave. He was followed by Rev. W. D. Barber, chaplain of the lodge, who read the Masonic burial service. The pallbearers were—Messrs. G. H. Brown, A. Tolmie, John Day, Wm. McLeod, John Thompson, Wm. Jones, A. F. Turner and A. McNevin.

Missing Bookkeeper.
J. W. Prentice, late bookkeeper for the British Columbia Cattle Co., has left town and does not intend to return. He left Victoria early last week, mentioning the fact that he was going to no one but a clerk in the company's office. On Friday he wrote to his wife from Tacoma, saying that he would not be back. It is not known yet whether Prentice is short in his accounts, but $200 that was left in his care by one of the employees is missing. Prentice was a trusted employee of the company. Manager McPhadden had the utmost confidence in him. Several days ago Mr. McPhadden made a remark that he had not examined the books for some time. Prentice probably thought he would do so and he therefore left town.

Still in statu Quo.
Matters at the San Pedro remain the same. The pumps have all been taken off and most of the suction pipes simply to prevent them from rusting. It is given out that the Southern Pacific has not yet decided to again take up the work and attempt to float the ship. It is believed here that some outside wrecking company will undertake the work upon its own responsibility.

Reception to Retiring Officers.
On Wednesday evening the Young Ladies' Institute will give a reception to the retiring officers. The affair will take place in Institute Hall on View street. Seghers Council, Y. M. I., has accepted an invitation to be present and the members will attend in a body. An entertaining programme will be gotten up and the hands which the affair is given assurance that all who attend will be very nicely entertained.

Work Has Stopped.
The Victoria & Sidney railway company has suspended operations in the neighborhood of Beaver Lake, where the most of the work on the whole line was being done, and will await a settlement of the question raised by their attempt to cross the end of the lake. What they plan to do beyond this is not known. It is believed, however, that the company will make every possible effort to carry the line through as planned.

Big Shipment of Sealskins.
The sealskins of E. B. Marvin & Co. and Richard Hall are all packed in cases and will be shipped inside of ten days. The two lots total 7700 skins and are worth about $110,000. It has not been decided whether the skins will be shipped and there is keen competition for it among the different lines represented here. The matter will be settled up in a few days, however, and then the date of shipment will be fixed.

Seeking Restoration.
It is expected that transcontinental rates on passenger business will advance to something like its former standard inside of a month. The Northern Pacific and Great Northern are said to be seeking to restore rates, a result which will be attained before a doubt if success attends the scheme of James Hill to secure the Northern Pacific and run the two roads under joint management, proposed when the latter passed into the hands of the receiver. It is held by all the roads that present rates are ruinous.

Departure of "C" Battery.
C battery left for the east on Saturday night at midnight on the steamer Premier, which left at that hour. The men the necessary time to transfer their heavy luggage at Vancouver. There was a big crowd out to say farewell to the battery boys. The band of H. M. S. Royal Arthur escorted them to the boat, which was being at the wharf at 10 o'clock. At the wharf the band played "Auld Lang Syne," "For They are Jolly Good Fellows," and a number of similar airs. Col. Prior, M. P., and the officers of the B. C. B. G. A. were at the wharf and the partying regrets were expressed and hands were warmly shaken.

Adventure With a Panther.
Miss Cox, the lady telegraph agent at Cape Beale lighthouse on the west coast, had an exciting adventure in that wild portion of the country on Saturday evening. She was out for a walk accompanied by a couple of dogs. The latter started a large panther from its lair. The panther seeing Miss Cox, started for her, evidently determined on an attack. She stood still and began screaming for assistance. Her cries brought one of the dogs to her side, and also started her young brother to her assistance with a rifle. The panther came so close, snarling and whining all the time, that she was afraid to move lest it should spring on her. At last she caught hold of the tail and threw it squarely on top of the big cat. A fierce fight then began between the two. At this juncture Miss Cox's brother arrived with the gun, and seizing it, the young lady soon put an end to the duel and the life of the savage panther with a well directed shot. Miss Cox has not yet quite recovered from the nervous shock caused by the adventure.

THE PENELOPE HOME.
She Had a Very Successful Cruise, Taking 2771 Sealskins.

The sealers Penelope, Capt. Cole, arrived in port last night, 19 days to Cape Beale from the Japan Sea. She had a very successful season, taking 2271 skins. She carried a good crew of hunters, a fact which is illustrated by their individual achievements. Her high line boat took 444, while the lowest took 401. That is regarded as very good work for five men. A Times man saw Capt. Cole this morning, but he was more a searcher for news than an importer of it. He had not heard of the result of the arbitration, the seizure and the other events of the past few months. Said he—"All of the schooners ran north to the Copper Islands, and will not be returning home for a little time yet. They did not do much in the Japan Sea after the last reports heard here. The Carlotta G. Cox pulled up and took the lead of the Victoria schooners with 2380 skins. I saw her on July 2, but did not speak her. The Agnes Macdonald was second with 2230, while I guess I am third. I heard of the Geneva later in June with 1500, so she had pulled up over 100 over what she was reported here with. I took 270 skins after I turned my schooner toward home. Half way across the Pacific I spoke the schooner W. P. Sayward. She was sealing and had taken nearly 200, so she had pulled up over 100 over what she was reported here with. I saw a number of gray pups in mid-ocean."

The Penelope is in James Bay, but will dock this afternoon and discharge her sealskins.
—Dr. Garrow has severed his connection with the Gold Cure Company and has taken an office for general practice over Hall & Co.'s drug store, Clarence block.

SEARCHING FOR JUSTICE.

Board of Examiners to be Prosecuted in the Police Court.

CHARGED WITH A BREACH OF THE LAW
By refusing to examine J. N. Muir for a Certificate to Teach in the Public Schools of the Province.

As is well known, Mr. J. N. Muir has, at every teachers' examination held since 1890, made application before the provincial board of examiners that a certificate be granted him, and the result on each and every occasion has been that he has been notified by the secretary of the board "that the board of examiners have unanimously refused to grant a certificate." Neither the secretary nor any member of the board has so far consented to give Mr. Muir any reason for the refusal to grant a certificate, and although on the last application made by Mr. Muir only a month ago, he is certain that he satisfied all the conditions as to moral character, etc., required by the school act, he nevertheless met with the same success as before. No certificate was granted and no reasons assigned.

The board of examiners is appointed by the government, and its powers, so far as they extend, are even greater than those of the government itself. A court of justice, moreover, will decline to interfere with it in the free exercise of the wide discretion which the statute has given to it. The board therefore seems that any one who claims that he has been unjustly treated in the matter of obtaining a certificate can expect no redress, either from the board of examiners, or from the government, or from the courts. The well-known maxim that "where there is a wrong there is also a remedy" would not seem to apply to a wrong done by the British Columbia board of examiners.

Mr. Muir still adheres to the belief that there is a remedy in living on British soil and under British laws a remedy for wrong done or injury suffered. He contends that the board of examiners, in refusing to grant him a certificate, has done so without lawful excuse, and has acted contrary to the express requirements of the public school act, and he is now taking steps with the view of making the members of the board suffer the penalty of their disobedience of the statute. He has laid a complaint before the police magistrate, wherein he charges S. D. Pope, John Anderson, Austin Scriven, P. McLeod and W. D. Barber with omitting, without lawful excuse, to grant him a certificate. The proceedings are taken under section 138 of the criminal code, 1892, which is as follows:

"Every one is guilty of an indictable offence and is liable to one year's imprisonment who, without lawful excuse, disobeys any act of parliament of Canada or any legislature in Canada by doing any act which it forbids, or omitting to do any act which it requires to be done, unless some penalty or other mode of punishment is expressly provided for by law."

The duties of the board of examiners are set forth in section 9 of the public school act, 1891, sub-section 5 of which is as follows: "It shall be lawful for the council of public instruction to appoint two or more examiners at such remuneration as shall be thought proper, who, together with the superintendent of schools, shall constitute a board of examiners and shall examine teachers and grant certificates of qualification."

The board did not examine Mr. Muir, did not grant him a certificate, did not advise him to rectify his case before them, as he asked permission to do, did not give him any reason for refusal, or advise him as to what he must do in order to satisfy the examiners that he is a fit and proper person to be granted a certificate.

It will be a highly interesting state of affairs if the board of examiners is confined in a cell for a week or two and placed on the proverbial bread-and-water diet. The police magistrate is considering the question whether he has power to issue a summons.

BIG BEND.

Review of Mining Operations in a Promising Territory.

Revelstoke Star.—Every day brings good reports from the gold country up river. Gus Lund arrived down on Tuesday with very fine samples from his quartz ledge on McCulloch Creek. The rock is thickly encrusted with free-milling gold in such quantity that if the rest of the ledge at all equals the sample it will be worth about $700 per ton—nearly 40 ounces. The sample is now on view at the office of Mr. A. H. Holdich, assayer. The vein is from 18 to 20 inches in width and has been traced for over a mile, the precious metal being discernible all the way. Mr. Lund has some fine ore on the dump and will send down a ton by pack train this fall for shipment to San Francisco.

Our correspondent, who has spent six weeks in Big Bend, came down last Saturday. He first visited the McCulloch hydraulic works. They had just got started for the season's work, rather late on account of the heavy snowfall, but will be taking out the bullion in a week or two. They had already obtained a quantity of metal in clearing away the ground for their sluices, one nugget being worth $5. High water had prevented their making much headway.

The next camp is situated at the head of McCulloch Creek, where the genial Gus Lund has his residence. Here some half dozen men are clearing away the ground for their sluices, one nugget being worth $5. High water had prevented their making much headway. The next camp is situated at the head of McCulloch Creek, where the genial Gus Lund has his residence. Here some half dozen men are clearing away the ground for their sluices, one nugget being worth $5. High water had prevented their making much headway.

Andy Hunker's claim will have to be opened up before anything can be said about the quality, but it is not unlikely that it will develop into a paying ledge as soon as it is uncovered. J. M. Douglas has a similar one, and both claims have a very promising appearance. The McIntyre Bros., James and John, have four locations on the top of the mountain. They were staked in the snow, and do not show any well defined lead.

A new placer claim has been located just above the Last Chance claim, and present indications go far to show that the ground is rich right down to bed-rock.

All the above are on McCulloch Creek which empties into Gold River, a tributary of the Columbia. A few miles further up Gold River is French Creek, and here is situated the Consolation gold mine, which has been successfully worked for several years and many good nuggets taken out. A half-interest has just been bought by Messrs. McCreary and Williams of Everett, Wash., and work will be vigorously pushed this season. They commenced putting down a slope on the 7th, the tunnel being too long to truck the dirt out. They expect to tap some rich ground inside of a month. The slope will be utilized at Smith Creek, on the opposite, or western, side of the Columbia, the Sol Hoid Mine is turning out over $5 per day per man. Last week they had to shut down for several days on account of a falling tree carrying away part of the tunnel.

The veteran prospectors, John Boyd and Tom Bain, have been operating in Big Bend for some weeks past. They came down a short time ago, and it leaked out that they had struck something rich in the vicinity of Dowdle Creek, and when Boyd went back again he was accompanied by J. M. Kellie, M.P.P., who is said to be the banker for the outfit. Bain was called away to Vancouver by the severe illness of one of his children. It is believed that they have got a good thing on Dowdle Creek. John Boyd is known as one of the best and most reliable prospectors in the province. On their return to Revelstoke news of a valuable discovery of gold may be expected.

Other claims are those of H. Sullivan and C. McLeod, three locations on McCulloch Creek; Jas. Scott on French Creek; and C. Williams, a placer claim. C. Lambkin and E. Pardee are doing well with their placer on Smith Creek. A Hunker and partner have started for Canoe River. They will have a hard time with the high water.

Boyd and Bain shot a caribou while at Gold River, which proved a welcome addition to the larder of the whole camp, fresh meat being a luxury. W. E. Losee shot a fine black bear, which furnished some excellent steaks. On his way to Revelstoke last week he shot a large bear on the trail skinned it and spread the carcass for the wolves or the passing prospector, if the meat was not too "high."

A. McCleary has returned from an unsuccessful attempt to get into Big Bend via Donald and Kinbasket Lake, but on account of the high water at Gold River (not the Gold River mentioned above) he could not pass that point, and had to return to Revelstoke and go in the usual way. He says, however, that the river could easily be made navigable from Donald to Kinbasket Lake, and he thinks the time will come when the importance of Big Bend goldfields will make the Dominion and Provincial governments and mining capitalists so eager to get there that they will make a highway, which will be made navigable right around Big Bend from Donald to Revelstoke.

Homicide in Alaska.
Port Townsend, Aug. 19.—The steamer City of Poughkeepsie, tonight, from Alaska ports after an uneventful voyage. The only important news brought was that of the killing of a prospector named Anderson by his partner, George P. Kirk. The pair left San Francisco on board the schooner Volante last April. The vessel was bound for Cook's Inlet. Arriving there the pair started off on a prospecting expedition to Tunigun. Kirk furnishing the entire outfit. The pair met and were overcome by many hardships, finally camping on Thibault creek. Here several days were spent in rest. On the morning of May 26 Kirk arose and found his companion, boat and food missing. Presently he discovered a most disappearing down the river and ran in pursuit, but stopped at a spot fired from the boat sped in his direction. To protect himself Kirk ran back to camp and secured a rifle, and again made haste after the boat and attempted to head the craft off. When he appeared in sight again Anderson fired the remaining barrel of his gun at him. Kirk threw the body overboard and made his way to Sitka, where he told the story and gave himself up. Kirk was evidently discharged, as he was a passenger down on the last trip of the Queen.

THE GREAT COAL STRIKE.

Riots in Wales—Detachments of Troops Sent to Keep Order.

London, Aug. 19.—The struggle between the miners and mine owners is no nearer settlement than it was three weeks ago, when the strike began. In the midland counties fully 50,000 colliers are idle. In South Wales the situation is so critical that more than 2,000 infantry, besides cavalry and a full battery, have been collected from Plymouth and other military centres since Thursday in anticipation of miners' riots. The whole district is in a state of feverish unrest and apprehension. Watchmen, spies and sentinels are everywhere looking for signs of approaching mob violence.

Yesterday 10,000 miners marched from Monmouthshire and the Rhonda valley to Merthyr-Tydvil, 22 miles north of Cardiff. They rioted in the parish and its environs, smashed windows and battered buildings. Several men were maltreated by the mob, but eventually, after the reading of the riot act, the rioters marched away without having done any considerable damage.

A dispatch from Pontypridd to-night says that the troops have been sent to Merthyr-Tydvil, as more trouble threatened. To-morrow night much more serious things are likely to happen there, for 30,000 strikers plan to begin to-morrow afternoon or evening their march over the mountains to Ebbw Vale, where, despite the threats of the strikers to punish scabs, many miners are still at work.

Sentries are posted at short distances at the entrance of Ebbw Vale, and scouts have been sent to the mountain heights. The troops occupy a position near the mines threatened by the 30,000 miners, and will advance to stop the invaders on their approach.

The scarcity of coal is causing real inconvenience among the tin plate and Scotch iron masters. Several meetings have been held both by the mine owners and the men in the last two days, but to no palpable purpose.

Many mine owners seem willing to allow the strikers to resume work at the old wages, without reference to the miners' demand for an increase or their own proposals for a decrease of wages.

A conference will be convened in London on Tuesday for the purpose of agreeing on the terms of settlement. At the meeting of the delegates of the Fifeshire miners to-day it was decided that the miners' offer of 12 1/2 per cent. advance in wages be declined and that the men leave the pits. This means that 11,000 Fifeshire miners go out on Monday.

Metropolitan Methodist Church.

Yesterday morning the pulpit of the Metropolitan Methodist church was occupied by Mr. Ober of Omaha, who discoursed very acceptably on the privileges and opportunities of young men and the obligations which rested on them to make all they possibly could of their lives for God and their fellow-men. The evening service should have been taken by Mr. Hicks of New York city, but unfortunately that gentleman was quite unexpectedly taken sick, and the pastor, Rev. S. Clever, B.A., was obliged to officiate. It is needless to say that in so doing he added to the deserved high reputation he has acquired since his arrival here last June as a pulpit orator. The opening prayer was by Rev. Dr. Young. "The life was the light of man," St. John's Gospel, 1 and 4, was the foundation of the discourse. It was shown that in everything in nature as well as in grace life preceded light. The sermon was concluded with an earnest and eloquent appeal to the large congregation to seek and obtain that new life which would enlighten the mind and prepare the soul for an inheritance with the saints. Many of those present remained for the mass meeting of Y.M.C.A. delegates, the work of the associations and their friends, which was held after the usual service.
