ST. STEPHEN AND CALAIS.

[Progress is for sale in St. Stephen by Master Ralph Trainor and at the book store of G. S. Wall, in Calais at O. P. Treat's.]

Aug. 24.—On Thursday evening the handsome residence of Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Swan was thrown open to more than 300 guests. It was the occasion of a reception and conversazione for which invitations were given more than a week ago. It was a most delightful party, for there were gathered the flower, wit and beauty of both St. Stephen and Calais, with a fair sprinkling of guests from Boston, New York city and Baltimore. The house is so finely arranged and so spacious that one could not realize so many guests were present. The floral decorations showed great taste in their arranging, palms, ferns and scarlet lilies were used in profusion. In the drawing rooms the corners were banked with ferns and golden rod which gave a most charming effect. Out doors the trees and house were brilliant with bright lights and Japanese lanterns, and as the grounds surrounding the house are quite extensive and picturesque, afforded opportunities for strolls that are seldom enjoyed on such occasions. Dr. and Mrs. Swan received their guests in the long drawing room. Mrs. Swan was elegantly attired in a rich black lace costume, with diamond ornaments. Beside her stood her niece, Miss Flora Swan, of Portland, Me., who wore a gown of cream silk, with trimmings of black velvet and cream colored lace. Fruit punch and ices were served continually and supper was partaken of throughout the evening. The reception was from eight to eleven o'clock. After a number of the older guests had said their adieus, the drawing rooms were given over to those who cared to dance, and waltzing ruled the hour. The ladies were most beautifully dressed. Among the strangers were Mrs. Toller, of Ottawa, and Mrs. Owen Jones, of London, Eng., who wore an elegant costume of black richly adorned with lace, and a profusion of diamond ornaments. It was almost impossible to remember the varied and handsome gowns worn, but I will try and describe a few of them:

Mrs. Toller, pale grey silk, with diamond ornaments.

Mrs. W. F. Todd, costume of rich black lace, pale pink roses, diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Hazen Grimmer, light heliotrope cashmere, richly embroidered with silk in a darker shade, silver ornaments.

Mrs. T. J. Smith, yellow satin dress, covered with black lace, yellow roses and diamonds.

Mrs. Irving Todd, figured China silk.

Mrs. John Black, black lace costume prettily trimmed with jet.

Mrs. Frederic Stancliffe, cream colored silk trimmed with velvet, diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Seymour, black silk dress with trimmings of lace and passamentrie.

Mrs. W. B. King, blue silk with trimmings of velvet, diamond ornaments.

Mrs. E. C. Young, rich costume of black lace.

Mrs. Ernest T. Lee, violet silk with flounces of embroidered white chiffon.

Mrs. J. D. Chipman, heliotrope, figured with scarlet, lace trimmings.

Mrs. Frank Woods, grey silk trimmed with pale pink silk ruchings.

Mrs. Clayton (Baltimore), striped green and pink silk, with bodice of pale pink silk, richly trimmed with cream lace.

Mrs. Henry Pike, pale blue silk, with trimmings of blue spotted net, pearl ornaments.

Mrs. Henry Eaton, costume of pale pink silk and black velvet.

Mrs. Henry Murchie, dress of cream colored silk.

Mrs. S. H. Blair, costume of black and silver brocade, corsage bouquet of white roses, diamond ornaments.

Mrs. C. H. Clarke, cream colored henrietta dress, with trimmings of black velvet, ornaments gold.

Mrs. Henry Graham, rich black silk costume with garniture of black lace.

Mrs. J. L. Thompson, black lace costume, with garniture of scarlet ostrich feathers, diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Moore, pretty costume of white henrietta, with jet ornaments.

Mrs. James Mitchell, black lace costume.

Mrs. Jed. Duren, pearl colored silk, with pearl ornaments.

Mrs. J. E. Brown, cream colored costume, with sleeves and trimmings of yellow silk, yellow ribbon bows and corsage bouquet of pond lilies.

Mrs. J. Meredith, black lace dress, with bouquet of roses, gold ornaments.

Mrs. L. A. Mills, black silk with lace trimmings and diamond ornaments.

Mrs. A. Cameron, pretty black lace costume with gold ornaments.

Miss Kate Bolton, dress of pink and gold colored silk, with pink ribbon trimmings.

Miss Alice Cullinen, heliotrope tulle, with white lace trimmings.

Miss Florrie Cullinen, pale pink crepe with sash of pink moire.

Miss Mina Downes, pale grey silk with trimmings of scarlet chiffon.

Miss Janie Eaton, pale blue crepe de chine trimmed with forget-me-nots and blue ribbon.

Miss Mary Abbot, black lace dress with black silk sash, bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

Miss Agnes Lowell, costume of scarlet Chinese silk.

Miss Carrie Washburne, cream colored cashmere with trimmings of pearl passamentrie.

Miss Fannie Lowell, pretty dress of pale yellow silk, trimmed with white lace.

Miss Beatrice Vroom, white silk mull with trimmings of jet passamentrie.

Miss Victoria Vroom, black silk grenadine trimmed with black lace, bouquet of cardinal flowers.

Miss Berta Smith, yellow silk, with white lace flounces, corsage bouquet of roses.

Miss Carrie B. Boardman, blue and white organdie, with sash and shoulder knots of pale blue ribbon.

Miss Ellen Nelson, pale blue silk, richly trimmed with flounces of white lace.

The tennis tournament which I mentioned in my letter of last week, between the Algonquin club, of St. Andrews, and the Wildwood club, did not come off as was expected, owing to the failure of the St. Andrews ladies and gentlemen to arrive. The members of the Wildwood club, who are always ready for any emergency, enjoyed two days of tennis among themselves, and on Friday evening gave a most delightful reception and ball at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Todd, who, with their usual generosity and hospitality, offered their elegant home for that purpose. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers, and the ball-room made gay with flags and bunting. The trees in the lawn were hung with bright colored lanterns, and the piazza was so gaily illuminated, that the stately looking mansion presented a most festive appearance. Mrs. Todd was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Henry Eaton, Mrs. Henry Pike, Miss Alice Graham and Miss Mina Downes. Dancing to the strains of Herrick's orchestra was indulged in until a late hour, and was greatly enjoyed by all. Fruit punch and lemonade were served at intervals during the evening, and at twelve o'clock ices and cake. There were more than 200 guests present. The ladies all looked exceedingly well in their pretty summer costumes. There were several very odd looking dresses, but lack of space prevents any description. The tennis club are to be congratulated on the success of their entertainment, but with such assistants as Mr. Harry Pethick and Mr. J. E. Ganong, and with the beautiful surroundings Mrs. Todd's residence provides, it could not help from being a most charming affair in every way.

News of the safe arrival in Europe of Judge G.R. Gardner, who left here on receiving the sad and terrible news of the death of his wife's brother, Mr. Augustus Robbins, who was killed while ascending the Alps. Mrs. Gardner was travelling with her brother at the time of the accident and is now in Paris, where Judge Gardner has joined her.
