SUCCESSFUL SEARCH FOR RELICS MADE

Mr. William McIntosh Home From Three Weeks' Trip With Fine Specimens Of Indian Days.

VISITED MANY SPOTS OF PREHISTORIC INTEREST.

Large Discoveries Of Pottery Made By Party—Arrow And Axe Heads Found—Were Hospitably Entertained.

After spending two weeks upriver in a search for Indian relics Mr. William McIntosh returned to the city yesterday as the result of his investigations...

A large number of the Indian encampments were visited, chief among them being those at Sheffield, Porto Belle, French Lake, Maquippit, Indian Point and The Key Hole...

The whole region, Mr. McIntosh said, was remarkable for the number of arrowheads, spearheads, knives, and other articles of the prehistoric Indian culture...

Mr. McIntosh presented the party with a very fine specimen of a remarkably pure white quartz arrowhead...

After leaving Indian Point the party went to Princess Park near the Key Hole, in Grand Lake.

JOHNSTON LODGE KEPT OPEN HOUSE LAST EVENING AND PROVIDED EXCELLENT ENTERTAINMENT—ROOMS WERE CROWDED.

PATRIOTIC SPEECHES AND MUSICAL PROGRAMME.

Dr. MacRae And Ald. Baxter Among The Speakers—Aims And Objects Of The Order.

If a large and enthusiastic crowd, an excellent programme and stirring speeches are incident to success, the members of Johnston L. O. L. No. 24, have every reason to be delighted with the open meeting held last night in the lodge's room on Germaln street...

The meeting was called to order at 8:30 o'clock with Worshipful Master Josiah Goswell in the chair. Dr. A. J. MacCraw, Provincial Grand Master, and J. B. M. Baxter, Deputy County Master, and Mr. Stephen B. Baxter, County occupied seats on the platform, and the programme of about twenty numbers was carried out, including some highly pleasing instrumental numbers by Mr. Fred Punter, Miss Alcorn, Miss Cunningham, Miss Hatfield, Mr. Latham, Mr. Hatfield and others.

Mr. Stephen B. Baxter, called upon for a speech, responded briefly, speaking on the aims of the order...

Mr. Stephen B. Baxter was also called upon and said in coming to the platform that he felt that his first duty was to congratulate the Johnston L. O. upon the success of its scheme of open meetings. He then dealt with the principles upon which the order should be judged, the fair criterion for the aim and intention of the order was the conduct of the men who for motive.

Deputy County Master J. B. M. Baxter, who followed, said that he must first apologize for the absence of the County Master himself, Mr. J. King Kelley, who had found it impossible to be present. In the popular phrase of the day, said the alderman, "we are here because we're here," but seriously, he continued, we were here because the old flag of Britain was flaring its folds to the winds of heaven over the province and the Dominion. They were there, said the speaker, because they believed in the power of association. The order stood for freedom of belief for every man, and freedom of worship according to the dictates of the conscience. The supreme duty of the order was and would be to preserve the freedom of posterity.
