AROUND THE CITY

Wanted.
Good Cook for mill crew. Apply to
H. W. Woods, Wellford, N. B.

Street Improvement.
The street department has macadamized a portion of St. James street.

The Isaac Case.
Richard D. Isaac, the St. John man arrested in New York and wanted in this city and in Boston for uttering forged documents in connection with western land transactions, will be brought to Boston from New York today and the case against him will be heard in the Hob on Tuesday.

Chinese Reported.
Two Chinamen in the North End, Sing Lee of 532 Main street and C.
Humm Foo of 530 Main street, yesterday found it desirable or necessary to continue their work on the Sabbath and will probably be obliged to appear in court for working on Sunday. Both these Chinamen who conduct laundries have been reported by Sergeant Kilpatrick for violating the law.

Council Meets Today.
The City Council will meet today, but will not have a great deal of business to do as practically all the work to be done this year has been decided on. The question of giving effect to the town planning scheme came up for consideration, as the matter was discussed at the last meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade and a resolution was passed urging the city to take up the matter as soon as possible.

A Quiet Wedding.
On Saturday evening a quiet wedding took place at the residence of Rev. David Hutchison, 41 Douglas Avenue, when Thomas George McCarthy, of East Wino, Maine, was married to Edith Agnes Milroy of Old Town, Maine. The couple were attended and after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy left on the Boston express for their future home in East Wino.

Called Back to His Ship.
Captain Alfred Howard, accompanied by his wife, left on the Boston express Saturday evening for Norfolk, Va. Captain Howard is a son of William Howard of West St.
John and is now in charge of a passenger steamer running between Norfolk and Southern ports. With Mrs.
Howard, the captain intended spending a well earned vacation at his old home in the West End, but after being here only a few days he was called back to Norfolk by the steamship owners to take charge of his ship.

Thieves at Loch Lomond.
Walter S. Knowles, of Haymarket Square, who, with his wife, had been spending their honeymoon at his summer camp at Loch Lomond, returned to the city on Thursday. On Friday some person visited the camp smashed the windows, ransacked the building and stole some articles from the beds the thief made it into a sail and stealing Mr. Knowles' box used the sheet as a sail and sailed the stolen boat up the lake to E. A. Goodwin's summer camp. This camp was also broken into and considerable damage was done. The owners of the camps are trying to find out the guilty party and if located will be prosecuted.
The break into the Knowles camp was first discovered by T. P. Jordan who resides in that vicinity, and on seeing the windows broken investigated the matter and reported it to the owners.

LOCATED FATHER OF
ABANDONED CHILD

Charles Carey, the man who it is said placed his child in the steamer Yarmouth recently, and abandoned it, has been located by S. M.
Wetmore, the secretary of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty, and the man is at McAdam. The child is being cared for by the Evans family.
The father of the child is at present in the hospital at Fredericton. The father of the child, it is stated, has for some time been making his home in an old car at McAdam, and recently the car was destroyed by the C. P. R. officials and Carey is still hanging about Mc-Adam. The child's mother is dead and her stepmother is at present in the hospital at Fredericton. She has been communicated with and appears to want nothing to do with the child.
Secretary Wetmore went to Mc-Adam on the Pacific express yesterday afternoon to have an interview with Carey, and if the man won't hand the child over to the care of Mr. Wetmore, who will find it a good home, then the secretary will take action against the father for abandoning his child.

EXPECT MANY TOURISTS WILL COME THIS WAY

Larger Number than Ever Expected Here This Season.

MANY INQUIRIES
ARE BEING RECEIVED

Requests for Information from Tourist Ass'n Indicate a Record Year—Not so many Large Touring Parties.

The outlook for the tourist season is particularly bright this year. If the number of inquiries received at the Association's office may be taken as a criterion, and already the association is busy communicating with prospective visitors desirous of spending a part of their vacation in this province.

Although it is early to form an estimate of the tourist travel to New Brunswick there is every prospect that it will be large this year, and even if the large tourist party is becoming a thing of the past, the smaller parties are more numerous of late years, and this year inquiries are coming from more distant points than in other years. Instead of being restricted to the New England states, as was the case in the past, the inquiries received this season come from some of the more western states. The Sportsman Show, an annual event in New York, and attended by sportsmen from all over the United States, has, no doubt, had considerable influence in arousing among visitors to the show an interest in the possibilities of New Brunswick as a vacation resort, and this year requests from sportsmen and others who evidently attended the show are beginning to come in.

One of the things which augurs well for a bigger season this year than during the past two years is the fact that there are not any big events of national importance scheduled for the States this year, and which during the past two years deterred many who otherwise would have come here.
Last year the presidential election kept many Americans away, and the preceding year the Coronation deterred many from Upper Canada and even from the States. For this reason, the Tourist Association looks for a good season this year. Indeed, moreover, as there is no exhibition, which, according to one member of the association is not a feature which appeals to the tourists, a record season is looked for.

The Traveler's Vacation Exhibition held in New York during the winter is expected to help swell the number of tourists coming this way, as the Tourist Association was represented there and considerable interest was evinced in the province by those who attended.

The association, in view of the increasing number of demands for information about New Brunswick from prospective visitors, has found it necessary this year to increase the size of the provincial booklet by 15,000, and have had 50,000 booklets printed. This year's book is attractively prepared and contains much valuable information. The city booklet is almost ready for issue and has been brought up to date.

Already the different hotels have received notices from the tourist agencies of several parties who are about to commence their travels. It is understood that several large parties under the care of competent guides will spend several days in St.
John before going to other points of interest throughout the province.

"The day of the large tourist party is past," said the manager of one of the local hotels yesterday afternoon, "and during the past few years tourists have been coming in small parties, and in many cases private individuals and their families have traveled alone. Formerly the large parties were under more or less restraint, owing to the fact that every moment of their time was taken up with scheduled visits and sight-seeing trips. The guides also just took the visitors to the most important places, and in many cases the sightseeing parties were misused much of the time by the people who make it a habit to travel during the summer, realizing this, began to come in small parties, without a guide, and to do their own sight-seeing. This arrangement has been found entirely satisfactory and this summer, while a large number of tourists are expected, they will come in small parties." The Cook Tourist Agency and other agencies in the States have already given notice that they are sending parties this way during the summer and autumn.

Much, of course, will depend on the weather. Last year, owing to the great amount of rain during the summer months, the tourist season closed early. The Tourist Association, however, look for a record season this year, and the secretary is sending literature and other information every day in reply to inquiries from the United States, Canada, and even Great Britain.

URGES FOREST
FIRE PATROLS
FOR PROTECTION

J. S. Whipple, Forestry Expert, Talks About Necessity of Fire Protection in Forests of New Brunswick.

J. S. Whipple, the United States forestry expert, is in the city, at the Royal. Mr. Whipple is here on some important railway matters and will address the Board of Trade and the Canadian Club at their luncheon at noon, Tuesday.

When interviewed by The Standard with regard to the forests of New Brunswick, Mr. Whipple stated that the country differed considerably from New York State, which is under his special charge. There the country is mountainous while, comparatively, this province is not. For this reason, he pointed out, the natural reforestation of New Brunswick was very much greater than that of the state of New York.

"It is an important fact," said Mr.
Whipple, "and one which should be remembered, that if the forests of New Brunswick were properly cut by the lumbermen, and no trees under 10 inches touched, and if an efficient fire protection service were installed, the natural reforestation of the province would be such as to provide lumber for many years."

"If I were requested to advise those having the forests under their care as to best methods to protect them, I would urge the plain necessity of establishing an efficient fire protection plan, for the whole province," he said. "This plan would include a paid force of fire rangers with observation stations and a telephone system. Men would be stationed on these observation platforms and the moment a fire broke out they would telephone the rangers in that district, with the result that the blaze could be controlled before it got well under way. The system would cost approximately one cent an acre, on the foremost area."

"When a forest fire is not immediately checked, it usually works into the ground and cannot be put out.
This is caused by the fact that in the majority of forests the rotting vegetable mould extends from two inches to two feet under the surface and burns like cotton. The only manner in which such a fire can be fought is to circle the dangerous section with deep pit and allow the blaze to burn out."

"The general public does not appreciate the value of forest fire protection, and it is to secure enough attention to it. For the past six hundred years Germany has carried on a complete policy of reforestation, while in Switzerland reforestation became necessary about a thousand years ago. Every country in the world should have at least one-fourth of its area covered with forest.
One-fourth the area of Germany is covered with planted forests."

"It is just as easy to get 100,000 board feet from a section of cuttimbered forest as it is to secure from between 2,000 to 10,000 board feet from the same area of natural forest," Mr. Whipple said.

"In New York state and Vermont reforestation has been carried on for many years with the gratifying result that a new forest of untold value is springing up. It takes from thirty to fifty years for trees to grow to full size and at present much of the planted forest is ready for the lumberman."

Considerable Increase in Value of Fish Caught, Compared with Last Year—Digby Developing Penicillin Industry

According to the bulletin of the Fisheries Department for April the value of the sea fish caught and landed in a fresh or green state during the month was $78,490, compared with $576,841 for the same month in 1912.
The United States catch landed at Boston and Gloucester for the first three months of the year was 62,247 cwt., compared with 33,413 cwt. for the same months in 1912. Dry codfish exported from Newfoundland for the first three months of 1913 amounted to 260,450 cwt., compared with 228, 806 cwt. in the same period in 1912.
The total quantity of fish landed in England and Wales during the first quarter of 1913 was 1,999,309 cwt., valued at $9,234,055; while that landed in the corresponding period of 1912 was 2,161,253 cwt., valued at $9,219, 470. Scotland caught 1,566,376 cwt., valued at $3,175,490 for the first quarter of the year, as against 1,087,643 cwt., valued at $2,509,235 in the corresponding period of last year.

BELIEF IN THE
FIRING STORY
IS CONFIRMED

Man Discovered Setting Fire to House on Douglas Avenue
Saturday Night.

MINGLED WITH THE
CROWD AND ESCAPED

Put Pile of Shavings and Papers Under Stairway and Started Blaze — Damage
Only Slight.

The fear of the incendiary which has been revived in the North End has now reached a serious stage.
During the past few weeks several fires have been discovered burning in barns and outbuildings in which sections of the city on different evenings, between the hours of nine and ten, and in practically all the recent cases a strong belief is held by the residents that a firebug has been at work.

As the recent fires have mostly been confined to a particular quarter of the North End, the minds of those living in the immediate vicinity have naturally been of late perturbed greatly over the affair. Several residents have themselves been on the lookout for any attempts at incendiaryism and the services of the police have been requested to capture the firebug, but fires of mysterious origin continue to break out and a state of anxiety still exists in this portion of the city.

Although in the recent fires above mentioned there has been strong belief, and in a number of cases very good evidence, of the fire being set, there has been no positive proof that such has been the case, but in connection with a fire that was discovered burning Saturday evening incidents have been related which confirm the belief of the residents and show certain proof that a firebug has been at work.

The fire referred to is one which on Saturday evening burned the property of William McAndrew, situated in the rear of 25 Douglas Avenue, and was extinguished by the fire department before damage to any extent had been done.

James McAndrews, who that evening happened to be passing the house, saw the fire, about nine o'clock, told The Standard last evening that he saw a young man deliberately light the fire by setting fire to a pile of paper shavings and small wood which had been placed under the steps of the shed.

Once the fire was seen by others a still alarm was sent in to No. 5 station and while the department was responding, the incendiary slipped out of the alley to the front street, and ran towards Indiantown.

If the fire had had a chance to gain any headway it would probably have destroyed the house, as it had not reached an advanced stage, the blaze was easily extinguished by the chemical engine.

According to the story told by Mr.
McAndrews he was coming in Douglas Avenue towards the city and when in front of No. 25 on that street noticed a man rather shabbily dressed, and a lighted match in his hand, and a bundle of paper and shavings under a flight of stairs, and set the shed in the rear of the dwelling alight. The flames rose to the stairs and soon the building was burning.

As soon as he saw that the flames had caught the wood the firebug, he said, rushed into Douglas Avenue, ran along that street, turned into Main, and ran as fast as he could towards Indiantown.

The description given of the fire-bug is of a man about 21 years of age, fairly tall. He was wearing a peaked cap and dark clothes. His coat was somewhat shabby, and his other clothes a little the worse for wear.

IMPORTANT CHANGES
AT THE CATHEDRAL

Vesper Service will henceforth be held in Evening—A Long Established Custom Broken
—New Lighting Plant.

Two interesting announcements were made in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception yesterday morning at the different masses when the congregation were given notice that beginning with last evening the vesper service would take place on Sunday evenings henceforth, instead of in the afternoon.

The change is an important one in the parish, as it means the breaking of a long established tradition. Except on rare occasions the vespers has been sung in the afternoon, and as far back as the memory of the oldest parishioners can reach this has been the custom. The change in the hour is a popular one.
