

FROM ALL OVER THE MARITIME PROVINCES

HOPEWELL HILL

Hopewell Hill, March 31.—C. E. Bishop, a young man of 21, of the village, was killed by a horse on Friday. The horse, which was standing for a few moments, when the horse was startled by the mill whistle, and started to run away. Running to catch the lines, the young man got over the side of the wagon and fell over his head, breaking both bones below the knee. Dr. Carr, who attended to the injury.

There was quite a bad runaway at Hopewell on Saturday. A horse belonging to Mr. O'Connor, of the King George Hotel, got frightened at a dog and, with carriage attached with no occupants, made a dash through the village. Narrowly escaping collision with the stone pier in front of the Bank of Nova Scotia, the animal ran over the embankment of the Sheppard Hotel, horse and carriage being piled up in heap. Fortunately the horse escaped injury, but the carriage was smashed.

The section was without mail on both days of Saturday. An account of mishaps of the Alberts family, and two days mail arrived on Sunday morning, being driven down from Moncton, where the train stopped on the way. The train was delayed on account of washouts by the storm of the previous night, but these were repaired so that the train made the run up to Salisbury at eight on Saturday. On the return trip, however, there was a landslide near Moncton about eight miles from Albert, about 6 o'clock, and after waiting nearly all night, mail was finally driven down to the city. The train left on Monday morning. Some of the passengers walked some distance and got driven down. The cars were still on today.

Edgar Wilson, of the village, returned yesterday from a trip to St. John. Donald MacChesney, who had been away all winter, returned home last week.

A special meeting of the rate payers of the Hill school district, in called to elect a trustee to fill the place of C. L. Pack, who has removed from the village.

Hopewell Hill, March 31.—The Scranton Wash Boring Company of Scranton, Pa., who have been doing the test boring at the Baltimore shale works during the past year, have finished work and are shipping their boring rods and tools. They have done 12,000 feet of work.

The test boring was done in a deepening concern, for whom the Wash Boring Company were working, are still on the ground.

The Alberts family, who have been hard hit by the storm, are again in the hospital. The doctor is again in running order, and the patient is again in the hospital.

Howard Stevens and bride returned to tonight's train for their wedding trip to Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Thad. Stevens, of the village, are the guests of Mr. Stevens' relatives here this week. Mr. Stevens leaves in a few days for Springfield, Kings County, for a visit to his father and mother, who are suffering from the effects of the storm.

Hopewell Hill, April 1.—The destruction caused by the recent rain and freshets, reported to have been very heavy in the river and along the coast, and in many places are practically ruined. A gentleman from Alma said today that it would take $2,000 to make good the damage in Alma alone. In one place, a quarter of a mile in length, the highway was completely torn to pieces.

A foot-bridge in one section, was carried out by the freshets, and cross-ways and lane bridges are being repaired.

At Alma, the water entered the mill, covering the floor, something that has not occurred before for sixteen years.

The C. T. White farm, at Pointe, Wolf River, has suffered from a large amount of logs going out to sea, and damage to mill plant by the freshets, the latter alone amounting to $1,000, it is estimated. It cannot be told just how many logs went adrift, as they went out during the night, but the amount is estimated at between 200,000 and a million feet.

The death is reported at Dawson Settlement, of Leah Jones, an old resident of that place. Her death occurred last night. He had been ill with cancer for over a year.

Mrs. W. B. Dixon and her daughter, Miss Helen Greene, of Riverview, are visiting in St. John.

The following officers of Golden Rule Society, No. 51, S. O. T., have been elected: W. M. Thayer, W. P. M. Thayer, Russell, W. A., Mary Archibald, R. S., Henry Dunlop, A. R. S., C. D. Mr. Donald Bennett and Miss Evelyn Bennett, of Hopewell Cape, visited St. John this week.

MONCTON

Moncton, N. B., April 1.—Yesterday afternoon Roy Hopper, the sixteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hopper of Rhediac Road, near this city, was fatally shot in the left side by a companion with a loaded revolver at the residence of his uncle, Day Hopper, at Little River, near Salisbury. The boy was at one hour in Salisbury, where medical aid was summoned. It was then decided to bring him to the Moncton Hospital to remove the bullet.

Dr. Jones, of Salisbury, arrived here with him this morning about two o'clock and had performed an operation to remove the bullet. The bullet had been completely removed, but the boy's condition was not so good. The boy's condition was not so good. The boy's condition was not so good.

The father of the boy said this morning that he was at a quarrel with a man named Roy and a cousin, Alvin Hopper, aged nineteen, went to a sugar camp at Little River, taking with them a revolver to shoot muskrats. Alvin, it is said, was at a quarrel with Roy. He tried to shoot again, but the revolver would not go off, and while trying to get the hammer to work the revolver was discharged, the bullet entering into his companion's side. At present there is a row which took place in the Balkan restaurant in Main street, about midnight. George Condes, proprietor of a Greek eatery, was stabbed in the right forearm. The wound was taken immediately after the stabbing. The wound, which was inflicted by a carving knife, is about four inches long and a quarter deep, commencing at the wrist and running up the forearm. The man was injured while trying to stop a scamp which took place in the kitchen between John Anderson and his brother, local Greeks who were quarrelling over the delivery of some ice cream which had been ordered by the proprietor of the Balkan earlier in the evening.

The latest reports from hospital were that the patient was resting comfortably and would be about again soon.

FREDERICTON

Fredericton, April 1.—The ice in the river above Fredericton started this afternoon to run out with a rush. The heavy ice coming with great velocity, when it struck the highway bridge here, cut off the granite pier which supported the draw span and upset it, allowing the fragments to sink in the river. The draw span of the bridge fell to the floating ice which was such thickness as to support the span and the section of the bridge floated down the river until it was out of sight.

The section of the bridge carried away with the telephone cables. The communication between the opposite banks, and so now out of entirely. The section of the bridge which was carried away was built some five years ago and the cost of replacing it will be heavy.

The ice is running swiftly and is so solid in its formation that it is likely to cause additional serious damage along the banks.

A resident of Douglas is the city today reports a bad jam among the islands at Springhill as the worst in many years. The ice is very strong and with the river at such pitch is likely to do a lot of damage when it runs out.

The morning parts of the runs of two saw mills at Gibson were carried away. The water behind the dam at Springhill was backing up and is over the highway road. The customs receipts here for the fiscal year were $85,857, an increase of $28,839 over last year. The total imports were valued at $200,000. For the last quarter the receipts exceeded those of the corresponding quarter last year by $5,332. The duty collected last month was $8,200.

HOPEWELL HILL

Hopewell Hill, March 31.—C. E. Bishop, a young man of 21, of the village, was killed by a horse on Friday. The horse, which was standing for a few moments, when the horse was startled by the mill whistle, and started to run away. Running to catch the lines, the young man got over the side of the wagon and fell over his head, breaking both bones below the knee. Dr. Carr, who attended to the injury.

There was quite a bad runaway at Hopewell on Saturday. A horse belonging to Mr. O'Connor, of the King George Hotel, got frightened at a dog and, with carriage attached with no occupants, made a dash through the village. Narrowly escaping collision with the stone pier in front of the Bank of Nova Scotia, the animal ran over the embankment of the Sheppard Hotel, horse and carriage being piled up in heap. Fortunately the horse escaped injury, but the carriage was smashed.

The section was without mail on both days of Saturday. An account of mishaps of the Alberts family, and two days mail arrived on Sunday morning, being driven down from Moncton, where the train stopped on the way. The train was delayed on account of washouts by the storm of the previous night, but these were repaired so that the train made the run up to Salisbury at eight on Saturday. On the return trip, however, there was a landslide near Moncton about eight miles from Albert, about 6 o'clock, and after waiting nearly all night, mail was finally driven down to the city. The train left on Monday morning. Some of the passengers walked some distance and got driven down. The cars were still on today.

Edgar Wilson, of the village, returned yesterday from a trip to St. John. Donald MacChesney, who had been away all winter, returned home last week.

The test boring was done in a deepening concern, for whom the Wash Boring Company were working, are still on the ground.

The Alberts family, who have been hard hit by the storm, are again in the hospital. The doctor is again in running order, and the patient is again in the hospital.

Howard Stevens and bride returned to tonight's train for their wedding trip to Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Thad. Stevens, of the village, are the guests of Mr. Stevens' relatives here this week. Mr. Stevens leaves in a few days for Springfield, Kings County, for a visit to his father and mother, who are suffering from the effects of the storm.

Hopewell Hill, April 1.—The destruction caused by the recent rain and freshets, reported to have been very heavy in the river and along the coast, and in many places are practically ruined. A gentleman from Alma said today that it would take $2,000 to make good the damage in Alma alone. In one place, a quarter of a mile in length, the highway was completely torn to pieces.

A foot-bridge in one section, was carried out by the freshets, and cross-ways and lane bridges are being repaired.

At Alma, the water entered the mill, covering the floor, something that has not occurred before for sixteen years.

The C. T. White farm, at Pointe, Wolf River, has suffered from a large amount of logs going out to sea, and damage to mill plant by the freshets, the latter alone amounting to $1,000, it is estimated. It cannot be told just how many logs went adrift, as they went out during the night, but the amount is estimated at between 200,000 and a million feet.

The death is reported at Dawson Settlement, of Leah Jones, an old resident of that place. Her death occurred last night. He had been ill with cancer for over a year.

MONCTON

Moncton, N. B., April 1.—Yesterday afternoon Roy Hopper, the sixteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hopper of Rhediac Road, near this city, was fatally shot in the left side by a companion with a loaded revolver at the residence of his uncle, Day Hopper, at Little River, near Salisbury. The boy was at one hour in Salisbury, where medical aid was summoned. It was then decided to bring him to the Moncton Hospital to remove the bullet.

Dr. Jones, of Salisbury, arrived here with him this morning about two o'clock and had performed an operation to remove the bullet. The bullet had been completely removed, but the boy's condition was not so good. The boy's condition was not so good. The boy's condition was not so good.

The father of the boy said this morning that he was at a quarrel with a man named Roy and a cousin, Alvin Hopper, aged nineteen, went to a sugar camp at Little River, taking with them a revolver to shoot muskrats. Alvin, it is said, was at a quarrel with Roy. He tried to shoot again, but the revolver would not go off, and while trying to get the hammer to work the revolver was discharged, the bullet entering into his companion's side. At present there is a row which took place in the Balkan restaurant in Main street, about midnight. George Condes, proprietor of a Greek eatery, was stabbed in the right forearm. The wound was taken immediately after the stabbing. The wound, which was inflicted by a carving knife, is about four inches long and a quarter deep, commencing at the wrist and running up the forearm. The man was injured while trying to stop a scamp which took place in the kitchen between John Anderson and his brother, local Greeks who were quarrelling over the delivery of some ice cream which had been ordered by the proprietor of the Balkan earlier in the evening.

The latest reports from hospital were that the patient was resting comfortably and would be about again soon.

There were twenty-two deaths in Moncton during March as compared with elevation in March 1912. Seven deaths were caused by pneumonia. At present there are thirty-five houses in Moncton under quarantine for measles.

FREDERICTON

Fredericton, April 1.—The ice in the river above Fredericton started this afternoon to run out with a rush. The heavy ice coming with great velocity, when it struck the highway bridge here, cut off the granite pier which supported the draw span and upset it, allowing the fragments to sink in the river. The draw span of the bridge fell to the floating ice which was such thickness as to support the span and the section of the bridge floated down the river until it was out of sight.

The section of the bridge carried away with the telephone cables. The communication between the opposite banks, and so now out of entirely. The section of the bridge which was carried away was built some five years ago and the cost of replacing it will be heavy.

The ice is running swiftly and is so solid in its formation that it is likely to cause additional serious damage along the banks.
