

women voluntary workers planting potatoes; and No. 4, taken in July, shows the fine crop. The idea of tractors on the farm is well known in the Canadian wheat farms of the West. Here is a striking example of its applicability to the rougher soil and more difficult conditions of the East and the Maritime Provinces.

