Urban Store

For many years we have done business for others, but now we are doing business for ourselves and doing it right beside. We claim the distinction of doing a nicer business than ever done for others before. Some people may think our prices are high because our goods are dainty and up-to-date, but such is not the case. Here we give you an idea of what we carry :-

the return of this slip to Chester Bowersox, care or the steamer Angeline, Marine Postoffice, Detroif, or Oak Harbor, Ohio."

The above was found written on a slip of paper extracted from a bottile found on the shore of Lake St. Clair, three miles north of the River Thames, on Oct. 29th, 1903. Jos. Thomas, Williams P. O., found the bottle containing the slip of paper and has handed the message from the deep over to his legal advisor to have him collect the money. Joe expects to purchase a preserve on the shore of Lake St. Clair with the proceeds of his lucky find.

On the back of the slip is the following: "State where found, Oct. 23, 1903, St. Clair flatis."

Joseph Thomas is a farmer in Raleigh and found the bottle while he was staying at the Owi Club.

Chairman Mounteer, of the Board of Works, has been in telephone communication with President Van Vleck of the Dominion Paving Co., and the latter stated that they would be at work again Monday. Mr. Kanna. Supt. of construction, went home ill and the company thought that the men were not making satisfactory progress without him, so laid the men off. Mr. Van Vleck will be in the city Monday. He assures Mr. Mounteer that the bricks will commence to arrive in about 10 days at the rate of 10 carloads a day, and the work will be speedily pushed to completion and the people on Wellington St. and Third St. may look to have their streets finished this fall.

TURNER TELLS HOW CANADA LOST TWO ISLANDS.

Vancouver - 'London Outlook's Sharp Attack on Lord Alverator George Turner of the State of Washington and Senator Henry C. Lodge of Massachusetts, two of the United States representatives on the Alaska tribunal, arrived yesterday Mr. Turner was not willing to discuss how the agreement came to be reached, but it was admitted that the decision giving two of the islands in the Portland Canal to the United States was based on Vancouver's nar-States was based on Vancouver's narrative of his voyage of exploration. The question hinged on whether ne had called the water to the south of the islands the channel, or whether he had gone to the north of them. It was found that he recorded having gone from the entrance to a point of land above the islands in a certain time. To do this it was figured that he entered the broad channel, followed it up and turned in between the four islands. This led the commissioners to decide that the two islands lying near the mouth of the canal and opposite Port Simpson belong to the United States.

Mr. Turner, while he was not willing

United States.

Mr. Turner, while he was not willing to discuss in detail the subject, admitted that this was true. Speaking of these two islands, Mr. Turner said: "The islands he opposite Port Simpson. The channel is two and a half miles wide between the port and the islands. They are of very little value to us, except from a strategical standpoint. I believe that the new transcontinental railroad which is to be built north of the Canadian Pacific will have Port Simpson for its Pacific ter-was reached."

To further questions concerning the decision, he said:—"I do not care to go into the subject, nor do I want to appear in the position of summing up the advantages the decision will give us over Canada. I am, however, of the opinion that the decision was most just and honorable. I regard it as fortunate that the commission was able to agree. I consider this a step forward in the settlement of all future disputes. They can be settled in an amicable manner."

Senator Lodge said that the members of the tribunal had been very handsomely treated while in London, but as one of the arbitrators he could not even venture to say that he was satisfied with the award and declined to say anything about the attitude of the Canadian commissioners in relusing to sign the award.

Joseph Pope, representative of the Canadian Government, and one of the assistant secretaries of the tribunal, said that the award was, of course, a disappointment from the Canadian point of view, but he offered no further comment, appearing anxious, however, to ascertain how the decision had been received in Canada. He and Mrs. Pope left immediately for Ottawa.

London, Oct. 31.—The Outlook in an article entitled "Empire Breaking" will say:—Lord Alverstone is content to receive the plaudits of the Peace Society and of every spokesman who speaks for magnanimity, knowing full well that as long as the accusation remains unrebutted he wins foreign applause at the expense of the first of the King's colonies. It is easy to be magnanimous with someone else's property, and Lord Alverstone's silence compels the Canadians to believe that that is exactly what he has been doing. Tromone solo—Roger Philp.
