SUCCESSOR.

ARCHBISHOP CORRIGAN'S

SATURDAY, MAY 81, 1902.

Thursday, May 22, by a unanimous rote of the irremovable rectors and consultors of the archdiocese of New York named the Right Rev. John M. Farley as their first choice to suced the late Archbishop Corrigan.

That the diocese was for Bishon Farley and that the priests would head their list with his name has een known since a day or two after the death of Archbishop Corrigan. As the Church wishes to dispel idea that there is competition or rivalry for these ecclesiastical honors, every priest in attendance at the meeting was pledge to secrecy. The only information volunteered was that the action of the priests was

The meeting was held in the See house at Madison Avenue and Fiftieth street. The venerabl Bishop Mc-Quaid of Rochester presided, by virtue of his rank as the senior Bishop of the province. He did not have the right to vote. Bishop Farley, who was entitled to a vote as the irremovable rector of St. Gabriel's Church, did not exercise it, was not in attendance at the sesion. Early in the afternoon, when the result of the meeting was known, Bishop Farley went to Mount St. Vincent's at Riverside.

A little after 11 o'clock Bishop McQuaid opened the meeting with a brief prayer. At 12.30 o'clock the priests began to depart. All had come with their minds settled as to their first, second and third choices, and it only remained to make three formal ballots to determine the rec-The six consultors of the diocese are each entitled to a vote, but it happens that all are irremovable rectors except the Rev. James J. Flood. He was the only priest to vote as a consultor. Vicar-General Mooney, who was named as the third choice of the priests, is the irremovable rector of the Church of the Sacred Heart. The priests present and voting were these :

Fathers John Edwards, Church of the Immaculate Conception; P. E. McSweeney, St. Bridget's; Denis J. McMahon, Church of the Epiphany; Charles F. McCready, Holy Cross; Michael C. O'Farrell, Holy cents: James B. Curry, St. James'; Dennis P. O'Flynn, St. Joseph's Anthony Lammel, St. Joseph's (German); Michael J. Hughes, St. Mary's; John F. Kearney, St. Patrick's Pro-Cathedral; Charles H. Colton, Stephen's; James T. McEntyre St. Teresa's; Michael Sally, St. Patrick's, Newburg; James Nilan, St. Peter's, Poughkeepsie; Richard L. Burtsell, St. Mary's, Rondout, and Charles R. Corley, Yonkers; Consultor, James J. Flood.

Voting was by ballot. After the unanimous vote for Bishop Farley as dignissimus had been recorded, a bal-Mgr lot was taken which chose Mooney as dignior. Dr. McMahon was the choice for dignus. If any other names were voted on for dignior or dignus, that fact could not be learned.

Next in popularity to Bishop Farley among the priests of the diocese Vicar-General Mooney, who is third on the list. It was said by priests who attended the meeting, that if the Pope should name Bishop Farley for Archbishop it was more than likely that Vicar-General Mooney would be made Auxiliary Bishop of New York.

An official report of the priests' vote will be forwarded to the bishops of the province, who will meet in New York in the week beginning June 3. Bishop McQuaid will convene the meeting of the bishops and will preside. A day will be set which will enable the bishops to attend the Month's Mind Mass for Archbishop Corrigan.

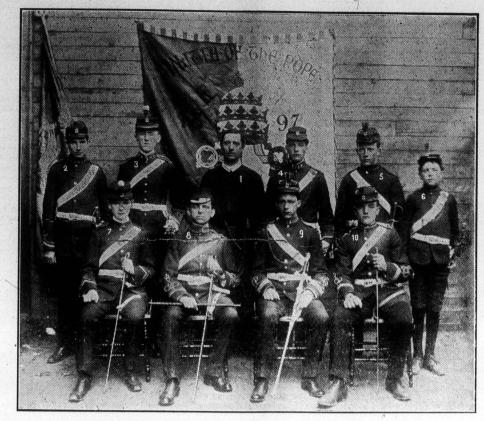

The bishops may approve the list made by the priests or may submit an amended list in their report to Rome. They may select three entirely different men if they wish. When the Pope has studied the lists they will sent to the Archbishops of the United States, who will be asked for their opinions of the candidates. On receiving their report the Pope will make the appointment.-Sunday Democrat, New York.

Papal Jubilee.

On April 28, the delegates of twenty-nine of the most important Catholic associations in Germany who had journeyed to Rome to pay their homage to the Holy Father, were received by His Holiness in solemn audience. Prince Karl von Lowenstein, the organizer and head of the 'pilgrimage read a beautiful Latin address from which we translate the following significant passage: "Alas! fresh storms arise on all sides, new snares are laid and new dangers not only the implacable enemies of the Catholic name are fiercely assaulting the Church, its institutions the approved path of Catholic tradition, creating discord in the ranks the Holy See and love and devotion of Catholics and preventing unity of the Holy See and love and devotion of Catholics and preventing unity of the Roman of Part I will be a love and devotion of Catholics and preventing unity of the Roman of Part I will be a love and devotion of Catholics and preventing unity of the Roman of Part I will be a love and devotion of Catholics and preventing unity of the Roman of Part I will be a love and devotion of Catholic tradiof Catholics and preventing unity of to the person of Pope Leo.

PROSECUTIONS IN CO. CORK .-On May 15 before Messrs. Dickson and Turner, R.M.'s, Mr. Thomas Nash, Secretary, United Irish League Kildorrery, was charged with having conspired to boycott certain persons in connection with the taking of evicted farms in the district.

The magistrates ordered that the defendant, Thomas Nash, should be imprisoned for four months, with hard labor, in Cork County Jail.

Notice of appeal against the sentence was given.

LAND WAR IN THE WEST .- For some time past negotiations for a satisfactory settlement on the Murphy estate have been pending. Quinn, the agent on the estate, notified his intention of holding a rent office in Ballaghaderreen on the 9th The Very Rev. Canon White, P.P., and the Rev. J. O'Connor, Adm., met him on behalf of the tenants. Mr. Quinn visited Frenchpark, when he was waited upon by Canon White on behalf of his parishioners in Lisnacull, Mr. P. J. Clarke, D.C., and Mr. Michael Egan, D.C., representing the Mullin tenants. The agent's final answer was that came to receive the full rent and full costs, and that he would give no abatement whatever.

The tenants heard of the result with the utmost equanimity, and immediately afterwards held a meeting, at which it was resolved-

"That, inasmuch as the landlord is etermined to exact the full rent, we are determiced to hold out until our demands are acceded to."

Household Notes.

A WARNING NOTE. - With the fruit season at hand, the caution of physicians in its use is again pertinent. One diet specialist says :-The poorest time to eat fruit is at the conclusion of a hearty dinner, at which a variety of cod has already been consumed." This applies to raw fruit; cooked fruit may be eaten atany time, and much digestive disor-der could be averted, he adds, if this distinction were observed. Fruit is wholesome, according to the same authority, only when it is in proper condition, ripe and fresh. Its deserved good reputation has been much impaired by the influx in our markets of half-ripe and stale fruit, which is about the most unwholesome food that can be eaten. In general, fruit is less wholesome when eaten out of its natural season. Eat acid fruits in the morning just before breakfast. taking with them a little bread and butter if the plain fruit is not acceptable.

"MIST PUDDING" is the some-what fanciful name Mrs. Lincoln gives to a delicate hot-weather dessert. Steep the thin shavings of rind of half a lemon in one pint of water. Mix one cup of sugar, one-half saltspoon of salt, and three rounded tablespoons of cornstarch, and pour on them two cups of the strained, boiling lemon water. Cook in a double boiler ten minutes, suirring constantly. Add the juice of one lemon and then stir in quickly the stiffly beaten whites of eggs. Mix well and turn into small cups or moulds. Make a soft custard with the yolks of three eggs, a pivt of milk, three tablespoons of sugar, and a pinch of salt. Cook in a acuble boiler till smooth. Strain, and when cool, flavor with vanilla. When ready to serve turn out the little puddings on individual dishes with the sauce around each.

WHILE STRAWBERRIES still fall short of their June perfection, try using them in a strawberry flummery. One quart of the fruit should serve six persons. Hull the berries and cut each in half. Cook to a syrup one pint of water, one cupful of sugar, and one tablespoonful of lemon juice. As soon as this boils add three level tablespoonfuls of cornstarch dissolved in one-half of a cupful of cold water and stir until thick and smooth. Add the berries, set over boiling water, and cook ten minutes. Turn into a glass dish and serve very cold with cream.
