AMUNITION DUMPS BOMBED

Undertaking is Both Difficult and Dangerous for Airmen

Behind British Lines in France, Aug. 23.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The British aviation communiqué frequently contains a brief line to record that "direct hits were obtained upon an enemy dump at" some point behind the German lines. This colorless announcement may seem to the reader in America nothing more than the record of a dull piece of routine, but the deed itself is different from its record.

American airmen attached to the British squadrons have long since found out that the business of bombing "dumps" often is exciting and spectacular work. Moreover, the importance of its effect upon enemy plans and operations can hardly be exaggerated. A well aimed hit on a store of German ammunition may destroy the work of many months in the munition factories, and cripple numerous batteries for many long days.

A British airman, Lieut. W. A. Barnes, has given the Associated Press the following account of a recent 58 minute raid on a German dump as characteristic of this form of activity.

"On this particular night there was not enough moonlight for a long raid, so the target given us was a German ammunition dump. We welcomed the change, for, naturally, the strain of long distance raids into Germany, night after night, becomes a bit wearing. Dumps are, of course, situated as near as possible to the firing line, and so mean short raids.

"Dumps are by no means easy targets to find at night, for they are seldom situated near any definite landmarks, and are usually well camouflaged. By the study of maps and photographs, however, we had pretty well located the position of this one, and started out on the raid with high hopes of success.

"We flew almost due east from the aerodrome. At the end of the fifty minutes we could just make out the outline of sheds. This was good but we let out a parachute flare to light up the ground, and make sure we were over the target. This promptly dispelled all doubts, for the Hun searchlights opened up at once, and a hail of machine gun bullets leaped up from the ground. Anti-aircraft guns had been firing for some time, but the shells were bursting well above us, and giving no trouble.

"The parachute flare proved a real friend, because both searchlights and machine guns concentrated upon it, giving us just sufficient time to dive swiftly, release our bombs, switch on the engine and start climbing.

"When we turned to observe results, we witnessed the finest fireworks display I ever saw. Ammunition was cracking off at record speed dense clouds of smoke were rising, and highly colored flames were leaping a hundred feet and more from the ground.

"We watched this pleasing exhibition for some minutes, until the cough of an 'Archie' burst near by to remind us that we were still over Hun land, and so turned and steered for home.

"The whole job occupied exactly 58 minutes; but it must have cost Germany hundreds of man-power hours in munition works, there was still some fire; there at noon next day—and saved our French allies a good many casualties, for, as it happens, that big dump we learned, was to serve a bit of front facing French troops."

HARRIS H. BLIGH CALLED BY DEATH

Was For Twenty-Six Years Librarian of the Supreme Court of Canada

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—The death took place yesterday at his residence, 427 Gilmour street, after a brief illness of Harris Harding Bligh, K.C., an eminent barrister and publisher of many legal authorities. He was 76 years of age and occupied the office of librarian of the Supreme Court of Canada, to which he was appointed in 1892.

Born in Cornwallis, N.S., in 1842, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Bligh, he received his education at Acadia College, received his B.A. in 1864, was made a M.A. three years later, and in 1897 received his D.C.L. He was called to the bar in 1868 and practiced successfully at Halifax in partnership successively with Honorable James (afterwards Chief Justice) MacDonald, the late W. A. Johnston, and the present Judge Longley. He was made a king's counsel in 1886. He published many noted legal works, among others the consolidated orders-in-Council of Canada, 1889, and was one of the compilers of the Dominion law index 1890 and 1898. He was a past president of the Ottawa Literary and Scientific Society, was formerly a senator of Acadia College and at the time of his death a senator of McMaster University. A Baptist in religion, he attended the First Baptist Church, of which he was a deacon. Besides his widow he is survived by one nephew, Mr. Fred Bligh. The funeral arrangements are not yet completed.

BAKER FAVORS WORLD'S SERIES

Soldiers Interested in the Result, Says Secretary of War

SHOULD BE PLAYED No Details, Though, Until a Formal Ruling is Made by Washington

Washington, Aug. 22.—When asked to-day whether the work-order would interfere with the world's baseball series this year, Secretary of War Baker said the question had not come before him, but indicated his strong opinion that the series would be and should be played.

Since only two teams would take part, the Secretary thought the number of men affected by the work-order would be very small, and, moreover, he added, the soldiers in France are intensely interested in the result.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—President Dan D. Johnson of the American League said to-night that the National Baseball Commission at its meeting in Cincinnati Tuesday sent a communication to Secretary Baker asking his approval of the world's series.

"Without the sanction of the War Department the American League would not have turned a wheel toward the series," President Johnson said. "I am immensely pleased that Secretary Baker is in favor of the same."

The details for the series will be announced as soon as a formal ruling by Secretary Baker is made. There is a possibility that a percentage of the receipts will be given over to war charities, although this question has not been settled. The National Commission also is considering cable detailed stories of the games to the American and Canadian forces overseas.

Tired Nervous Mothers
Should Profit by the Experience of These Two Women

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I am the mother of four children, and for nearly three years I suffered from a female trouble with pains in my back and side, and a general weakness. I had professional attendance most of that time but did not seem to get well. As a last resort I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which I had seen advertised in the newspapers, and in two weeks noticed a marked improvement. I continued its use and am now free from pain and able to do all my household work."—Mrs. B. B. ZILLESKA, 202 Wales Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Portland, Ind.—"I had a displacement and suffered so badly from it at times I could not be on my feet at all. I was all run down and so weak I could not do my housework, was nervous and could not lie down at night. I took treatments from a physician but they did not help me. My Aunt recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tried it and now I am strong and well again and do my own work and I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound the credit."—Mrs. JOSEPHINE GANNA, 608 West Race Street, Portland, Ind.
