A FIRE DEPARTMENT

Might be perfect, yet helpless in the face of certain circumstances. It does not pay to depend upon a fire department when insurance costs so little.

Many persons economize by carrying their property but about half insured. Why run such risk? If a property is worth insuring at all, it is worth protecting to a conservative limit of its value.

In our insurance department we represent a line of strong, old companies. We write our own policies.

NEW METHODIST CHURCH DEDICATED

Splendid New Edifice Formally Opened for Worship on Sunday--The Rev. Dr. Sparling's Warning Words--Successful Dinner on Monday

"May God save you people from the day when some of you will think that you are too well clad, too rich, too 'big' to sit beside the poorest person in this congregation."

The above was one of the forcible sentences in the dedicatory sermon preached in the Metropolitan Methodist church on Sunday last by Dr. Sparling of Winnipeg. As the Rev. doctor looked about him and noted the beautiful church building, the large well-dressed audience and thought for a moment of the industrial growth of the city and attendant progress of Methodism in Regina he felt that the true spirit of unity which had made such religious growth possible in a quarter of a century must continue and the acquirement of more wealth and a better church must not in the slightest degree affect that spirit of meekness taught by their Lord and Master.

REV. C. W. BROWN
Pastor of New Methodist Church

Presenting Keys

The new church was crowded to the doors when F. N. Darke on behalf of the board of trustees, in presenting the keys of the building to the pastor said:

"We present unto you this building, to be dedicated as a church for the worship and service of Almighty God."

The trustees present were: J. W. Smith, F. N. Darke, J. A. Graham, W. E. Mason, D. J. Thom, George Mollard, William Hindson, T. W. Peart, G. W. Brown, J. F. Bole, J. A. Cross, I. P. Metrick and W. O. Lott.

A. D. Wright and J. C. Fields two members of the trustee board were absent.

Ministers

The ministers in attendance were:

the Rev. C. W. Brown (pastor), Dr. Sparling (Grace Church, Winnipeg), E. A. Chown (Toronto), Samuel Wilkinson (Virden), and J. W. Atkins (Rae Street).

The handsome new organ was presided at by J. Edward Fisher, permanent organist. The choir appeared robed in black surplices. Officiating in the reading of the scriptures were Rev. Dr. Sparling and Rev. E. A. Chown. Mrs. Sharon sang very nicely during the anthem. Dr. Sparling offered the dedicatory prayer and Rev. J. W. Atkins announced the benediction.

Afternoon

At Sunday school service there were nearly five hundred present. The superintendent, W. Hipsdon gave an opening address, being followed by J. A. Cross, C. G. Knight, and Rev. S. Wilkinson. Miss McAra sang a solo. The music was furnished by Mr. Hastings's orchestra.

Church Review

In the early days when Regina was under canvas, Methodism was established in the community and after twenty-five years it has kept pace with the growth of the city till today the Methodist body has in the new Metropolitan church one of the finest edifices in the capital. The surviving members who first signed the Methodist church roll in Regina tell of the pioneer struggles. Rev. J. W. Hewitt a travelling minister arrived here in advance of the C.P.R. with a gospel tent accompanied by his daughter. Under this little canopy the seeds of Methodism were first sown and very soon the tent would not accommodate the people and larger quarters were obtained from J. A. Gowanslock, who kept a restaurant, but who was later killed in the '83 rebellion. When the summer months had passed the services were kept up in the home of D. S. McCannel. The first little church was built the following summer behind the present police station site in Stanley park. Later the church was moved to the rear of the premises which Wadell & Pody now occupy. Owing to the mud and inconvenience of the location the building was moved in 1886 to Scarth street where it is now used by F. Crapper. The pulpit from the old church is still in use in the Hamilton church. The work on the Hamilton street church commenced under Rev. G. Daniels in 1899. This building witnessed a wonderful growth of Methodism here and it had ceased to afford the necessary accommodation before the new Metropolitan church was built last year. The first Metho-

Mr. Turgeon is put up to mollify the Catholics and it is already said that there will be no test case now respecting the legislation of the last session. The Catholics have confidence that they will get a fair deal from their standpoint from Mr. Turgeon when the interpretation of the school law is left to him. What they lose one way they will make up in other ways.

WHEAT CROP IS GOOD

Mat Snow Talks on Crop Conditions in Saskatchewan--Perhaps a New Grade

The wheat in the Regina district will be superior to many other places in the province and there will be a lot of northern marketed here and at the neighboring towns.

This is the information given the West by Mat Snow, assistant warehouse commissioner, who made a trip through the wheat fields in this district on Friday and Saturday last. He of course saw some poor stuff, but he also sampled considerable good grain and he thinks that the damage is not so bad as reported.

Mr. Snow's information is that if the grades are changed a No. 5 will be added which will include much of the wheat that according to the present standard would go "feed."

There is, however, a lot of poor crops down the Arcola line but on the north branch and on the main line west things are very much better than expected, so that the whole district will average fairly good.

PRINCE ALBERT OPEN

Turgeon Succeeds Lamont and Will Contest Seat in Northern City--Who is Boss

After Hon. J. H. Lamont was called to the bench the government took immediate steps to open the Prince Albert seat and on Monday A. Turgeon a former law partner of the late attorney general was sworn in as successor to Mr. Lamont. For a few days previous to the appointment of Mr. Turgeon things were lively around the city with senators running about as if the whole country was in a state of chaos. It really appeared as if Senator Ross were the premier, as several hurried conferences were held with him, one being Sunday evening at which both Mr. Scott and Mr. Lamont were present.

Not satisfied to take a purely local view of the situation at Prince Albert, Mr. Calder, who went up north Friday last, arranged for the day of election to fall on Saturday the day on which Mr. Borden opens his tour in this province. The trick attempted is of course to spoil the federal meeting as the interest of the day will detract from the evening function. There are very few men in the Liberal party small enough to do anything like this, and it is easy enough to spot them in the minds of the people whether Mr. Calder's dirty little scheme will work.

There is general doubt in the minds of the people whether Mr. Calder's dirty little scheme will work. As to the Prince Albert election there is not much to be said regarding the Liberal choice except that
