session of the height of Le Morte Homme to the west of the Meuse, in which they were defeated on Tuesday. To-day's effort achieved even less success than that which preceded it and the Germans, failing to secure a foothold anywhere in the French linos, were forced to fall back to the Pors des Corbeaux.

No sooner had they begun their re-treat than the French artillery opened a concentrated fire upon them, caus-ing serious losses in their ranks.

was the only offensive attempted by the Germans in this sector to-day, although on the right bank of the river the artillery of both sides greatly increased its activity in the regions of Douaumont and Vaux. Gorman troops in movement in this region were brought under the French fire on several occasions, suggesting that these troops may have been in-tended for some infantry action which was blocked by the effectiveness of the French guns. Both artilleries contirued the cannonading on the slopes between the Woevre plain and the latights of the Meuse.

Last night the French artillery gavo particular attention to the district west of Douanmont, where the Germans were building defence works.

The French bombardment of Ger-man positions in the region of Nicuport, Belglum, yesterday, resulted, according to reports of French patrols, in completely destroying the German communicating trenches about La Plage, and a number of enemy fatalities.

Mort Homme (Dead Man's Hill). The as-scutting masses, which came on like waves, were not able to gain footing at any point and were forced back in the direction of the Bois des Corbeaux, where our concentrated fire, let locse immediately, inflicted heavy losses on them.

"On the right bank of the Meuse the activity of the artillery redoubled to the east and west of Douaumont, as well as around the village of Vaux. No infantry attack was carried out, however. London Cable-I have just return d from a short trip to the leastern front in France, toward Verdun, and from a visit to the first line trenches at another part of the line. The French are well prepared and officers and men are all cheerful and confident of success.

French artillery officers whom met on the train from Bar-le-Duc to Paris on Sunday tota me that the German fire had been slackening for three days, with an occasional heavy rain of shells at sundown. To prevent reserves being moved up, the Germans, they said, were wasting an enormous number of enelis from their 5.9-inch guns on a curtain of firc which was really spraying the ground rotween the first and second lines of the French forces. A major, said that his battery was shelled at the rate of six shots per minute for twenty-four hours, while battleplanes operated overhead, directing the gunfire and unsuccessfully dropping bombs. Ger-man aeroplanes also trieu to drop bombs on a bridge leading to Verdun, to cut the French line of communi-cation. The French anti-craft guns cation. The French anti-craft guns failed to hit the battleplanes, but suc-ceeded in bringing down one Zeppelin ceeded in bringing over on March 8 while it was flying over Verdun. After having shelled his battery for twenty-four hours, the major said, the Germans tried to take his guns by assault. As they came on in close for-mation the "seventy-fives" mowed, them down in hundreds. At one point there was a small gully in which the German dead were piled twenty-five feet high through the assailants trying again and again to advance over the bodies of their comrades. From the bodies of their comrades. From the opening of the bombardment until the cessation of the infantry assaults, a period of thirty-six hours, the of-ficers and men of the main battery on a hill outside Verdun had neither food nor water. This officer said he believ-ed that the critical stage of the battle had passed.

AMBULANCE WORK.

Walter Stanley, an English ambu-lance driver attached to the French Red Cross, returned yesterday after working sixteen days rushing the wounded from Verdun to Bar-le-Duc. When this bombardment began the French wounded were placed in bar racks at Verdun, which had been converted into a hospital. There was also small hospital with 125 beds near the main battery on the south side of the city. In: de of three hours the latter was filled, while more than 500 were lying on stretchers outside. When the Germans began shelling the town wounded had to be removed from the hospital. As there were not en-cugh French motor ambulances to do the work, forty were rushed to Verdun from the British Red Ottawa Report.— The Senate to-day created a precedent in divorce legislation by granting annulment of the marriage of Mabel Mills, of Tor-onto to her husband, Edward B, Mills, on the ground of non-consummation of the marriage. Hitherto the only ground considered by the Senate as sufficient for the granting of divorce has been the ground of adultery. The Senate to-day granted the divorce in question, and admitted the constitu-tionality of the plea submitted by the counsel for the petitioner, Mr. Alex. Smith, barrister, of Ottawa. The mar-riage took place some thirteen years ago.

Austro-Italian Front Sees Hand-to-Hand Struggle,

With the Ally Power Gaining the Advantage.

London Cable says-Desperate attacks on the Austrian lines along the Isonzo are being continued by the Italians in their determined offensive in that region, according to the Austrian headquarters statement. On the Podgora heights the Italians were only driven back from the Austrian positions by bitter hand-to-hand fighting.

The Italian statement claims that some of these positions were captured, and states that there has been fierce and states that there has been herce fighting on the Carso for the posses-sion of the positions captured by the Italians Tuesday in the san Martino zone. After severe artillery prepara-tions the Austrians launched two strong attacks, and succeeded in reach-ing the brink of the new Italian trenches, but were on each occasion vigorously repulsed, leaving the ground covered with dead. Austrian artillery subsequently endeavored to force the evacuation of the trencaes by the Italians, but the latter were enabled to hold the positions.

ITALIAN REPORT.

Rome Cable—The official state-nent from general headquarters ment says

"Artillery duels and minor infantry actions have resulted successfully for us in Lagarona valley on Astico Heights and in the Sugana valley. A thick fog yesterday impeded artillery activity on the Isonzo heights, but the irring was more intense on the hills to the west of Gorizia.

"There has been fierce fighting on the Carso for the possession of the position we captured Tuesday in the San Martino zone. After severe artillery and musketry preparation, the enemy launched two strong attacks and succeeded in reaching the brink of our new trenches, but was on each occasion vigorously repulsed, leaving the ground covered with dead.

"In the morning the enemy artil-ery renewed the attack, maintaining it with increasing violence until night, but the firmness of our infantry and the constant and effective support of our batteries enabled us to hold our positions.

"Along the rest of the front our detachments continued their attacks, wrecking the enemy's trenches with tachments grenades in various places, inflicting lesses and causing explosions.'

can be drawn from the resignation of Admiral von Tirpitz, which was foresnadowed a few days ago by the re-ports of his illness. The conclusion is said to be strengthened by the fact that Admiral von Capelle has been chosen as the new Minister. He is known merely as an excellent admin istrative officer, not having had ship command in the last twenty-five years. During this period he has been at the admiralty, first as an advisor, then in the budget departments, and finally he head of the administrative department. He was looked on as the right hand man of Admiral von Tirpitz un-til his retirement in last November. The Tages Zeitung, which has been one of the strongest supporters of Admiral von Tirpitz, says that it is 'shaken by the news of the Admiral's resignation, and does not at present feel itself in a condition to make a omment thereon."

The Morgan Post says:

There will be universal regret that circumstances made the retirement of the Grand Admiral necessary. The reasons for this, and the inner relations of affairs with one another, can-not now be discussed, but it will be regretted that there was no other way out.'

BACKING DOWN

A Berlin Cable says-For the first time since the outbreak of the war all is not harmony among the various representations in the Reichstag. When the German Parliamentary body reconvened yesterday it became at once evident that the Socialists, heretofore the only party from which trouble was expected, and usually came, are not the only dissenters, but that there is a strong under-current of opposition to the Government even among the National Liberals and Conservatives, hitherto its most loyal supporters.

Berlin's political atmosphere is today fraught with ominous tension. Many Recenstag Cologates who thus The proved the Government's c-if memorandum and no phars, are now openly intreatening intra-received situation, the Govern-precedented situation, the Govern-the lid off the discussion of the Govrmacents foreign policy, and through the medium of a speech by Foreign Minister Jagow, reviewing and ex-Allineter Jagow, revenue and ex-plaining this poley, to invite an open debate.
