What You Swallow?

There is a growing sentiment in this country in favor of medicines of known composition. It is but natural that one should have some interest in the composition of that which he or she is expected to swallow, whether it be food, drink or medicine.

Recognizing this growing disposition on the part of the public, and satisfied that the fullest publicity can only add to the well-earned reputation of his medicines, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has "taken time by the forelock," as it were, and is publishing broadcast a list of all the ingredients entering into his leading medicines, the "Golden Medical Discovery" the popular liver invigorator, stomach tonic, blood purifier and hear regulator; also of his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, over-worked, brokendown, nervous and invalid women.

This bold and out spoken movement on the part of Dr. Pierce, has, by showing exactly what his well-known medicines are composed of, completely disarmed all harping critics who have heretofore unjustly attacked them. A little pamphle has been compiled, from the standard medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, showing the strongest endorsements by leading medical writers of the several ingredients which enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines. A copy of this little book is mailed free to any one desiring to learn more concerning the valuable, native, medicinal plants which enter into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

For the economical reorganization of the regular army, Mr. Haldane maintains it is essential that there should be behind it some power of expansion for great emergencies. He looks, in the first place, to an improved militia, with clearly defined functions, standing on its own basis, and not "bled white" to provide recruits and drafts for the army. Good Common Law. Good Common Law.

One of the absurdities of the law was strikingly illustrated at Shrewsbury quarter sessions recently when a man was charged with stealing a quantity of lead from the veranda of an empty house. The lead, said the recorder, was attached to the verands corder, was attached to the verands and thereby became part of the freehold. As part of the freehold the lead was land in the eye of the law. Land could not be stolen, and therefore the prisoner could not be convicted of larceny. According to the recorder, the only remedy of the owner against a person taking lead from the roof of a building is to bring a civil action for damages. Truly the law is "a hass" if it was correctly laid down in this case—London Truth.

BASEBALL TUESDAY. Eastern League.

There are thousands of females all over our land who are broken down in health and dragging out a miserable existence, overburdened with diseases peculiar to their sex, apparently growing old while yet young. Often they have pale or sallow complexion, hollow, sunken eyes, with a lifeless look; the face has a pinched and haggard appearance; they are weak, weary and trembling, often extremely nervous, starting at every little noise. Many are low-spirited, and some are fretful. Some are apparently bloodless, with cold hands and feet, while others are flushed by an unequal circulation of the blood, dizziness, and sometimes dimness of vision, loas of memory, and often loss of appetite and sleep, and are wearied with terrible dreams. Palpitation of the heart, nervous prostration, smothering and sinking spells, shortness of breath and the sensation of pins and needles are all indications of a weakened condition of the heart or nervous system, and should any of them be present we would strongly advise the use of

To the Editor of The Planet:

Sir,—The editorial in Thursday's Planet in reference to the imported bank clerks, and the inferior penmanship charged against our school boys, reminded me of the drawbacks the Canadian school boy has to struggle through in trying to learn to write. It is over 50 years since Dr. Ryer-son reduced the school curriculum to something of a system of uniformity, in everything but penmanship, the weight with the school curriculum to some practical man connected with son reduced the school curriculum to something of a system of un formity, in everything but penmanship. An ordinary person would naturally think that in that period of time some practical man connected with our school system would have devised a business style of writing which the Educational Department would have deemed worthy to retain in our schools, at least, long enough for one generation of scholars to become grounded firmly enough in to know what he was doing with his pen.

But it seems as if that never is to be, When I was learning I commenced with strokes; from that I was advanced to pot hooks; after pot hooks I was set to making letters like the teeth of a buzz-saw; then came a change—instead of sharp points I was se

FROM HEADACHES

Headache is not in itself a disease, but a symptom or accompaniment of other diseases, principally those of the stomach, liver snd bowels, such as Constipation, Dyspepsia, Liver Trouble, Bad Blood, Female Complaints, General Debility and Weakness. Headache is common to both sexes, but more frequently affects females.

The varieties of headache most common are sick or bilious headache, nervous headache, headache from constipation, debility or indigestion, periodical and spasmodic headache. Undoubtedly the cause must be removed before permanent relief can be had.
