Taft's Indiscretion.

Special Evening Telegram.
LONDON, To-Day.
Tariff Reformers are stirred up by President Taft's Speech, at a dinner of newspaper men in New York, in the course of which he urged editors to advocate Canadian Reciprocity before the system of preferential tariff shall have bound the British Empire together. Mr. Griffiths, Unionist, questioned the Premier on the subject in the House of Commons. Mr. Griffiths wished Premier Asquith to instruct Ambassador Bryce to cable a verbatim report of the President's Speech and lay the same before the House. The Premier replied it was the first time his attention had been called to the matter and he requested the interrogator to place the question on the order paper in the ordinary way.

For Better Relations.

Special Evening Telegram.
LONDON, To-Day.
The Anglo-German Friendship Society was formally launched at a meeting at the Mansion House to-day. The object of the organization is to dissipate any ill-will or suspicion which may exist between the two nations. One speaker referred to the movement as a fitting compliment to the Anglo-American Peace meeting.

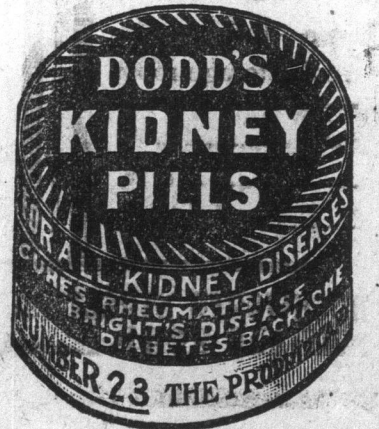

The Railway Service.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Sir,—I think it is about time that the Government took steps to secure something like regularity of the mail service over the lines of railway. The cross country mail service has gone from bad to worse since the present Government came into power, and the contractors seem to be running all trains as they please, regardless of schedule time. What is the Government Engineer about? Is he not supposed to look to this service, and see that the line and rolling stock is in such condition as will enable mails to be received and despatched on time? It is bad enough for business people to be inconvenienced in respect to mails and freight, but how much worse it must be for those who are also obliged to travel by railway.

Yours truly,
IMPORTER.
St. John's, May 2nd, 1911.

At Haymarket Store we are always up to date and "Excellor" flour is our leader. W. E. Burns, apr.21.101.

HERRING PLENTIFUL.—This morning herring were very plentiful at Portugal Cove and Broad Cove. Some of the fishermen secured as high as two barrels.

Annexation Talk.

Special to Evening Telegram.
WASHINGTON, To-day.
Speeches on the Farmers' Free List Bill again sounded the note of Canadian annexation. Mr. Madden, Illinois, said: "My hope is that if we can have closer commercial relation with the people of Canada, someday this relation may blend the two people into a harmonious whole and the territory lying north of us may become part of the States as it should be. I have always believed we should be one people under one flag and under one form of Government and it will be better for us all, when such a thing happens if it does."

The Canton Rising.

Special Evening Telegram.
HONG KONG, To-day.
The Viceroy of Canton, who took refuge on the gunboat after the place had been burned, has ordered troops to pursue the rebels. The authorities appear to be in control of Canton. The gates of the city are closed and no one is allowed to enter and suspects are being rounded up. Seven gunboats are anchored off the city.

Sale of Work.

A most successful sale of work was held at Burgeo on April 25 and 26th, under the auspices of the Church of England Women's Association, Burgeo. The President, Miss Montford, and her band of willing helpers spared nothing to make the event one of the most successful of its kind held in Burgeo. The receipts totalled $147, which will be used in beautifying the new church now in course of erection. It will be remembered how the church in the place was destroyed in the gale of December 1, 1909. Every effort is being made to raise a church to the glory of God and the welfare of the people. Two tables were heavily laden with articles and it is surprising how quickly they were disposed of. Teas and refreshments were provided and judging from the tables disposed of, it is evident the "inner man" needed much attention. The sale was held by kind permission of the L. O. A., in their large hall. BURGO.

McMurdo's Store News.

TUESDAY, May 2, 1911.
The question of fertilizers is a live one just now. We can answer that by offering a first class reliable compound fertilizer containing all the elements necessary to enrich the ground and make it bring forth more abundantly. These fertilizers are rich in Phosphates, Salts of Potassium and Ammonium, combined in such a way that their solution is gradual, thus supplying nourishment and stimulus to the land throughout a large part of the season. The skill with which these fertilizers are prepared goes far to account for the remarkable results obtained by their use. Price $2.50 a bag, containing 112 lbs.

THE EAGLE'S SEALS.—The St. S. Eagle began discharging yesterday. The old harp weighing 112 lbs. and the bedlams 70 lbs. It is expected that her catch will be 250 tons.

Government Conciliatory.

Special Evening Telegram.
LONDON, To-day.
In the House of Commons yesterday, Premier Asquith consented to the insertion of words in clause two of the Veto Bill, ensuring that the two years delay should be calculated from the date of the passing of the bill into the House of Commons and the House of Lords, thus practically adding three months to the power of delay of the House of Lords. Clause two of the Veto Bill relates to any bill other than money bills and provides if such a bill is passed by the House in three successive sessions and is rejected by the House in each of the three sessions, it shall become an Act of Parliament on the royal assent being given. The original clause, however, provided that this should not take effect unless two years had elapsed between the date of the first introduction of the bill into the House of Commons and the date on which it passed the House of Commons the third time. The bulk of the remaining amendments to the second clause have been eliminated by the Kangaroo clause, while other amendments have been rejected. The Government displayed a more conciliatory spirit than hitherto to the widest annoyance of some liberal members. The discussion was tranquil and apparently the committee stage will be concluded by the end of the week.

Maids of Honor.

Queen Mary once more has displayed evidence of her strong practical insight in the choice of her four maids of honor, the Hon. Sybil Brodrick, Venetia Baring, Mabel Gye, and Katherine Villiers. The Hon. Sybil Brodrick is the daughter of Viscount Middleton by his first marriage with Lady Hilda Charteris, daughter of the veteran Earl of Wemyss; her eldest sister is Lady Tweedmouth. She is a bright, sensible girl with ideas of her own about most things, and has travelled a good deal on the Continent.

Worst Case Of Eczema

Ours only came when doctors gave up and DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT was used.
Mrs. Wm. Miller, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "My daughter Mary, when six months old, contracted eczema and for three years the disease baffled all treatment. Her case was one of the worst that had ever come under my notice, and she apparently suffered what no pen could ever describe. I had three different doctors attend her all to no purpose. Finally I decided to try Dr. Chase's Ointment and to my surprise she immediately began to improve and was completely cured of that long standing disease. That was four years ago when we lived at Cornwall, Ont., and as not a symptom has shown itself since, the cure must be permanent." The record of cures which Dr. Chase's Ointment has to its credit have placed it alone as the standard cure for eczema and all forms of itching skin disease. Do not be satisfied with imitations or substitutes, 60 cents a box at all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Harbor Grace Notes.

Mrs. Ambrose Clarke met with a painful accident some three weeks ago by scalding her foot very much. Dr. Strapp had to be called on Saturday and under his skilful treatment it is hoped she will soon be all right again.

The wedding of Miss Minnie Tetford, daughter of Mr. Robert Tetford, and Mr. John Kennedy takes place on Wednesday, the 10th inst., at the Methodist Church.

In the case of Ambrose M. Young, of Heart's Content, who was up before the Supreme Court for embezzlement, the jury after three or four hours deliberation came into court with a verdict of not guilty. Much interest was taken in this case.

Mr. Victor Parsons went to St. John's on Friday evening on a business trip.

Among the visitors at the Cochrane House last week were:—Mr. W. C. Pearce, of the Board of Works Office, St. John's; Mr. S. A. Sellars, agent, St. John's; Mr. Geo. Moore, Heart's Content; and Mr. LeDrew, who has the contract for the new Public Building here.

Mrs. Williams, wife of Head Const. Williams, passed away this morning after a long illness in her 85th year. She leaves a husband, two sons to mourn her death. Our most sincere sympathy is offered to the sorrowing family.

The employees of the Union Wood Company are now rushing to fill orders. The wood work for the New Building will be turned out by this firm. Attention to orders and promptness is the secret of the success of the firm.

Messrs. Rutherford & Co. are discharging a small cargo of coal at their premises to-day, and other cargoes are expected shortly.

The Pleasure U Theatre is open each night now and is fairly well patronized. The pictures are good and well worth seeing.

There passed away here on Thursday, April 13th, another of our old inhabitants in the person of Mr. Solomon Clarke, of Stretton's Hill. Mr. Clarke was born at Crocker's Cove, Carbonear, 92 years ago, and went to the Labrador for 80 years. For 40 years he prosecuted the fishery at Spear Harbor, Labrador, and for ten winters he remained on the bleak coast prosecuting the sealfishery with nets, and was very successful. The price realised for the fat at that time was 28 shillings per cwt. Mr. Clarke was an industrious, hard-working fisherman, and so constantly did he go to the Labrador coast that he never saw a potato in blossom until he remained home on reaching his 80th year. Born in 1819, during his long life six Sovereigns occupied the British throne, namely, George III., George IV., William IV., Victoria, Edward VII. and George V. Mr. Clarke was a good boat builder, a ship's carpenter, and could also take a trick at sail making. He was attended during his illness by Rev. Fr. Finn, who administered the last sacrament to him a few hours before his death. One son, John, was lost with Capt. R. Joy in Rorke's Muriel some years ago. Two sons and two daughters are left to mourn the death of a good father—Ambrose, of this town (with whom the old gentleman lived for the past 12 years, and who and his good wife were ever ready to do all possible for his comfort), and Edward in the United States; of the daughters, Bridget, now Mrs. Hall resides at Sydney, and Jane, now Mrs. M. Ryan, of St. John's. Mr. Clarke was of the good old stock, and had many friends who will regret his death. At the time of Mr. Clarke's death the roads were blocked with snow, and Mr. Rogers of the Road Board sent a number of men and had the road shovelled, for which Mr. Ambrose Clarke wishes to thank him, and others who did acts of kindness during his bereavement. The funeral took place on the 15th when the remains were consigned to Mother Earth in the cemetery on the hill side.

Uncle Walt
THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

He was smooth as silk or satin when it came to speaking Latin, all the tongues of Asia Minor he with fluency could speak; he could talk a streak in German and in Gaelic without squirming, and he had the reputation of being a perfect conversationalist. He could talk with a gypsy in a tongue that sounded tipsy, he could hold a conversation with the Mongols and the Turks; he could talk to a shadow in the tongue of the Mikado, and with Russian and with Sanskrit he could jar your inner works. He could read the legend rummy on the ancient tomb and mummy, he could swear in modern Spanish, he could kick in Cherokee; he could talk the slang of Cadiz to his friends among the ladies—such a gift of tongues, was his'n that his like you'll seldom see. To America he traveled, and at last this man was graven; here he ran across a language that he never saw before; in the Daily Morning Glory he beheld a baseball story, and we found him shortly after having fits upon the floor.

Don't Stroke Those Whiskers.

On the outside of the wrapping of frozen dynamite feathery crystals "whiskers," and they are more "irritable" than dynamite itself. Even Frank Richardson would think twice before venturing to stroke them! So touchy are they that anybody treading heavily near them is sufficient to set them off by concussion.

Cordite is another dangerous explosive, more so during its manufacture than after. Easily as it is to handle in its final form it is a favorite explosive with anarchists and bomb-throwers. It is made from a mixture of nitro-glycerine, gun-cotton, and vaseline.

The nitro-glycerine store is a most extraordinary building, buried literally under a mound and reached by a brick-lined passage through the earth.

Nitro-glycerine itself is an almost colourless liquid, and so careful are the men who handle it, that if a single drop falls on the leaden floor it is at once wiped up with a damp rag. All the water that comes from this underground building is carefully drained into a neighboring pond, and every week this is blown up by dynamite on account of the dangerous explosive matter contained in it.

Even in the manufacture of such a comparatively "harmless" explosive as gunpowder the greatest precautions have to be taken. On entering the building where the powder is being turned out, all matches, pipes, and any steel instruments have to be given up, and special boots have to be put on to prevent any grit reaching the soft leather floor of the buildings.
