Divorced Life

By Helen Hessong Fuesle

"The Divorced Tree"

Ann's studio was cluttered with painted landscapes. Marian, her guest, was no connoisseur, but her color-sense responded strongly to the moods embodied in the various canvases. Some of these moods flowed like overpowering magnetic currents from the painted surfaces transferring the same mood to the beholder, filling the eye, laying hold of the imagination.

Among them was a picture of a tree standing alone, a shapely fir. Nearby was the stump of what had been the tree's mate, showing the destructive work of the axe. Chips, resulting from the gashes cut by the tree-feller's blows, lay in the picture's foreground. The canvas showed a cloudy, brooding day, gray and foreboding. On the horizon were faint traces of sunset color. A little clump of younger firs stood shivering in the distance.

Marian stood for a long time, gazing at the picture. It was unframed. Turning it around, she saw its title pencilled on the back: "The Divorced Tree." The title startled her. Again she returned to the painting, and drank once more its austere mood. No picture had ever affected her as this one did. The dark branches of the solitary tree seemed to reach out and talk to her. There was a startling pathos in its mute appeal. It held and fascinated her. Divorced! Low in its key, the lonely fire seemed to be chanting in plaintive minors the inexpressible melancholy it felt.

remainder of her stay at the studio, she stood often before the picture, searching its significant details, feeling its spell go through her. Later, she thought of it often; it had imprinted itself indelibly upon the sensitive receptivity of her mind; the symbolism of the picture was destined to fill her many times during the passing years with waves of self-pity.

During the rest of her visit, Ann talked on the glories of a woman's independence, enthused over the fun of playing the game, and making men dance to a clever woman's fiddling. Yet, though she made her guest thrill with enthusiasm and courage, the latter doubted whether Ann genuinely meant what she said. The thought was provoked by a surreptitious glance at "The Divorced Tree," chanting the low and plaintive song of its woes, and chanting them more eloquently than Ann had ever succeeded in singing the glories of woman's independence.

One day the two bade each other good-bye at the little railroad station, and Marian settled into her place in the day coach for the ride back to the city and its turmoil. She was returning to the fight with the knowledge that her week in the country had provided her with more courage and vim than she had ever had before for the struggle that impended. She had learned a good deal from the painter. The other had broadened her horizon, had charged her with some of the dynamic force of her rollicking vitality.

A HAMILTON MIRACLE

Whole Country Amazed at Wonderful Cure of Mr. John Herman

573 JAMES ST. NORTH, HAMILTON, ONT.

Gentlemen,
Four years ago I was taken down with inflammation of the bladder. During the attacks, which occurred more and more frequently, the agony was unbearable, and I became so weak I could not walk across the floor. The doctors could do nothing to relieve or cure me.

My wife sent for a box of GIN PILLS to try and see if they would help me. From the first they did me good—the pain was relieved at once, and the attacks began to come at longer intervals. I continued taking the pills for six weeks, and then, to my surprise and delight, the stone I sent you some time ago came from me and my pain stopped. It is now three years since GIN PILLS cured me. I have had no return of the trouble, and I have not lost a day's work on account of it since.

There is not the slightest doubt that GIN PILLS saved my life.

Yours gratefully,
JOHN HERMAN.

GIN PILLS are wonderful in their action on the Kidneys and Bladder. They neutralize Uric Acid, soothe the irritated Bladder, and completely cure suppression and incontinence of the urine. They are also mildly laxative and help to regulate the bowels.

If your dealer does not handle GIN PILLS, do not take substitutes, but order direct from us, enclosing the regular retail price—50c for one box or $2.50 for six boxes. Money cheerfully refunded if GIN PILLS do not do all that we claim for them. Sample free if you mention this paper. National Drug and Chemical Co., of Canada Limited, Toronto.

If your stomach and bowels are out of order and you need a stronger laxative take a few NATIONAL LAZY LIVER PILLS. 25c. a box.

Where Responsibility Lies.

No matter how large, or how small, a business may be, nobody can deny that its Office is the nerve centre of the firm. Every transaction, important or trivial, must be recorded at the Office. An order is received at the Office, its history is recorded at the Office, and finally payment is received at the Office. If the Office makes an error the firm stands the loss. That's why you must be sure that your office is modern and dependably equipped for the care of all important papers. To do this effectively you need the up-to-date equipment of the "GLOBE-WERNICKE CO." When sixty offices in St. John's have found this necessity this equipment can surely be of use to you. OLD CY.

Red McGhee says:
Some guys wear heroes' crowns like hats or balmacaans or loud cravats. They last a month, a year, or maybe a few seasons long, like some folks sing a long-dead song and keep it from their beer. Con o'er the heroes in your mind. Just sit 'em down and you will sure find the list gets mighty slim. There's one old top who always sticks. He's got the key to all time's tricks—y'a gotta bow to him.

It's Old Cy Young, you called it right. Ol' Father time ain't like to blight the fame of that ol' boy. When I was just a little kid the pitchin' stunts that ol' boy did could bring a mourner joy. He's pitched so long the count's been lost. He quit a winner—not a frost like some dimmed stars go out. Not pitchin' now?—I know he ain't. He quit still wearin' his war paint and none his prowess doubt.

Five hundred wins! Five hundred—say, there ain't another man today can duplicate that mark. And I'll just bet the grand ol' man c'n win some more—I'm sure he can in any ol' ball park. The Tuscarawas county lads all bow to Cy just as their dads did years and years ago. In old Paoli, his home town, his hat will always be a crown. There ain't none greater, bo.

Some People Say:

What is that

"Medicinal Brandy Sanator"?

WHY SANATOR?
WHY MEDICINAL?

The answer is indeed easy:

Sanator (a Latin word) means: that cures. Medicinal means that the Brandy although being not a properly so-called "medicine" is composed with the best known growths for their tonic, digestive properties and of course can be used for medicinal purpose in the family like the Hospitals.

When you taste it, it is quite a revelation and people are accustomed to say: "I have never tasted so fine, so rich Brandy."

When you are sick, weak, suffering with a cold or with bad digestion, try the medicinal Brandy "Sanator" and you will be surprised of its good effects.

That can happen at every moment: ask to-day from your dealer a bottle of Medicinal Brandy "Sanator": it is prudent to have it always on hand.
