

Newfoundland DISABLED EX-SERVICE MEN.

You are reminded that March 31st, 1920, is the LAST DAY on which applications for Vocational Training can be considered. Men in Hospital, except for a recurrence of a war disability, will be allowed one month after completion of treatment. All men who still desire to apply for re-training should therefore communicate without delay with the Secretary of the

CIVIL RE-ESTABLISHMENT COMMITTEE.

Ex-members of the Newfoundland Forces (Royal Naval Reserve, Royal Newfoundland Regiment or Newfoundland Forestry Companies) whose war disabilities prevent them from pursuing their former occupation and boys who enlisted under the age of 18 and thereby suffered an interruption of their training are eligible for instruction.

EMPLOYMENT.

Each request receives individual attention and every effort is made to secure suitable men for employers. A sincere appeal is now made to employers of labour to receive more returned men into any vacancy they have to offer. Many veterans are out of work and enquiries of the Vocational Officer will be dealt with promptly. Phone 333.

Bovril Limited.

FURTHER EXPANSION OF BUSINESS.

The twenty-third annual general meeting of Bovril Limited, was held on February 18th, 1920, in London. Mr. George Lawson Johnston, the chairman of the company, presiding.

The Chairman said that it was with special satisfaction that he met the shareholders again and brought before them such a splendid set of accounts. As a result of a strenuous year's work the company had achieved a gross profit on trading of £512,014, or £127,930 more than in the previous twelve months, the net profit being £247,878.

The popularity of Bovril among small investors had been strikingly shown last year when a subscription list for £200,000 6% Notes was over-subscribed.

"Bovril seems to be in everybody's mouth—probably that is exactly where one would expect it to be," concluded the Chairman. I open my "Times" and find that Lord Fisher has written that he has boiled down Ludendorff and Tirpitz into Bovril. A corner of apt phrases probably could not very well avoid the simile, but we received letters asking what we were going to do about this libellous statement.

Shortage of Bottles.

Turning to the problem which had been presented by the shortage of bottles, the Chairman pointed out that prices for English-made bottles had been soaring until they had to pay about 200% more for a machine-made British bottle than before the war.

Preservation of Infant Life.

Sir James Crichton-Browne, M.D., F.R.S., referred to the urgent necessity of preserving infant life to fill up the terrible gaps in the nation's ranks caused by the war. It was not sufficiently realised, he said, that a good deal of infant life was sacrificed owing to the deficiency and inferior quality of mother's milk. He pointed out that Bovril contained, in high concentration, the constituents that promoted the secretion of good, rich, nourishing milk, and so might be a boon to babies who might otherwise perish. Bovril might, therefore, compensate in some measure for the fall in the birth rate.

Bovril as a Food.

He thought it must be gratifying to the shareholders to note the ever-growing and expanding acceptance of Bovril as a food. It had advanced, not by leaps and bounds, which were apt to end in trips and bumps, but by a steady and sustained march forward. It had proved of incalculable service in the war, in the transition period from war to peace, and it had now a helpful part to play in the great work of reconstruction. Its worth was firmly established, broad based on the people's recognition of its inimitable qualities.

Mainly About People.

While M. Clemenceau's mascot is a black cat, Mr. Deschanel, France's next President, pins his faith to the number 13. "My life," he says, "is simplicity itself. I was born on the 13th, I was married on the 13th, and it was on the 13th of January that the Chamber declared me a candidate for the Presidency."

For the first time since the beginning of the war the Queen appeared at the State opening of Parliament recently, wearing both the Koh-i-noor and the two large stones into which the wonderful Cullinan diamond was split. Her Majesty has a most wonderful collection of jewels that are her own property, though she cannot rival either Queen Alexandra in the matter of pearls or the late Marchioness of Londonderry in the number or purity of her emeralds.

Thos. H. Ince, the well known film producer, started life as office boy to Daniel Frohman. His father, John Ince, was a noted comedian. It was not surprising therefore, that the younger Ince should "follow in father's footsteps" by making his appearance on the stage with a song and dance in "Pootie and Puppets," a satire on "Lady Windermere's Fan." In 1909 he was given charge of the Motion Picture Corporation.

"Phoradone."

"PHORADONE" is one of the very best preparations you can use for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, and various Lung Troubles. It is prepared by DR. F. STAFFORD & SON, Wholesale Chemists and Druggists, St. John's, Nfld.

Thousands of bottles of this preparation are sold every year and the increasing demand is a positive proof as to its medicinal value. Phoradone can be purchased at STAFFORD'S DRUG STORE, Theatre Hill; J. J. St. John, Duckworth St.; J. Gosse, Hoyles-town; James Wiseman, Top Carter's Hill; Mr. Halford, Hayward Avenue, for 35c. bottle. mar 29, ff

Mr. M. A. Duffy, who has been very ill of influenza, is recovering.
