The French are becoming more stable brighter prospect. In their political convictions. They have stuck by the new republic longer than they held to one form of government in the previous 100 years.

Recently two reports were sent out from Toronto in reference to Mr. Charles Durand, an old and respected citizen of that place. One was that Mr. Durand was dead: the other asserted that he was alive and enjoying better health. Mr. Durand being appealed to, said the latter statement

Mr. Bowman had been in publie life, municipal or national, since 1857 He retired from Parliament before the last general election. He was a direcfor of the Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Company from its formation In 1863 till his death.

Mr. Whitney, Opposition leader, is finding that he made a mistake when he tied up his fortunes with those of the Opposition at Ottawa. He is inclined to repudiate these gentlemen. But did he not go to Ottawa some time ago and solicit their aid, on the understanding that success to him in Ontario meant rehabilitation for them in the Dominion? The people of Ontario will spoil that little compact.

Canadians visiting Great Britain have been humiliated because of the ignorance of Canada exhibited by usually well-informed persons. The name "America" has been applied to Canada and to New York State as if they were similarly situated politically, and it has been next to impossible to make these easy-going Britishers believe that Canada was really a great nation doing business on its own account, managing its own affairs, and looking to a great future.
