SMALLPOX SCARE AT THE UNIVERSITY.

Eleven Hundred Toronto Students To Be Vaccinated—Smallpox Patients Want to Play Golf.

Toronto, March 10.—Toronto University has a smallpox scare. On Saturday Ernest Simpson, a four-year student from Bruce county, who roomed on Isabella street and took his meals at the university dining-hall, was removed from his boarding-house to the Swiss Cottage Hospital as a smallpox suspect. Dr. Sheard said last night that it is not quite certain that Simpson suffers from the disease, and in any case the attack is a mild one. The only likely cause of contagion is a letter recently received by Simpson from home. The Principal of the University and the city authorities held a conference to determine what steps should be taken to protect the students, in view of the fact that Simpson had been freely mingling with them up till Friday. It was determined that all the students of the University College should at once be vaccinated, and the order will be carried out promptly today. It is expected that this will involve the vaccination of some 1,100 persons.

Another dispatch says Simpson is suffering from a well-developed case of smallpox. The news caused considerable excitement among the students at the university, with whom Simpson had been mingling freely.

SMALLPOX PATIENTS WILL PLAY GOLF.

Omaha, Neb., March 9.—A number of the smallpox patients at the emergency hospital have sought and obtained permission to organize a golf club. It is one of the peculiarities of smallpox that a patient is bedfast only a short time compared with the convalescent period, and the result is that fully two-thirds of the patients of that institution are up and about, fretting over their confinement. The use of a forty-acre pasture has been secured for this purpose. A rule was adopted that none but smallpox patients at the hospital shall be admitted to membership in the club, and none but members will be allowed on the course.

STEAMER STRUCK BY AN ENORMOUS WAVE.

White Star Liner Majestic Had a Thrilling Experience En Route From Liverpool.

New York, March 10.—One saloon passenger and several of the crew of the White Star steamer Majestic were hurt on that craft during the trip from Liverpool, which ended Friday. The vessel reached its berth in the Hudson River eighteen hours later, with several of its main and promenade deck fixtures damaged, and with the loss of a lifeboat, which was wiped out of the forward davit by a terrific wave Sunday morning. The seas ran enormously high, reaching a crisis a week ago Saturday, when Capt. E. J. Goodrich was thrown down a companionway and had his head badly cut and his arms severely wrenched.

The sea that swept away the lifeboat, vented its fury on the Majestic, and the other deck fixtures was so great that it almost engulfed the craft. One of the officers classed it as a tidal wave, while it was one of the biggest waves that he ever saw. It was not of the cumulative variety.

INTERESTING STORY FROM GALESBURG

Mother and Son Reunited by the Scalp of the Former.

Galesburg, Mich., March 10.—An incident in connection with a recent masquerade ball in this village borders very closely on the romantic. In the year 1866 Mrs. Catherine Sinclair, with her husband and infant son, were captured by the Sioux Indians while the former were crossing the plains with the intention of reaching California.

Subsequently Mr. Sinclair and the little boy escaped, but the wife was unsuccessful in the attempt, and after suffering cruel indignities at the hands of the enraged savages, was scalped and left for dead.

The boy grew to manhood and subsequently enlisted in the regular army, serving in the west against the Indians, during which service he collected many mementoes of his age warfare.

MICHIGAN WOMAN CLEARED OUT SALOON

She Wanted Her Husband, Who Escaped Through the Rear Door.

Durand, Mich., March 10.—Mrs. Ed Ware, resident of Midland, an engineer on an O. & W. coal train, was found dead in the cab of his engine near Cornwall. His skull was fractured, and he probably died from a blow on the head. The train was running wild when the crew, alarmed by its speed, stopped it.

HOW ARE YOUR KIDNEYS? THIS SIMPLE TEST WILL TELL.

If any of your family have been troubled with kidney disease, make a test of the urine, and satisfy yourself whether you need a food remedy before the disease has caused serious complications.

Tomorrow morning put some urine in a glass bottle, and let it stand for 24 hours. If it shows particles or germs floating about, is milky or cloudy, or contains a reddish sediment, then your kidneys are diseased.

Commence at once to take Ferrozone to arrest these unnatural conditions. Ferrozone is especially intended for the immediate relief and cure of kidney and bladder troubles, and its health-giving, strengthening properties will be felt at once in new, pure blood, healthy circulation, good color, increased vigor, and a general strengthening of the system.

A TERRIBLE HOLOCAUST

Mother and Nine Children Perished

By the Burning of Their Home in Matane, Quebec.

Farmer Committed Suicide by Jumping From a Wharf at Toronto—Other Casualties.

Matane, Que., March 10.—One of the most dreadful holocausts that has ever been known in this part of the country occurred here Sunday morning, resulting in the loss of ten lives.

About 6 o'clock a servant girl returning home from a walk in the village, discovered the lower part of the house of Arthur Bouchard to be in flames. The lower part is used as a grocery store and the upper part as a dwelling house. The servant girl managed to arouse the family.

Mr. Bouchard immediately jumped from an upper window, and was about to be followed by his wife, but she was evidently overcome, as she failed in her attempt to escape, and perished together with her nine children—six boys and three girls, the eldest boy being 14 years, and the other children as follows: A girl 12 years, two girls 8 and 7 years, and a boy 2 years.

Bouchard arose about 5 o'clock and lighted a fire in the kitchen, and then returned to bed again. He thought the fire caught in the kitchen.

SUICIDE OF A FARMER. Toronto, March 10.—Samuel Miller, aged 52, formerly a farmer of Markdale, Grey county, committed suicide by jumping into the lake at the Queen's Wharf yesterday morning.

Two men saw him take a jump from the wharf far out into the water, and after a short interval they recovered the body. Miller sold his farm some time ago and came into the city to live. He was unsuccessful in search of employment, and became discouraged. He leaves a wife and one daughter, resident at 322 Adelaide street west.

FATAL KIDNAP.

Brockville, Ont., March 10.—Fred Whelan died at the General Hospital, where he had been lying for two weeks in an unconscious condition. About the middle of December he was kidnapped in the head by a horse, his skull being fractured. He was a resident of Bedford Mills and was 36 years of age. He leaves a widow and four children.

FALLING LIMB CAUSED DEATH.

Lewiston, Mich., March 8.—James Fulford, aged 25, working at the Kneeland & Bigelow camp, was struck by a falling limb about 7 this morning, and died at 7 this evening.

12 KILLED IN TEXAS WRECK.

Houston, Tex., March 10.—At Southern Pacific headquarters it is reported that the number killed in a wreck Friday near Maxon is 12. Reports of the injured from El Paso are to the effect that none have died, but three are expected to die at any time.

FIREMAN KILLED.

Utica, N. Y., March 10.—An engine on a log train at the Upper Lake Junction, on the Mohawk and Malone Railway, left the track Saturday and tipped over. Fireman J. R. Cummings, of this city, was pinned under the engine and killed.

DEAD IN HIS CAB.

Newburgh, N. Y., March 10.—Michael Hoey, of Middletown, an engineer on an O. & W. coal train, was found dead in the cab of his engine near Cornwall. His skull was fractured, and he probably died from a blow on the head. The train was running wild when the crew, alarmed by its speed, stopped it.

KILLED ON THE TRACK.

Schenectady, N. Y., March 10.—A man supposed to be Paul Gerard, of West Warren, Mass., while walking on the New York Central tracks in this city, was struck and killed by a passenger train.

PRINCE ENJOYING HIMSELF.

New York, March 10.—Prince Henry was the guest of the German Society of the City of New York, and at its annual dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Saturday night. There were 750 guests.

SPENT A LIVELY SUNDAY.

New York, March 9.—Prince Henry of Prussia was the central figure today in another round of entertainment arranged for his honor. He first listened to a concert at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, largely made up of his favorite American songs, the concert being arranged at his request.

He then drove to the University Club to a luncheon which was not concluded to mid-afternoon. In the evening he was the guest at dinner of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, and met a large party made up of persons of social prominence. When the prince bade farewell to the company at the Vanderbilt home he went to the New York Yacht Club for an informal reception, and the hour was late when he returned to the Waldorf-Astoria for the night. He found time before the four main events on his programme for the day to receive a deputation representing the Commercial Club, of St. Paul, and several callers, and to finally complete the arrangements for the last two days' stay in the country and his departure for home.

NEWSPAPER SARCASM.

London, March 10.—The editorial sarcasm with which many of the London papers commented on Prince Henry's visit to the United States was to no small extent suggested and fostered by the ill-natured telegrams of their special correspondents in America. With but few exceptions these correspondents who retailed Prince Henry's doings for English consumption did so only with an eye to the ridiculous. They magnified every outburst of humor or minor contempts into a gauge of national feeling or characteristic miscarriage of plans. The desire to rescue Prince Henry, host to the royal visitor, was almost invariably represented here as an outburst of sickening sycophancy in which all the Americans well known socially were presented as endeavoring to outvie each other as to who should pay the most self-demeaning obeisance to the royal visitor.

The particular offender in this respect was the Daily Mail, which, in spite of its alleged friendship for America, devoted much space to cablegrams depicting the wife of an ex-minister to Austria spending weeks in teaching Chicago women how to curtsy, and detailing the alleged upheaval in Chicago as to whether the prince should visit the stock yards. Such alleged incidents as these were made so prominent that the average Englishman was inclined to believe that Prince Henry's tour was only a huge travesty on himself and on the American people.

A PRINTER'S BLUNDER.

But Perry Heath Was Much Distressed at It Nevertheless.

Perry S. Heath, late first assistant postmaster-general, has successfully launched his new newspaper at Salt Lake City, but is already suffering some of the pangs of which editors are occasionally subject. One of the articles which enlivened the columns of the first issue was a complimentary sketch of Senator Kearns. In the course of the tribute to the senator's abilities the writer indulged in the Scriptural phrase which says:

"He that is diligent in business shall stand before kings."

The quotation was all right in the manuscript, but when it appeared in print it read:

"He that is diligent in business shall stand by of kings." The rival newspapers have been having a good deal of fun at Senator Kearns' expense, and it has even been suggested that if the senator has to get his pocket knowledge out of the Bible he had better come home at once.
