AUSTRIA AND HUNGARY. From Austria and Hungary the nows is again more stirring. The Austrian and Russian armies seem now to be on the ad-vance, with a view to crush the whole of the Hungarian insurrection. This movement is, on the other hand, cast in doubt by the re-ported defeat of the Austrians near the Neusidel lake, but we still fear that the com-bined agerations of the alles will be irresisa modalion, table, kc, we can tenfo, from particular production of the stress of a single transme is a more stress of the stress of t
