

While children, ever sweet and dear,
About the caller gather near;
To see his watch, arrange cravat,
To read his book and try his hat,
To entertain and climb about,
And try his temper well, no doubt.

