—A St. Johns, Que., correspondent writes : —"There are a good many new concerns being started here, and goods will be sold for little or no profit. The new merchants will try to get customers from those longer established, and the old merchants of the place are making special efforts to retain their connection. Collections will be difficult to make this Fall and Winter, and would advise wholesale men to be circumspect in making sales.

—A grain dealer of this city named P.
Bonneville, recently employed an agent to purchase wheat from farmers in the vicinity of St. Timothé; this grain not being paid for, two of the sellers were delegated to follow the barge which carried the grain to Montreal, and look after mutual interests. They were not successful, as Bonneville got the grain out of the barge into a warehouse without making any payment to the owners for it, raised some $5,000 or $6,000 on the warehouse receipt, and with this in his pocket left it is said, for Chicago. The total loss sustained by the farmers in this operation will, it is said, amount to about $11,000. Bonneville has also other liabilities. He is said to have lost money in Chicago, in the grain business.

—The McKillop commercial agency, with its usual commendable enterprise, has obtained for the use and benefit of its subscribers, "commercial lists" of all the principal cities in Great Britain and Ireland. The publication of these lists, which partake of the same character as the "Commerce Register" published by Messrs.
McKillop & Co. themselves, is of but recent origin, and the compiling of them is carried out under the auspices of a prominent banking house of London, one of McKillop & Co.'s correspondents. Where our connection with the mother country is so close, these lists cannot but be of much value to the banking and commercial community, who will, no doubt, heartily appreciate the advantage thus afforded them.

—British consols touched ninety-six and a-half in England yesterday; the very highest figure reached in modern times. This occurrence, with the fact that the Liverpool cotton market is extremely buoyant to-day, indicates that there is no fear of a general European war, the cotton market being quite as sensitive as the national funds.
